SPACE to grow PEOPLE to know

They come from the cities to a small, rural community in the southeastern corner of North Dakota. They come from the mountains to a campus that doesn't boast of hilly terrain. As they adjust to the wide open plains with plenty of "space to grow" they appreciate the quiet atmosphere, clear blue skies, breathtaking sunsets and unique beauty of the Mid-West. The beautiful 40-acre campus complete with 25 buildings becomes a home away from home as they mesh into the wonder of college life.

The Ellendale campus became the property of TBI in 1971. Since the acquisition of the facilities for just one dollar, additional buildings have been erected and remodeling has been extensive. A new two-story combination kitchen, cafeteria and office space building is now on the drawing board. The first building constructed by Trinity was the Walter and Hattie Block Memorial Chapel followed by a combination dormitory and guest facility, Liechty Hall. This exciting story is included in the book, "The Multimillion Dollar Miracle," by Doug Wead.

There is a friendliness and family spirit which is apparent to everyone, including campus visitors. There are "people to know" and there is opportunity for integration of lives in lasting friendships.

The TBI family is made up of single and married students, their wives and children, and the faculty and staff who live, work and worship together in Christian community and love.

There are ministry and service groups at TBI ready to welcome you. Whatever your interest, you will find a nucleus of people who share your desire, concern and compassionate burden. New ideas are welcome and zeal is guided by qualified leadership. Travel ministries enjoy off-campus activity on weekends and during Spring Break. There are also opportunities for summer ministry.

Pastors are very receptive to the proven quality of Trinity ministry which reflects the desire of this institution to produce students who depend upon the anointing of the Holy Spirit while following the admonition of the Scriptures to "study to show yourself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed."

On-campus organizations give opportunity to develop leadership while providing needed services. President Wead often states that the varied experiences and disciplines encountered in daily campus living are carefully designed to strengthen and re-enforce classroom instruction. He feels that this training is necessary for the development of effective workers now and for the future.

REAPERS to go

The Walter and Hattie Block Memorial Chapel is strategically located in the center of the beautiful 40-acre campus. This site was carefully selected to emphasize the fact that worship and service to God is of primary importance in the daily lifestyle of the believer.

Students and faculty/staff gather daily in the chapel to worship. A relaxed atmosphere encourages participation. Pulpit guests and faculty/staff members provide a wide range of experiences and varied ministry as they address the students. Students are also involved as they lead song services, provide vocal and instrumental music and occasionally preach.

The challenge to serve God in ministerial vocation, missionary service, fields of communication, Christian education, the business world, and Christ-honoring secular positions is a vital part of preparation for future ministry. As students come from all walks of life, they find they have something in common; the desire to allow God to work in their individual lives. This desire to follow in His will results in commitment which gives purpose and direction. They then go forth "into all the world" to find fulfillment in various areas of service and ministry.

