Chancellor Lundstrom and President Trask offer a prayer for the continued productive ministry of Sam Rijfkogel.

In Memory

Rev. Mike Petersen, 41, went to be with the Lord on February 27, 1991. A graduate of TBC ('73), since 1984 he has served as the Youth and Christian Education Director for North Dakota District of the Assemblies of God.

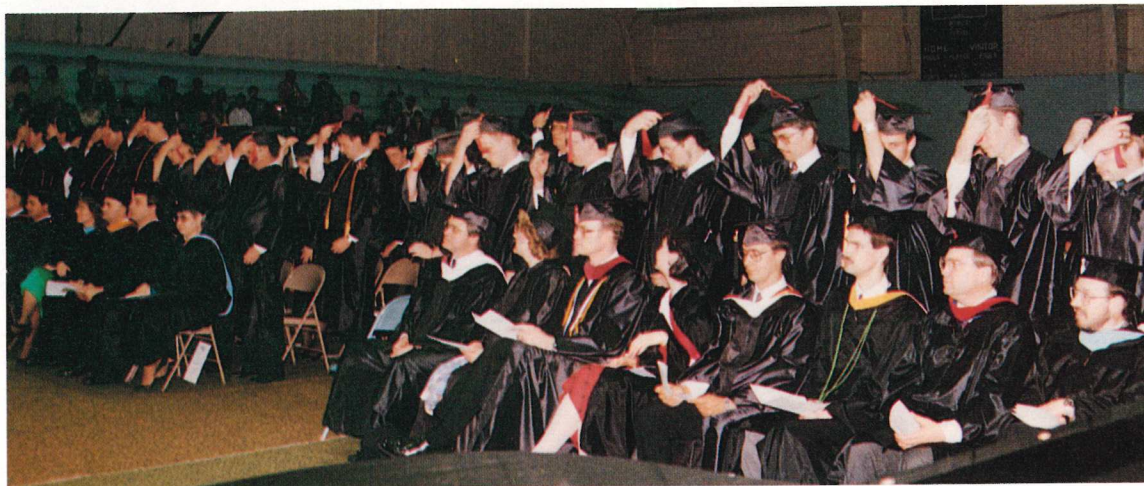

On February 26, 1991, as fellow D-CAPs gathered at Trinity, from his hospital bed, via AT&T, Mike shared a few words that will long be remembered.

"If the cost is too great, the call isn't strong enough."

For Mike the cost was great, but the call of God on his life and the burden he carried for the youth of North Dakota is passed on in the lives of those he loved and ministered to.

"If the cost is too great, the call isn't strong enough."

Chancellor Lundstrom

"We are honored to have you here at Trinity." These words, spoken by Chancellor/Evangelist Lowell Lundstrom to every student, staff and faculty member he meets, express his feelings about Trinity.

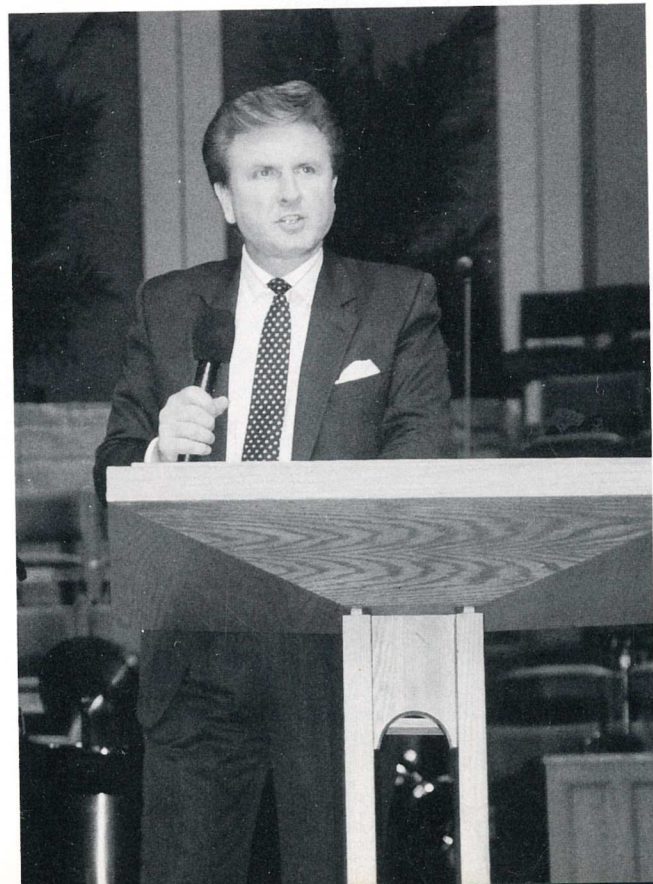

On the road over 300 days a year, our Chancellor puts into practice what is taught at Trinity. Next to seeing a sinner come to Jesus, his greatest joy is watching students prepare for the ministry of soul winning.

This has been a year of change for Lundstrom. Serving as Trinity's President for seven years, his new position gives him continued contact with, and influence at the school.

In his new role, Lundstrom continues to be an encourager and motivator. During his visits to the campus, he continually shares his passion for winning the lost. Chancellor Lundstrom, we are honored to have you here at Trinity.

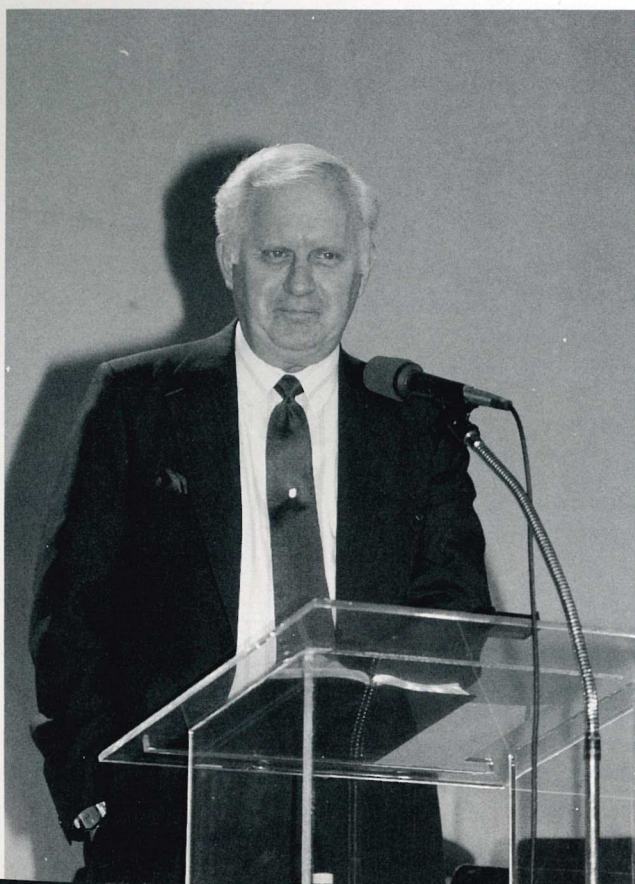

Chancellor and Connie Lundstrom

President Trask

President and Marj Trask

On January 30, during his "State of the Campus" address, President Ray Trask shared his goals, desires and projections for Trinity Bible College.

