
We the students of Lakewood Park Bible School, have increased our knowledge both in class and out of class. We have found that some of our fellow students are expert teachers---or just plain experts.

Doris Englar--has become very well educated in hiding in closets. She spends much of her time there but doesn't find it any too comfortable. Clifford Huwe--can teach you how to sharpen pencils in Sunday School Methods Class.

Margaret Peterson--awakens her roommate, (and the rest of us on second) with, "Sena my dear, it's time to get up!"

Dean Paulson--can show you a tie assortment that will make your eyes blink.

Edith Lindell--Oh Edith, teach us how to get such a good mark on a God's Wonderful Book Test. Or I mean, Just teach me how to pass a test in God's Wonderful Book!

Myron Hanson--makes a practice of answering all the questions in a test. One question in Child Study had him stumped but not for long. Then taking up his pencil he wrote, "Please elucidate the giant monstrasity so as to render more clearly to my simple comprehension."

Doris Jensen--found it a pleasure to resume her studies in Pig Latin.

Ernest Enget--taught us that things just "aint so bad as you think, It could be worse."

Lorraine Huwe--introduced the "Bird Book" into our midst and taught us how to use it. Many a good laugh we had over it.

Paul Adrian--is an expert at being a good sport and a good fellow.

Luella Schoenwald--has written a book entitled "How to Gain Weight In Ten Easy Lessons."

Maxine Swartz--is an expert at getting good marks. Oh Maxine, tell us how!

Ralph Swartz--to hear Ralph laugh can cheer anyone.

Hazel Hanson--her favorite statement at six-thirty in the morning is "Oh Julia, let me sleep five minutes longer."

Bob Bradseth--Oh Bu-Bert, oh Bu-Bert, what makes you so strong, I wonder?

Carol Brubaker--this is the first time I have ever seen a Canary with red hair.

Ruth Dawson--her motto is, "A giggle a day keeps the doctor away." and right she is.

Lester De Preist--Do you want to talk to someone nice? Then go talk to De Preist!