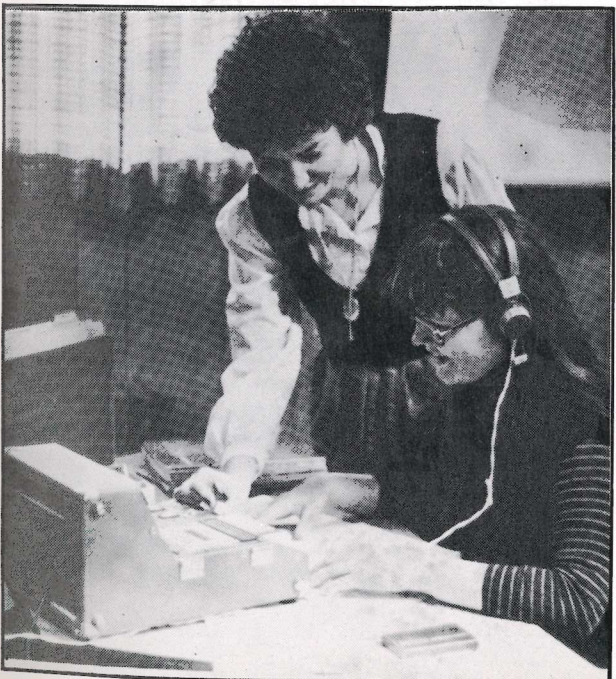

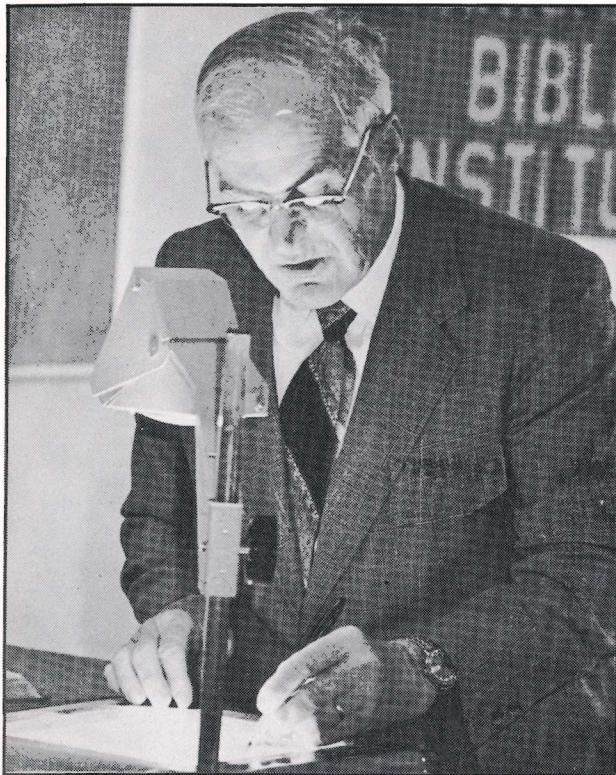

IDEALS to sow TEACHERS to show

The textbook at Trinity is the Bible — taught by spirit-filled instructors in accordance with the highest academic standards. Fifty hours in classroom instruction in Bible and seventy-eight hours in related subjects are required to receive a B.A. in Ministerial Program. Areas of study include Communications, Social Science, Music, Business, Christian Education, Missions and Ministerial and Bible General.

The teachers at Trinity take a personal interest in the students and are willing to share their ideas and ideals. Faculty members work hard to make every subject relevant to pastoral and on-field situations gleaned from their own practical experiences. They are dedicated and industrious — each one with a unique story which tells of the divine leading of God which resulted in their being at Trinity. Their openness and honesty as they closely associate with the student body in academic and social living is a valuable source of learning experience for the perceptive scholar.

In addition to the high academic training offered at TBI, every effort is made to provide opportunity for the student to demonstrate their skills in ministry on and off-campus. The campus churches for married and single students are an outlet for Ministerial and Christian education ministry. The student work program encourages the use of skills required in office procedure, maintenance duties and various jobs. Music students are urged to participate in community and campus events. The communication outlet includes serving as disc jockey on the campus radio station, publishing a student newspaper, and working with photography and printing.

Excerpts from . . .

THE PRESIDENT'S REPORT to Trinity Bible Institute Board of Directors November 5, 1980

Topping the news around Trinity Bible Institute this month is the fact that full accreditation has been granted to TBI. Tuesday, October 21, President Wead accompanied by Dr. A.E. Strang, met with the AABC Accrediting Commission in Chicago. Thursday morning they were notified privately that TBI had been approved and granted full accreditation. The announcement was made public that same evening in the AABC convention.

Accreditation means various things to different people. Scores of telegrams and phone calls have been received from across the nation like the one from General Superintendent T.F. Zimmerman.

"On behalf of the General Council of the Assemblies of God, we send heartiest congratulations on Trinity's accreditation. We pray God's continued rich blessing upon the school."

Ellendale's local newspaper featured a front page headline AABC Accredits Trinity and began the article with "Ellendale is again the home of an accredited college." The article goes on to state:

"At its annual convention in Chicago last week, the American Association of Bible Colleges (AABC) awarded Trinity Bible Institute (TBI) full accreditation."

Trinity President Roy H. Wead and Dr. Edward Strang, academic dean, were in Chicago to personally hear the Association announce its decision privately on Thursday morning and again to the convention that evening.