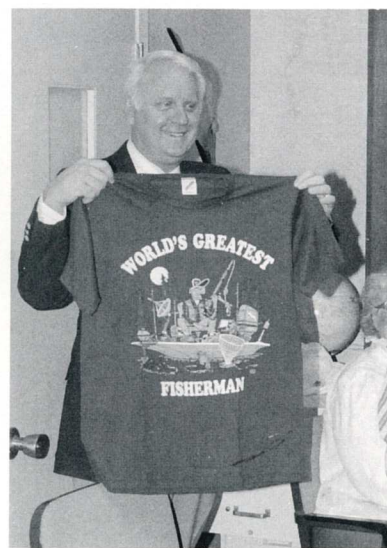

"Trinity exists for a special purpose and I desire to help that purpose come about," stated Trask. "I want to make the chapel a classroom of the Holy Spirit."

He and Chancellor Lundstrom work together as a team; Lundstrom promoting Trinity on the road and Trask managing the day to day affairs of the college.

Trask and his new bride, Marj, a native North Dakotan, came to us from Valley Forge Christian College where he was serving as Dean of Students.

A North Central Bible College graduate, Trask spent five years pastoring and 23 years in missionary service in Burma and Indonesia.

The years of experience and wisdom he brings to this position are indeed a special blessing to the Trinity family.

Find Us Faithful

by Jon Mohr

We're pilgrims on the journey of the narrow road;
And those who've gone before us light the way.
Cheering on the faithful,
Encouraging the weary,
Their lives a stirring testament to God's sustaining grace.

Surrounded by so great a cloud of witnesses;
Let us run the race not only for the prize,
But as those who've gone before us,
Let us leave to those behind us,
The heritage of faithfulness passed on through godly light.

After all our hopes and dreams have come and gone,
And our children sift through all we've left behind;
May the clues that they've discovered,
And the memories they uncover
Become the light that leads them through the land we each must find.

Oh, may all who come behind us find us faithful.
May the fire of our devotion light their way.
May the footprints that we leave
Lead them to believe,
And the lives we live inspire them to obey.
Oh, may all who come behind us find us faithful.

Recipe for Never-Fail-Faculty:

Choose 30 of the following in any combination:

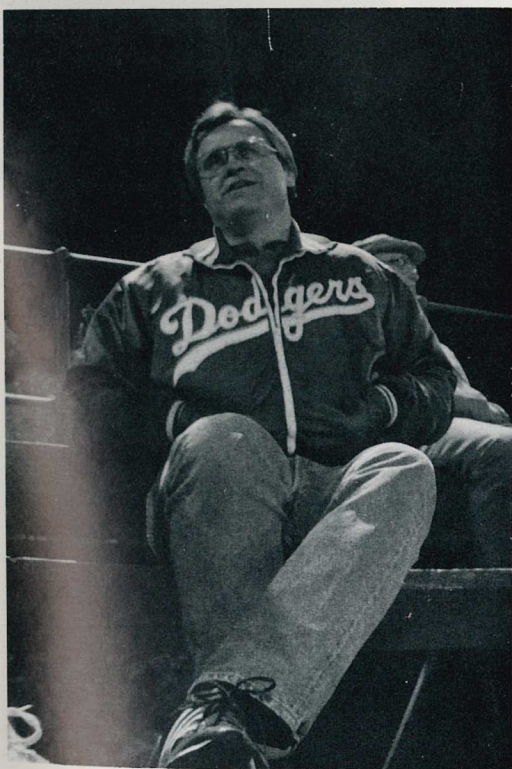

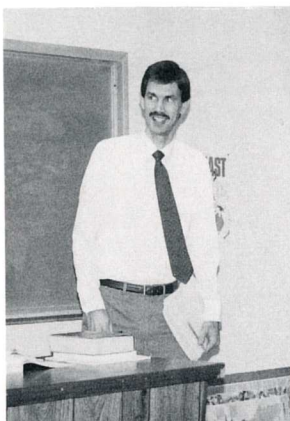

Pastors	authors	housewives
nurses	missionaries	farmers
musicians	athletes	businessmen
comedians	secretaries	educators

Add wisdom first as it determines the success of the final product. Stir in compassion, dedication and hard work. Add a pinch of laughter and use a few less committee meetings and test preparations. Faculty parties and occasional trips should be added to enhance the quality of life. Carefully drop in 400 students, combine on a 28 acre campus and turn up the heat for 9 months. Sprinkle with T.L.C. and give daily helpings to Trinity students. For best results, bathe in prayer before serving.

"That I may know Him." Philippians 3:10

Biblical Studies is the foundation on which all other programs at Trinity are built.

