

O how love I thy law! it is my meditation all the day. PSALM 119:97

The Bible

*"Here is the bridge that spans the weary ages,
Here is the sun that lights the golden bars,
Here is the balm that every grief assuages.
And here the voice that thrilled the distant stars.*

*No wound so deep but here it finds its healing,
No heart so torn but here forgets its woe,
Love divine is here, love all prevailing,
And love is all of God who made it so."*