"I felt greatly relieved," Wead told the Leader on Tuesday morning. "I had tried to psyche myself up so that no matter what happened we were going to continue and do the job."

Wead and Strang met with AABC's accrediting commission for about an hour on Tuesday to respond to questions concerning an evaluation Trinity underwent in April and to explain the steps the Bible college was taking to meet the Association's recommendations for accreditation.

TBI was one of three institutions to receive accreditation. Of the others, one is located in Los Angeles and the other in western Canada. A total of ten schools were being considered for accreditation.

With the accreditation, Trinity's president expects the size of the college's student body to increase.

He thinks that while Trinity's candidacy status with AABC allowed the college to operate with the same privileges as an accredited institution, some students misinterpreted the term and went to school elsewhere. To such students, candidacy was synonymous with being a candidate for elective office. Unlike the candidate that first has to win to take up office, being named a candidate by AABC was a form of winning in itself. From that point on students were eligible to receive government programs as well as have their credits transferred.

But being accredited clears any chance of misunderstanding. With AABC's accreditation, Trinity falls under the umbrella of the Council on Postsecondary Accreditation (COPA). This means that Trinity should be regarded as being fully accredited in the same way that a general purpose or liberal arts college is accredited because the bylaws of COPA supports mutual recognition among its members.

Trinity began seeking accreditation five years ago. For two years the college held applicant status with AABC and candidacy status the last three years. During this period the college was evaluated. Along with pointing out the institution's strengths and shortcomings, AABC helped direct the college to a course of action that would bring full accreditation if standards were met."

Other pertinent information that may be of interest to you:

There are now 77 accredited schools in AABC: approximately 12 candidate; and 45 applicant schools with another 30 or more schools represented at the annual convention. Of the 77 accredited, TBI ranks 33rd in enrollment. TBI's library ranks 7th in size.

Accreditation is granted for a ten-year period with periodic consultive visits during that time. At the conclusion of each ten-year period a school is expected to go through a full self study and evaluation program similar to that required for accreditation in the beginning.

Enrollment this fall is 363, up exactly 30 from last year. With the confusion about accreditation removed, we should expect a stable enrollment the next couple years and then a solid growth pattern.

Respectfully yours,

Roy H. Wead, President

Dr. Ward Williams, President Roy H. Wead, and Dr. Ed Strang

Working on the AABC report for accreditation of TBI proved once again that success is the result of team effort. Each faculty member and many of the staff were involved in the research, writing and publication of the many volumes filled with information. Former academic dean Charles Clauser spent many hours compiling the first volumes used in the original proposal. It would be impossible to list each person who played a part. However, congratulations are in order to the Board of Directors, Administration, Faculty, Staff and students who are part of a school worthy of accreditation.

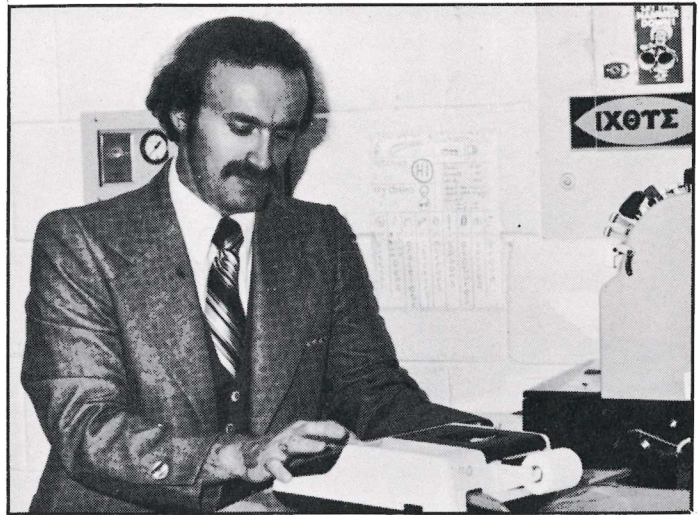

DEDICATION

Leroy Kirschenmann

Our own Leroy Kirschenmann came to us seven years ago from an obscure village called Streeter, North Dakota to become a member of the faculty at Trinity. He is an instructor in the Business Department where he teaches Accounting, Typing, Shorthand, and various other business classes.