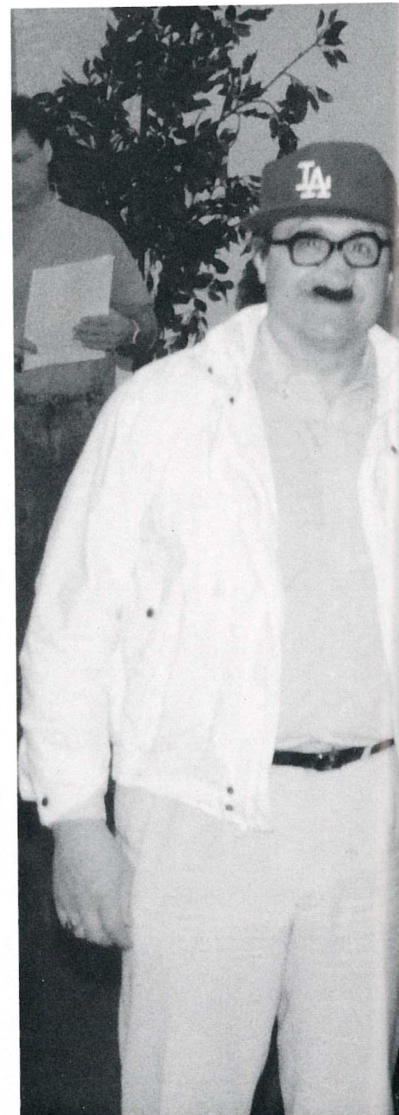

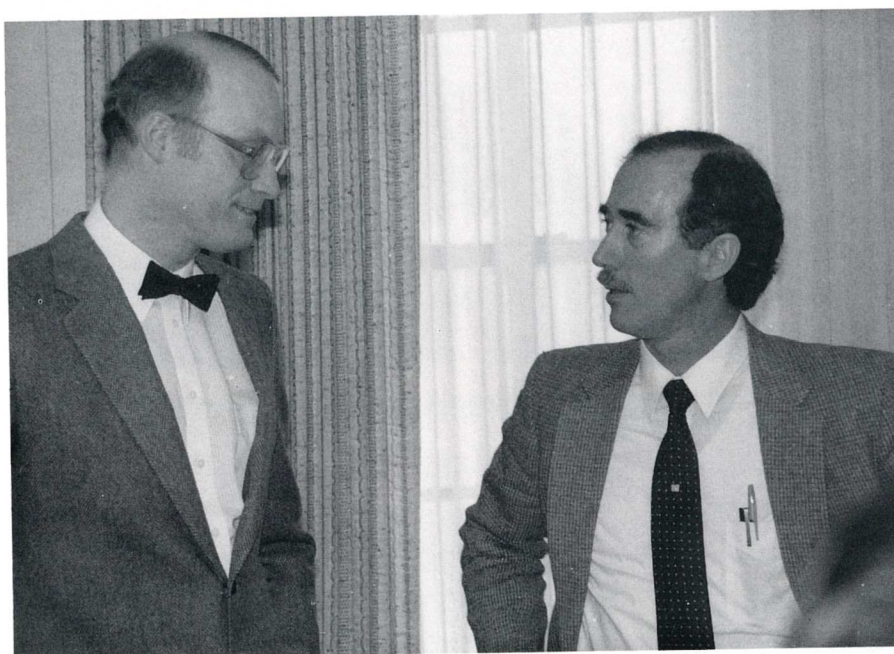

Our dedicated faculty provide insight into the Bible as they teach classes in doctrine, theology and Biblical Interpretation as well as surveys of the Old and New Testaments and studies of individual books of the Bible.

The Ministerial Program is designed for those desiring a full-time pastoral or evangelistic ministry. The students minister in a practical setting during a ten week internship under the supervision of an experienced pastor.

Brothers McRoberts and Worthington disguised as Bible professors.

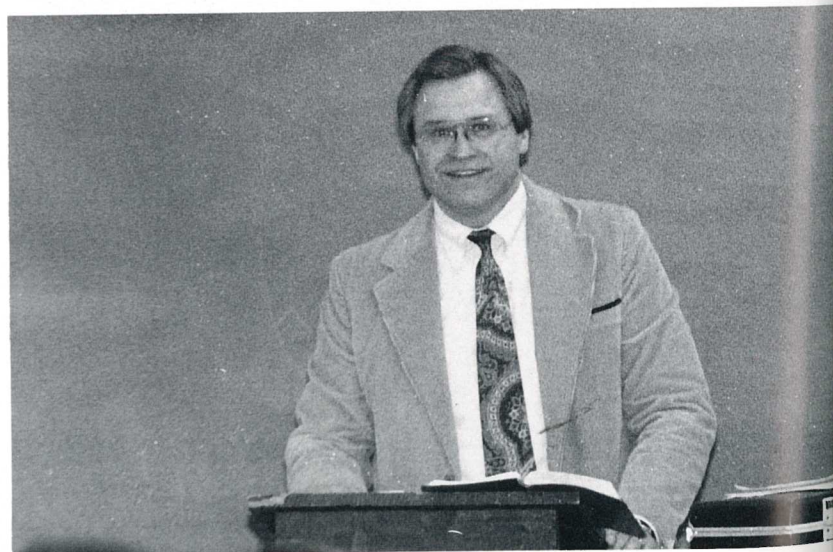

Brothers Munyon and Jeter discuss the finer points of classroom discipline.

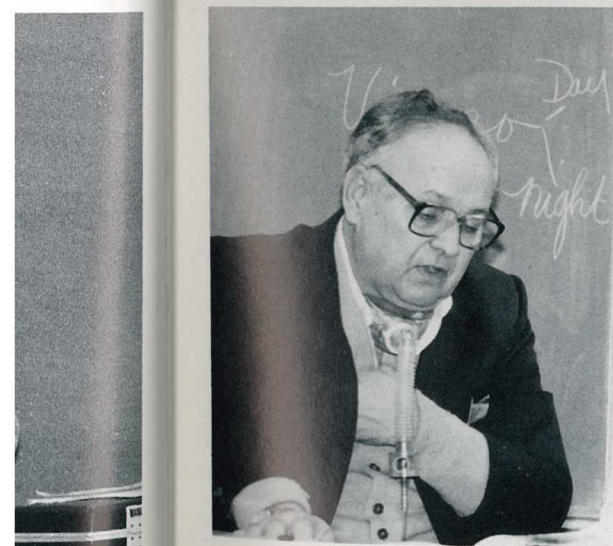

The Missions Program is designed to prepare students for missionary service at home and abroad.

For the second year we have been blessed by the ministry and teaching of Rev. and Mrs. Billy Bray, our Missionaries in Residence from Malawi, East Africa.

Rev. Don H. Jeter, a missionary to Portugal and Spain for 12 years, is the Missions Department Chairman.

Brother McRoberts, author of 'New Age or Old Lie,' discusses Romans 7 with his class.

Brother David Jones, campus pastor and local ice cream connoisseur.

Brother and Sister Bray, Missionaries in Residence, team teaching Cultural Anthropology.

"That I might teach others . . ." I Corinthians 14:19

"General Education is the most important component of the undergraduate curriculum," says Lavonne Larson. "Given that the average person changes vocations five times in a working career, General Education courses give them the skills to make them flexible enough to adapt to the new job opportunities as they present themselves."

The "El Ed" students, as they are affectionately called, each have a very personal and definite call to not only teach, but to minister to children.

As Kim Hoffman, senior from South Dakota so aptly put it, "Our ministry is not one in which we'll be judged, but one in which we'll be imitated."

Research has shown Christian Education to be the most important factor for faith maturity in believers in the local church.

"It's the ticket for the '90's in the church," says C.E. instructor, Brother Wade Cogan. "We must train the new converts and equip people to educate our churches about the Bible and our faith."

After two years of self-study for regional accreditation, Dr. Kingsriter is breathing a little easier.

Sister Dee Munyon, R.N., gives extra tutoring on the skeletal system.

Registrar, Brother Wade Cogan, also teaches Christian Education classes such as Ministry to Adults.

Sister Ruby Wesson, librarian, also teaches Children's Literature.

Writing for Publication, not writing on the board, is Sister Kuno's forte.

Sister Judy Cochran goes over a test in Introduction to Methods.

Our Elementary Education faculty are ready, willing and able to teach you to teach!

“Play skillfully . . .” Psalm 33:3

Earning a Drama or Music Minor is more than completing the required 18-20 specialized credits. Drama instructor, Dr. Sharon Carbaugh says, “I no longer have a goal of applause and the limelight, but of doing something because it leaves people with lasting value in getting their hearts right with God.”

The attitude of a servant heart and preferring others above themselves is drilled into and practiced by Trinity’s music and drama teams.

Since drama can be used outside the church setting, there is increased exposure of the gospel. While learning to lead worship or stay in character, students are gaining new skills for sharing the Good News.

“Doc” Carbaugh spends countless hours coordinating travel assignments.

Voice instructor, Brother John Hollen, leads the congregation in prayer.

Sister Darlene Baldwin, piano and organ teacher, enjoys a good laugh.

"Rejoice . . . in thy youth." Ecclesiastes 11:9

*"I love you,
you're special and there's nothing
you can do about it!"*

"What an exciting time to be one of the Decade of Harvesters!" says Brother Dan Kuno about working with youth. The Youth Minor not only gives current insight on today's youth and their culture, but presents a strategy for evangelism to reach them.

The Pre-Counseling Minor is for those desiring to pursue ministry which requires extra "people skills" training, such as working in a youth home. The integration of psychology and Christianity from a Biblical perspective is taught using Jesus Christ as our best model of an effective counselor.

Brother Kuno studies for his Youth Ministries class.

Doing what he loves best . . . talking with young people.

Sister Dee Munyon, psychology instructor, and Sister Ermalene Bentz accompanying Sunday worship.

Counseling instructor, Brother Keith Agee, deals with 'masks' in and out of the classroom.

"Not slothful in business . . ." Romans 12:11

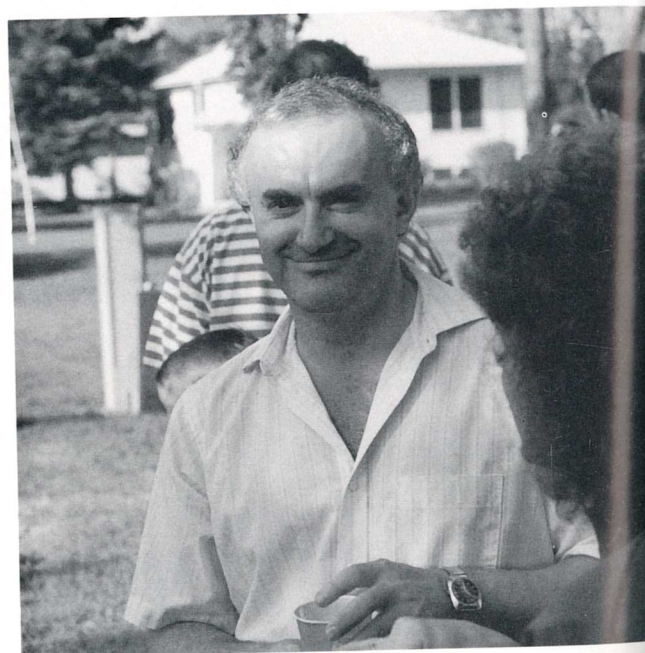

The Office Administration and Business Management degrees are designed to provide the clerical and managerial skills necessary to obtain employment in church or business organizations.

Working in the bookstore or one of the many other part-time secretarial positions on campus provide students opportunity for using skills taught in the classroom.

Business Law and economics instructor, Brother Kenn Tilus, enjoys an evening of celebration with graduating students.

Sister Ermalene Bentz, on faculty since 1972, chairs the Business Department.

Brother Leroy Kirschenmann, business instructor, spends time with friends during the school picnic.

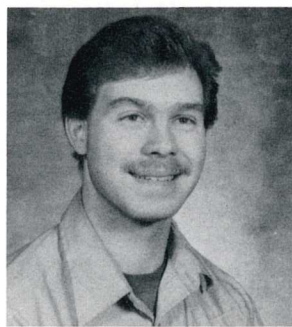

Introducing 'user friendly' microcomputers to students is a joy for Sister Vicki McRoberts.

Dedication: Judith E. Cochran

Dedicated Judy Cochran takes a quick nap during the 'Come On Home' alumni banquet.

Judy speaks her mind.

Before coming to Trinity in 1986, Judy Cochran lived in Florida where she raised four daughters: Jackie, Sherrie, Carrie, and Kathy, as a single parent.

In her 'spare time' she completed two college degrees and later taught in public elementary school. This provided many opportunities to learn dependence on God for her spiritual, emotional, physical, and financial needs. One of her favorite expressions is, "When life hands you a lemon, make lemonade."

... is caring, loving, giving, and dedicated to all she holds dear and believes in.

Whether in her office, the classroom, or at home, you will find Judy encouraging others. She always looks for the good in people, has a listening ear, and doesn't require a lot to make her happy.

Not only does Judy love Jesus and people, she also loves Trinity. She feels her earthly reward for enduring life's struggles has been spending the past five years here at Trinity.

We love you, Judy! In your own words, "keep 'keeping on' for Jesus."

E. Bentz

Appreciation: S. Robert Maddox

Looking to God's Word for guidance and direction in his ministry.

The Maddox Family: Nan, Brenda, Nicole, Brother Maddox, Zachery and Stephan.

Brother Maddox takes a few moments to ponder the evening's events.

Interim — the period of time between. Fall semester 1990 was that for Interim President S. Robert Maddox. For three years he served as Trinity's Executive Vice President. In December he became senior pastor of Northwest Assembly of God Church in Mt. Prospect, Illinois, a Chicago suburb.

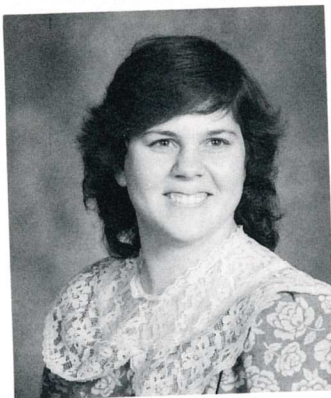

We, the graduating class of 1991, give tribute to Brother Maddox for his administrative and spiritual leadership while at Trinity.

Example. Leader. Friend. Assertive and determined, he accomplished what he set his mind to. With a firm yet caring hand, he handled items from budget cuts to student discipline.

Entering with us as freshmen, he also moves on as we graduate, leaving behind an example of faithfulness to God, family and friends that can inspire us all.

Mark 12:30

"READY OR NOT, HERE WE COME!" According to senior class advisor, Brother David Jones, this is their motto as they prepare to leave Trinity.

Reflecting on this past year Jones remarks, "The only time they ever get really serious is when they start talking about ministry. That's an encouraging sign."

What do their friends say about them? "They're adventurous! (Or was that, Looking for trouble?)" "They're united. (That's not a clique, is it?)" "Those married seniors are the most mature couples on campus. (I really mean that!)" They might say of themselves, "We are invincible!"

A class—a group of persons possessing the same status—yet each a unique individual, called of God and preparing to fulfill that call within the parameters of his or her own God-given personality.

Unlimited possibilities await in the Harvest field God sets before them. Ready or not, here they come!

Not many wise men after the flesh, not many mighty, not many noble, are called,” wrote the inspired Apostle to a first-century church.