Leroy also is the manager of the TBI Bookstore. There he has daily contact with students. In this atmosphere, students sense the real concern and generosity he shows toward others. Leroy views his position as a ministry and has a willingness to be used for the Lord.

For these reasons, we, the Senior Class of 1981, would like to dedicate the 1981 Messenger to this man who "esteems others a little better than himself." Thank you, Leroy, for being a faithful teacher and friend. We have learned a lot about life with Christ by watching your fine example.

APPRECIATION

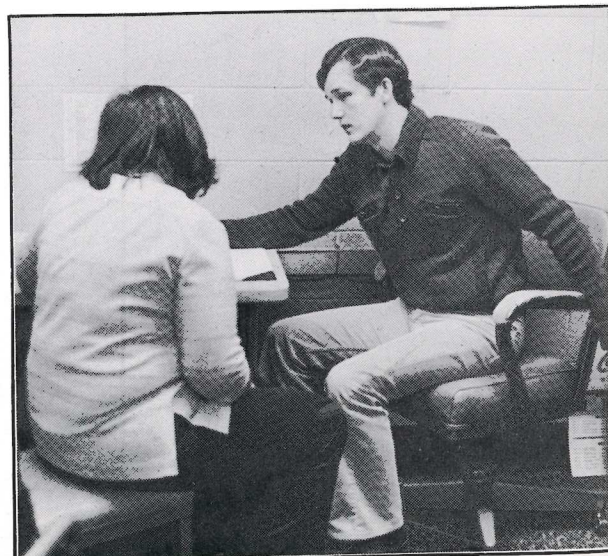

Rod Eib

Rod Eib and his wife Sharon came to Trinity as students in 1973, from Marion, Indiana. While a student, Rod was involved in Student Government and maintenance.

Rod joined the maintenance staff after his graduation in 1976 and has continued in this position until the present. Last fall Rod was appointed the Director of the Student Work Office where he has faithfully fulfilled his duties this year. Rod is a man with many talents and abilities that he has dedicated to God.

We the Senior Class of 1981 would like to give special recognition to this faithful worker, husband, father, and friend. You have truly shown us the meaning of the verse "Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might."

ALUMNUS of the year

Bob Brenneman

Robert Brenneman (74) received the Alumnus of the Year Award at the annual Spring Banquet in May, 1980. The award was presented to Bob by Alumni President Pete Weisenberger (75). It was an exciting and unique situation because Pete and Bob were close friends during their years on campus.

The Alumnus of the Year Nominations are made by the Alumni and the executive committee then chooses 5-8 individuals from that list. A roll call sheet is sent out and members cast their ballot by mail. The honoree must be active in the ministry, as a lay person, pastor, evangelist or an administrator; must have been graduated (not just attended) for at least 5 years and must support TBI faithfully by way of finances, and/or students.

While at Trinity, Bob was active in the Troubadour ministry. During his senior year he was in charge of a street ministry group that ministered in the inner-city of Chicago. After graduation he returned to Chicago and established an inner-city church. His great love and compassion for people coupled with his dedication and zeal touched the lives of many needy people.

Bob and Sherry and their two children are presently itinerating in preparation for missionary service in Eurasia.

MEMORIAL

Robert McCown

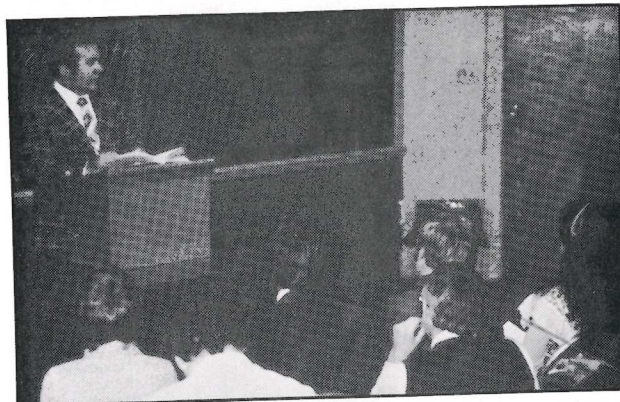

Family members and friends gathered together, Thursday, November 20 in the Trinity Bible Institute Chapel to express their love for Bob McCown, a man who was an example of the believer in word, in conversation, in love, spirit, faith and purity. Rev. McCown, age 39, died of cancer, Sunday, November 16, at Memorial Hospital in Ellendale.

The McCown family came to Ellendale in 1973 where he was an instructor at TBI and later became Pastor of the First Baptist Church in addition to his teaching. Survivors include his widow, Beth; two sons, Bruce and Brent; and two daughters, Brenda and Belinda.

Rev. McCown was the kind of man who is not easily replaced. His primary ministry was to people and the love that he shared changed lives. The students who were in his Homiletics, Speech, Composition and Graphic classes were tender products of his unselfish love. He gave of himself, humbly and patiently, as he drew from them their best academic ability. He never spoke a harsh word: his soft-spoken mannerisms always brought out the best in each person. When discipline was necessary, it was done tenderly and with every consideration to be a building block in the life of the student.

To this man we owe a debt. Those who benefited from his academic expertise can continue to sow their skills and teach others as he taught them. His life was short, but complete. He accomplished more in his brief life than others do in twice the time. His industry and energy seemed to be endless.

In loving memory of this man of God who walked among us, we dedicate this yearbook. Many of the skills he taught us in photography and printing are contained in it. Our prayer, as his would have been, is that it will bring Glory to our God.

ALUMNI DAYS

Forty-seven Alumni returned to the Trinity Campus this fall to share in the Alumni Reunion. Tim Halverson (75), who received his M.Div. degree from Melodyland Bible College following graduation from TBI, was the speaker for the Sunday morning worship service. During the service other alumni shared what Christ means to them and the way He changed their lives while they were students at Trinity. The Spirit of the Lord was very real. It was evident that God does use those who are yielded to Him.

The Annual Alumni-Crusader Basketball Game was exciting with the outcome in doubt until the final seconds. The Alumni did not play like the "Over the Hill Gang" they claimed to be as they defeated the Crusaders, the final score 64-61. "Wait until next year" became the cry of the Crusaders.

The Fred J. Graham Library made one giant step forward as the long anticipated installation of the OCLC computer system was realized in October. This highly technological service department links all the individual library systems to one large center in Columbus, Ohio. This center has a computer complex which presently has summaries on over five million books and similar materials. The computer relays this information to the member libraries through telephone lines. The Trinity library, the 7th largest library of the 77 accredited by the AABC, is one of almost 2300 libraries to have the OCLC computer system. This service will accelerate cataloging, and make inter-library loan material available to the student body. Administration

Roy H. Wead, President

In September of 1968, Roy H. Wead became the first President of Trinity Bible Institute. Pres. Wead has served on many college boards and was not a stranger to education. He served on the Board of Directors for eighteen years at Central Bible College in Springfield, Missouri. He was one of the founding directors and currently serves on the board of the Assemblies of God Graduate School, Springfield, Missouri.

The Rev. Wead began his ministry in Ohio and ministered as evangelist, pastor and youth director. He later became the first District Superintendent of the Indiana District Council of the Assemblies of God. The Indiana District led the nation as the fastest growing District within the most rapidly growing church movement in the United States under his leadership. After fourteen years of serving as District Superintendent of Indiana, he accepted the pastorate of Calvary Temple in South Bend, Indiana. During his ministry at South Bend, he produced a daily television program which appeared regularly for seven years. A new church was built under his leadership and was valued at over the one and one-half million dollars. He continued in this pastorate in South Bend until he accepted the presidency of Trinity Bible Institute.

Rev. Wead has been a General Presbyter of the Assemblies of God for 33 years and served on the national Executive Board for the last 21 years, a position he continues to hold.

Rev. Wead has traveled extensively having made a number of trips, literally, around the world and visits to South America for special ministry seven different years.

The Rev. Wead married Rosa Mae Short of Oklahoma City on January 4, 1940. They have four sons, James, Bill, Doug, and Tim. Both the Rev. and Mrs. Wead are ordained ministers of the Assemblies of God and have very active schedules. Several of their immediate family are also active in full-time Christian ministry.