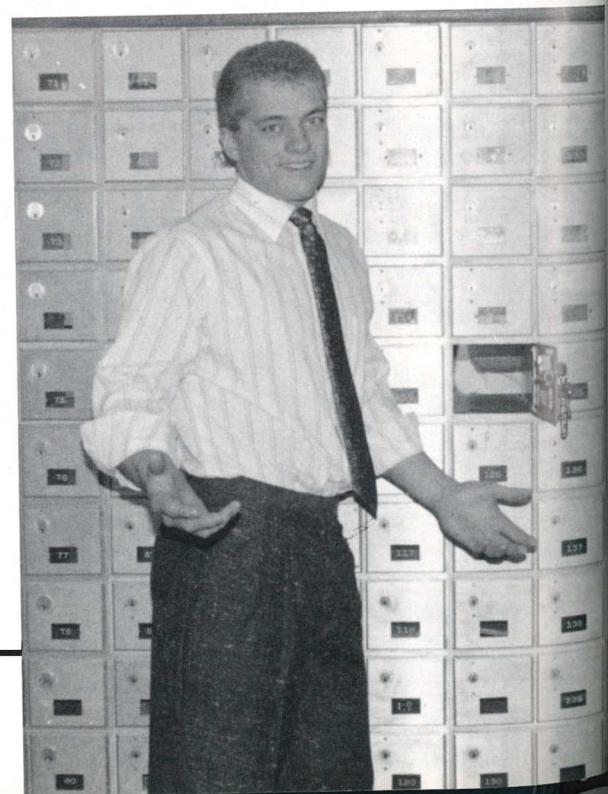

When I think of the Lord’s unlikely servants, I love to think of a coal miner’s son, young, rough Martin Luther. Luther was a young man who was not broken-in. None of the attributes that we often consider sophisticated characterize Luther. He certainly was not a young man whom others would have chosen to lead the Reformation. No matter, he was the one whom the Lord had called.

The Junior Class is made up of men and women, who may appear unlikely to change the course of history. But no matter, they are called by the Lord. Many of them are not broken-in.

The Lord seeks those who fear Him, who are ready to be molded and break-out in obedient response to the Lord’s call. This is the Junior Class of Trinity Bible College. May they go forth in the wisdom and fear of the Lord and change the course of the world for the glory of God!

“He is my refuge . . .” Psalm 91:2

The Trinity graduating class of 1991 had a very successful year, made possible in part by the fine leadership of president Tim Rosenow and his dedicated staff.

Class meetings were well attended and featured guests such as Dan and Phyllis Kuno who spoke on the popular subject of love and dating. Future missionary, Bob White, shared insight on the Muslim religion during one meeting. On another occasion, “Twice Pardoned,” the life story and conversion of Harold Morris, was shown.

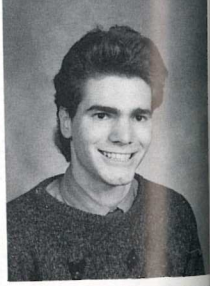

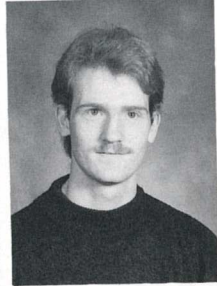

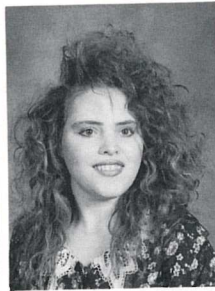

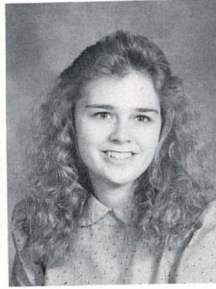

“Trinity is Family,” a video produced by the sophomore class was an immediate box office success and is being used by the college for public relations purposes. In a heart-warming portrayal through the sights, sounds and people of our campus, the video shows that Trinity truly is family.

This class is individuals, each fulfilling the call of God in their life—all important, all necessary, all part of one body.

By their own admission, this year's freshmen are very unique. From varied corners of the nation they have come to conquer; to fulfill their destiny!

Class advisor, Keith Wagler, (probably because he's getting older) thinks this is one of the youngest looking classes to come to Trinity in sometime.

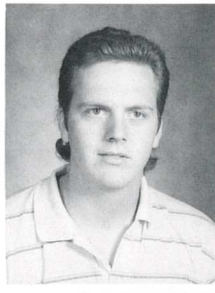

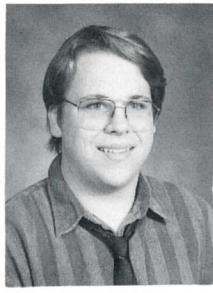

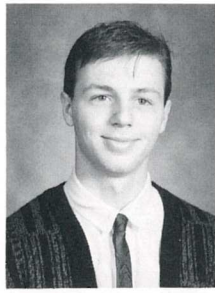

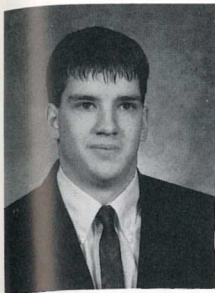

The students have a lot going for them and Wagler sees tremendous potential in each one.

According to Wagler, "They are energetic, bright and this year have come closer to fulfilling the ministry God has called them to."

Some of them came to college thinking it was glorified camp. (Don't laugh, you did too!) As soon as mid-term exams hit they discovered camp was over.

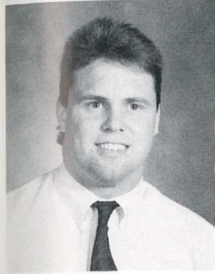

Class of 1994, welcome to the real world of college life. You have completed your initiation with real flair. May the zeal you now possess continue to color your remaining years at Trinity!

Chapel . . .

Classroom of the Holy Spirit

Daily chapel services play a vital role in the spiritual life of students, staff and faculty at Trinity. "Classes and instruction are good," says sophomore, Vince Beauclair, "but I cannot deny the great and mighty inspired instruction that I've received from the Holy Spirit Himself, at morning chapel services."

Lives are touched, hearts changed and commitments made to Jesus Christ as they are challenged from the Word of God through worship, sermons, music and drama.

Many guest speakers add to the rich ministry of faculty, administration and student speakers. The Praise Band, organists and pianists all share their talents to make worship and music vibrant and real.

"Chapel serves to bring the spiritual lives of the TBC community under the cross where the Spirit and glory of Christ rests upon them as one."

Brother Kerry McRoberts

Senior, Kevin Lindgren, gives worship and praise to the Lord during chapel.

Chapel is often a refreshing time for students in preparing for the day's activities.

Chuck Vanasse, Mike Santonastaso, Doug Sebring and Bob Kaumans show that the Lord truly inhabits the praises of His people.

With the Word of God on hand, Brother Don Jeter.

President Trask prays in chapel with students seeking the Lord.

Our First Lady, Sister Marj Trask, takes time to intercede with freshman, Theresa Elliston.

Praying for a Fruitful Harvest . . .

Gap, Jumma and Prayer Bands Intercede

Prayer bands representing Africa, Asia, Europe/Middle East, Islands of the Sea, Latin America and North America, meet weekly to develop faithfulness, instill vision and experience the meaning of dedicated prayer commitments.

The excitement of missions is captured through the testimonies of Missionaries-in-Residence and students who have participated in practicum trips. Freshman, Dawn Eslinger says, "Being a member of the African prayer band has made my first year at Trinity very exciting. Learning about the missionaries, African people and preparing for the Missions Convention was rewarding and helped me grow spiritually."

Students share the joy of praise reports, shed tears as films and videos depict the reality of missions life and together help carry the burden for lost souls worldwide.

Prayer Bands is more than an alternative to the chapel services; it is a time to glimpse at God's ability to transcend cultural barriers.

Kelley Hunter

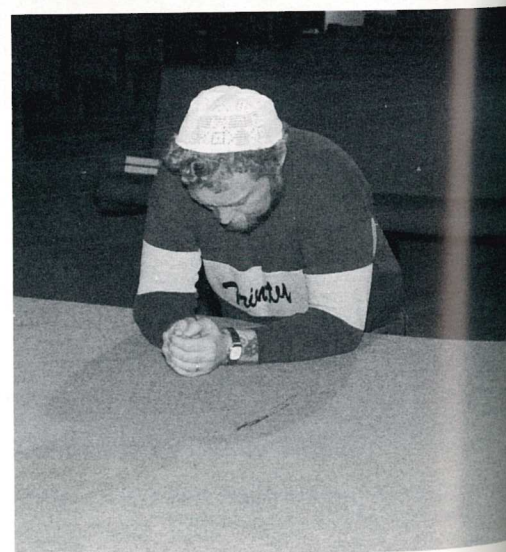

Gap, a 24-hour a day intercession prayer ministry is led by sophomore, Rod Rindahl. He is assisted by Gap Captains Kathy Pitcairn, Rich Cortese, Julie Hessler, Lee Tuttle, Ivy Gallegos, Mike Fretty, Amy Steuck and Tony Ferris.

Jumma, Arabic for Friday, represents the Muslim Holy Day set aside for fasting and prayer to Allah. In an effort to offset their day of prayer, we as Christians have also set aside Fridays to devote a time of prayer and fasting to do battle for the 900 million lost souls of the Islamic people.

"If someone has a burden for the Muslims, Jumma increases it and gives the opportunity to catch a vision for intercession," says Bob White, an active member of Jumma.

Carrying a burden for Muslims, Bob White faithfully prays for the lost in Islamic countries.

Amy Steuck sets aside time to fulfill her commitment to the Gap ministry.

Islands of the Sea leaders, David and Kathleen Schmidt, lead in prayer for the individual needs of missionaries.

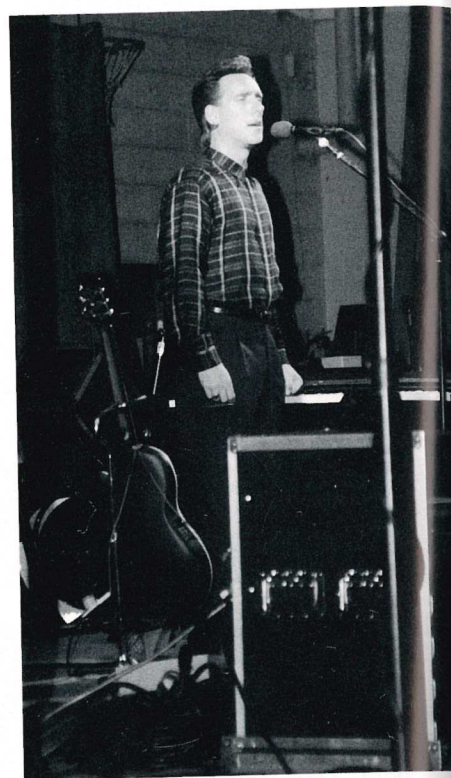

Members of the Islands of the Sea prayer band gather for a time of praise and worship to the Lord.

*"How then shall they call on Him in whom they have not believed?
And how shall they believe in Him of whom they have not heard?
And how shall they hear without a preacher?
And how shall they preach except they be sent?"*

Romans 10:14-15a

Come On Home!

Contemporary Christian music artist, Dallas Holm, featured "Through the Flame" in concert during fall Alumni Days.

Rev. Paul Sandgren, guest speaker at the Alumni Banquet, also took home the golf tournament trophy.

In October, alumni and friends gather on the Trinity campus for three inspirational, fun-filled days. Guests visit classes, get re-acquainted with old friends, conduct business, experience demonstrations in gourmet cooking and play golf.

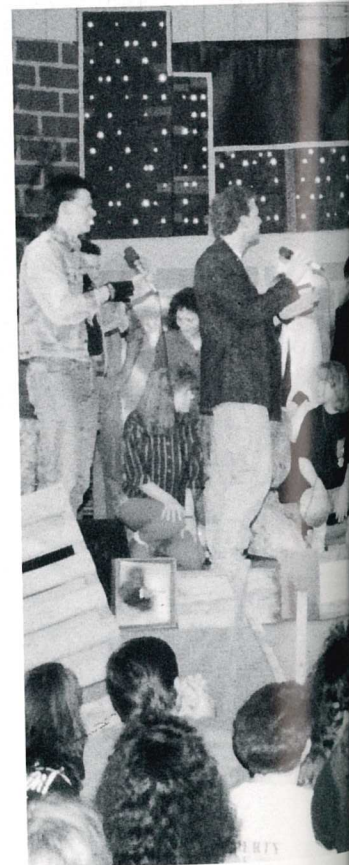

Chosen by their peers, Dr. Lavonne Larson and Rev. Ernest Enget, Alumni of the Year, were honored at a special chapel service in which Dr. Larson spoke.

Alumni are not only front-line recruiters for Trinity, but also provide financial support. Currently the Alumni Association is involved in renovating the Student Union.

With a portion of these contributions the Association has established a scholarship fund. The first recipient of the Alumni Scholarship is Glenn Driedger, a farmer from Killarney, Manitoba, Canada. Husband and father of four, Driedger, a junior majoring in Biblical Studies/Ministerial exemplifies the spirit of Trinity and the Alumni Association.

Alumni Days is more than a schedule packed with special meetings, concerts and activities—it is family coming home.

Student Night Alive performers provide an evening of levity, laughter and one-liners for the light-hearted.

Daring to Take the R.I.S.K. . . .

Students make a Radical Investment of Self for the Kingdom During Spring College Days. Evangelist Sam Rijfkgel from Little Rock, Arkansas, delivers powerful messages that challenge students and visitors alike.