Anointed to Serve

"The Spirit of the Lord God is upon me; because the Lord hath anointed me to preach good tidings unto the meek; he hath sent me to build up the broken hearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to them that are bound; to proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord, and the day of vengeance of our God; to comfort all that mourn; to appoint unto them that mourn in Zion, to give unto them beauty for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness; that they might be called trees of righteousness, the planting of the Lord, that he might be glorified."

Special Thanks

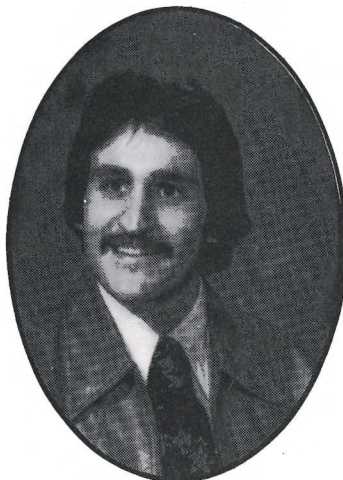

We, the Senior class of 1981, would like to express our special thanks and appreciation to our class advisor for the past two years. He always makes time to talk and counsel those who have a need. The example of his life as resident missionary both sparked to life and deepened our burden for missions. Brother Glover will always stand tall in our memories. We not only gained knowledge and spiritual wealth from him, but we gained a true friend.

Northern Intercollegiate Christian Conference - Conference Champions

The Trinity Crusaders wrapped up a successful year by finishing 1st in the Northern Inter-Collegiate Christian Conference (NICC). This was Trinity's 1st year of full participation in the conference. They compiled an 8-2 league record and a 15-17 season record. The NICC Tournament was at the TBI fieldhouse with the Crusaders finishing 3rd. Their 1st place finish in the conference enabled them to enter the regional tournament in Ankeny, Iowa where they also finished 3rd.

Coach: Scott Carlin

Rod Long, Coach

The Women's Basketball Team, only three years in existence, has made some tremendous improvements in this short amount of time. With only two returning players, and many girls who had never played ball before, the Crusaderettes had a 3-11 season. They also placed 4th in the NICC conference. Leading in Individual scoring for the season was Judy Stelter, with Robyn Hutchison top in rebounding. Three players received special recognition from the Quarterback Club of Ellendale by being named Athlete-of-the-month throughout the Season. They were Judy Stelter, Becky Thornton, and Melody Mayer. Darrel Kessler assisted Coach Rod Long to give the girls a fantastic coaching team.

INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL

Six student teams, a TBI faculty team and an Ellendale High School faculty team competed in the intramural basketball program. The teams were evenly matched resulting in hard but friendly competition. Each game started with prayer and Christ-like sportsmanship was evident on the court.

Volleyball, basketball, softball and tennis intramural programs are offered for both men and women.

AL FOOTBALL

Runners-up - Seahawks

Fourth place - Oilers

This year's intramural football program contained a lot of surprises. The stronger teams were surprised by the skill of the younger players. The Seahawks and Broncos were made up mostly of freshmen and each team showed surprising qualities on the playing field. The two veteran teams, CARDINALS and OILERS were expected to be strong, but the OILERS ended in last place. The CARDINALS won over the Seahawks in a game of long passes and breathtaking runs.

Yummie!

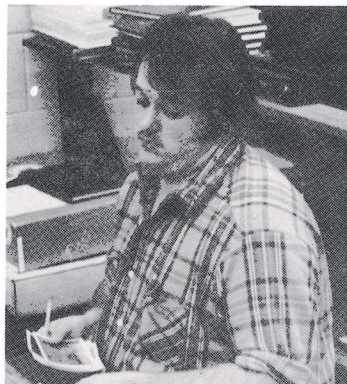

What?

All right!

Thank You ...

We as staff of the 1980-81 yearbook find it impossible to close the yearbook without extending our special thanks and love to our advisor Kaye Garrison. Words cannot express the gratitude and love we have for her. Her involvement at TBI has been like the icing on the cake. (Definitely a lot of icing!) We could never begin to tell her just how much she's appreciated and loved. Thanks, Mom!