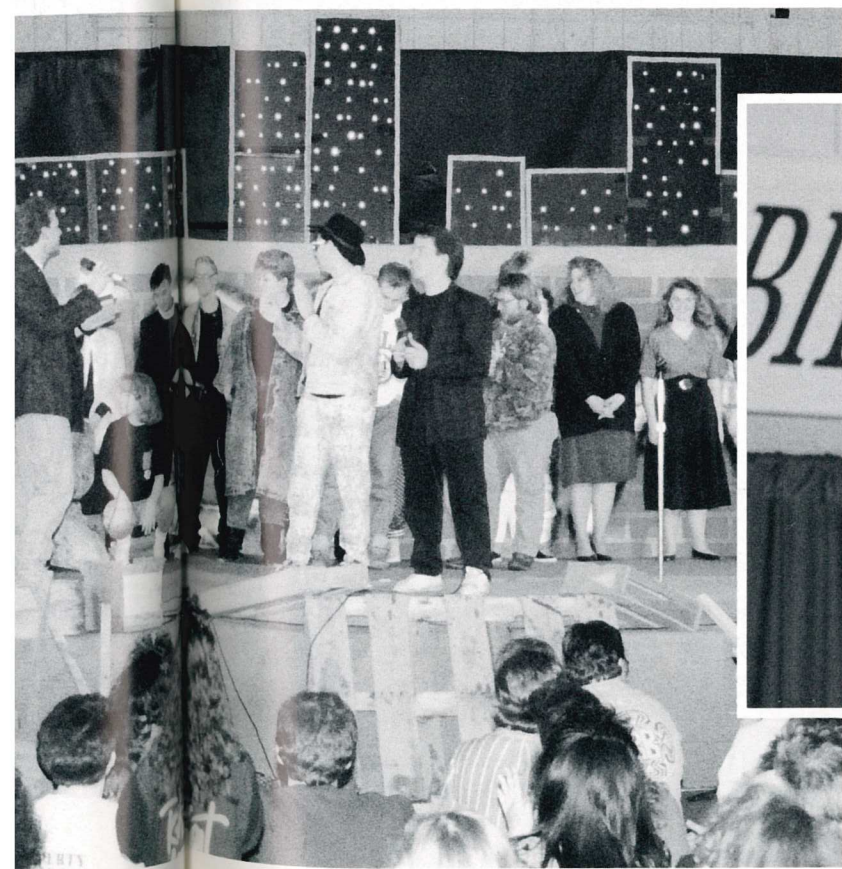

In spite of three days of rain and lower than average temperatures, 300 potential Trinity students and chaperons warmed up to the friendly Trinity family during College Days.

Chancellor Lundstrom and the Lundstrom Singers, Evangelist Sam Rijfkgel, Singer David Meece and the SNA staff provided a special backdrop for days filled with food, folks and fun! Services were moved to the fieldhouse to accommodate the enlarged Trinity family.

Prospective students slept in sleeping bags on hard floors, ate the delicious offerings of our cafeteria staff from paper plates and got a taste of college life at its best! Dorm residents became hosts and hostesses, tour guides and friends to out of state guests.

"College Days meant a lot to me," says freshman, Rana Speed. "We got to meet prospective students and were able to show them what Trinity is all about." Many will return in the fall to become a permanent part of the Trinity family.

David Meece uses his humor, musical talent and personal testimony to present an unforgettable concert in the TBC fieldhouse.

Depth, Direction, Dedication . . .

Missions Conventions Challenge Students

With 'Pierce the Darkness with the Light of Christ' as their theme, missionaries and evangelists from around the world addressed the 1991 Spring Missions Convention.

Keynote speaker, Don Tucker, is Area Representative for West Africa. George Thomassen, missionary veteran, will begin teaching in the West Africa Advanced School of Theology.

Representing inner city ministries was Evangelist Sam Farina who travels throughout the United States and Canada.

The American Indian was represented by Howard Hodson, senior administrator for Central Indian Bible College in Mobridge, South Dakota.

Trinity alumnus, Duane Henders, Director of Mt. Hope Bible College in Lisbon, Portugal, closed the convention.

Trinity currently provides monthly support for 52 ministries. It has been said, "At Trinity, involvement in missions is not optional at extra cost; missions is intrinsic to our personal, intimate relationship with our heavenly Father."

David Grant, missionary-evangelist to Calcutta, India, spoke for the Fall Missions Convention. His testimony and insight sparked renewed interest in a burden for the lost.

Sister Jasmine Bray, Missionary-in-Residence, receives a quilt made by the local Women's Christian Fellowship.

Prayer band leaders representing various areas of the world, participate in each service.

Heart of the College . . . Trinity Campus Church

The Walter and Hattie Block Memorial Chapel, built in 1975, is home of the Trinity Campus Church family.

With a year around congregation of approximately 150, during the school term the body grows to include a majority of the 375 students and their families.

Working hand-in-hand with the Student Ministries Department, TCC provides many ministry opportunities.

These include teaching Sunday School, preaching, attending nursery, ushering, working in Children's Church, playing musical instruments and singing.

Devoted to teaching principles of obedience, faithfulness and communication with God, Pastor Jones and his dedicated staff provide examples of leadership for future ministers to follow.

The uplifted cross, visible from nearly everywhere on campus, is a constant reminder to look to Him, the Purpose for our being.

Sisters Darlene Baldwin and Ermalene Bentz accompany the Sunday morning worship.

Trinity Campus Church staff: Todd Forrest, Sunday School Superintendent; Wade Cogan, Christian Education Director; David L. Jones, Pastor; Brent Braunberger, Youth Pastor; Kelly Gaffken, Children's Pastor.

Pastor Jones . . .

. . . a man rich in Pentecostal heritage, has pastored for 31 years.

Jones, in his seventh year at Trinity, considers his ministry to be more teaching than preaching. "The dynamics of the students and the questions they ask keep me young and on my toes," he says.

A strong family man, Jones calls his wife, Mary, "the balance in my life and ministry." A favorite activity is playing football in the living room with his son, Adam.

Their family includes three married daughters, Wendy, Becky and Heidi; Jennifer (19) a freshman at Trinity; Adam (12) and foster son, Mikey (1).

While raising five children of their own, 80-100 foster children have passed through their home and lives.

Each child holds a special place in their hearts, just as the Jones family holds a special place in the hearts of the Trinity family.

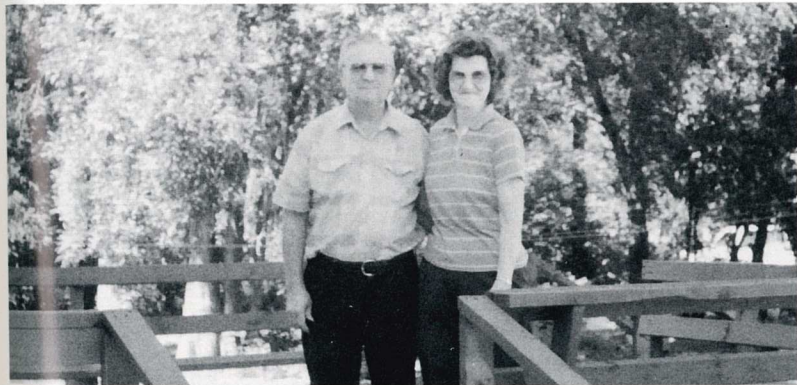

Pastor Jones relaxes at home with wife, Mary, Mikey, Adam and Jennifer.

He leaves his wife, Viola; five children, Edwin, West Fargo; Vernon, Jamestown; Betty Nies, Ellendale; Bonnie Johnson,

Sabin, MN; Dale, Ellendale; six grandchildren and many relatives and friends.

German relatives and friends joined in singing 'Gott is die Liebe,' at the memorial service. The words express his relationship with his heavenly Father, "I know God loves me, for He is love." Emil is loved and missed by the Trinity family.

Caring for the Littlest Lambs . . .

Trinity Nursery Provides a Gentle Touch

Enjoying the nursery while his parents enjoy the Sunday service is Benjamin, son of Tom and Gayle Leach.

Josiah, son of Mark and Michelle Pratt, receives individual and loving care.

If two is company, and three is a crowd, then this must be a party! Crib partners Janee Trollope, Brittany Rindahl, Jessica Dunkel, and Talia Mohr take time to pose for a shot during their busy morning.

Extending Church Education

. . . Sunday School Makes Disciples

Unlike Trix cereal, Sunday School is for adults, too! Brother Tim Munyon deals with "Issues of Christian Ethics" in his adult class.

Students are eager to respond when the question has an answer they know.

Junior, Brad Kingsriter, shares the Word with the Junior High Boys.

Jesus Loves the Little Children . . . All of Them!

"Train up a child in the way he should go and when he is old, he will not depart from it."
Proverbs 22:6

Children's Pastor's, Kelly and Krista Gafken with helpers Angie Kelly, Summerlyn Cogan, Lynelle Hart, David Blomberg, Tony Ferris and Cathi Jo McCormick are the team who minister weekly to the 40-50 campus kids.

Using songs, puppets, clowns and lessons, the children receive a solid scriptural foundation. Their goal is to teach the joy of worship and provide a positive church experience.

Sophomore, Cathi Jo McCormick says, "My favorite part of children's church is seeing their smiles and the joy of being able to watch the children praise the Lord in their own innocent way."

With a little help from Bethany Rindahl, Michelle Addy, junior, tells a Bible story to the two and three year olds.

Sold Out and Radical ... Youth Group has Fun with a Focus

No, this is not the normal dress for Ellendale . . . just the youth group reliving the '70's.

Teens of Trinity faculty, staff and students sold candy bars, Santa grams and made personal pledges to raise $300.00 for Speed-The-Light. Their annual Rake-N-Run is a labor of love to elderly Ellendale residents. Occasional gym nights offer an avenue for burning excess energy. Mixing fun, fellowship and hard work is how it all happens.

The main concern of Women's Christian Fellowship is to minister to the needs of the married women (students or wives of students), single mothers, or those ladies who are single again.

WCF activities include Care and Share, which helps new moms and families during an illness and Women's Ministries, the Assemblies of God program for ladies in the local church.

For those forced to pinch pennies, the WM Cabinet gives needed supplies to families on campus and the Bargain Basement "recycles" clothing and household items at reasonable prices.

Other items of interest to campus women is the weekly Bible study and the monthly newsletter, News and Notes.

"I like to see young women go out and feel prepared for their role in the church," says advisor, Mary Jones. "In the future, this group will continue to train them."

The ladies not only learn how organizations operate in the local church but how to improve leadership skills and the value of fellowship with one another.

The Ministries of WCF are managed by these faithful ladies: Mavis Paddock, Care and Share; Sheila Williamson, News and Notes; Pat Van Cannon and Larisa Garman, WM's and WM Cabinet; Lynn Kraig, Bargain Basement. Not pictured is Faye Whitlock who leads the Bible study.

Rainbows, Missionettes, Royal Rangers

RAINBOWS is an excellent opportunity for three and four-year old boys and girls to begin their spiritual walk with the Lord.

"This is such a blessed group of children," says leader, Julie Hill. "We would like to see each one learn to love and respect one another, and know Jesus as Savior."

ROYAL RANGERS . . . to reach, teach and keep them for Jesus Christ. This is the bottom line in ministry to boys.

"It is a privilege to lead a boy to Christ as well as help that boy grow in Christ," says David Burnett, Royal Ranger Commander. "It's humbling knowing that you're having an impact on a boy's life."

"MISSIONETTES gives me the chance to get involved in girls lives and helps care for others," remarks Tiffany King, sophomore and student leader.

"God has placed a special burden in my heart for children," says Lee Oliver. It is evident as she coordinates the Missionette program.

Through Music . . . Redemption and Vision Share Christ

Traveling in 20 states from coast to coast, the singing ministry groups had many opportunities to encourage and strengthen the local church and challenge people to evangelize the world.

They discovered that they can work, live, eat and travel together for extended periods of time and still remain friends because of the power of Christ which strengthens them.

Members of Trinity's traveling music groups are also a part of the Trinity Choir directed by John Hollen.

Richard Roe, LaQuita Hoskins, Jennifer Riley, Bethany Goen and Jennifer Peterson, of Redemption, invite God's presence to enter every service they are involved in.

Freshmen, Karen Rydin, Ron Lloyd, Monica Kaufman, Bill Agee and Misti Greenwood of Vision, share a love for music and ministry.

Drama Delivers a Powerful Message

"The purpose of drama is not to put individuals in the lime-light but to graphically portray that Christ is the answer," says Dr. Sharon Carbaugh, director of Drama Ministry.

Three groups travel twice a month during the school term to churches, public schools and this year they also ministered in a reform school.

Not only do they minister in the power of the Gospel, they also actively recruit students to Trinity.

What inspires these groups to keep at it?

"Blessed are the pure in heart . . ." Matthew 5:8 (Pure Heart).

"The Spirit of the Lord is upon me . . . to preach . . . to proclaim," Isaiah 61:1-6 (Soul Patrol).

He has . . . given us power, love and a sound mind," II Timothy 1:7 (Power Source).

Evangelism Teams

"You must be born again," spoken to Nicodemus by Jesus (John 3:7) is the motivation that has Trinity's witnessing teams out on the streets of neighboring towns every week.

In the Fall semester, 15 two-person teams were sent out every week. They knocked on every door in Kulm, Edgely and Napoleon, North Dakota.

At the same time weekly outreaches into Jamestown, Oakes and Ashley, North Dakota and Aberdeen, South Dakota continued.

The Evangelism Ministry teams led by juniors, Andy Samms and Brian Kelly, personally contacted over 800 people, presented the Gospel to 325 and had 52 first time commitments to Christ.

The Two Question Test, taught in Personal Evangelism, simply asks, "Are you going to heaven?" and "How do you know?" Through this unique technique the door has been opened for many to come to Christ.

According to Kelly, who also teaches Personal Evangelism, the goal of the Evangelism Ministry is "to equip students and church members in effective evangelism techniques that will help the college and church fulfill the Great Commission on the streets and doorsteps of the Upper Midwest."

Simple tools for evangelism: A survey and God's Word. Here Dan Winder goes over the outline with fellow student, Bill Lanes.

Acts 29 Knows No Boundaries . . .

How would you like to share the Gospel, without using the name of 'Jesus?' Every week, Acts 29 does just that at the State Hospital in Jamestown, North Dakota. A challenge, perhaps . . . but not an impossibility. The group, led by Tex Kraig, practices Matthew 25:40, "... Whatever you do for one of the least of these . . . you do for me."

Besides the State Hospital, Acts 29 has ministered on the streets of Minneapolis, working with the Chapel of Hope Mission and Teen Challenge in Sundance, Wyoming.

The eyes and hearts of each young person involved in Acts 29 have been opened to the reality of the hopelessness and despair that is common to those without Jesus.

"... to Proclaim Liberty to the Captives ..." Isaiah 61:1

The Prison Ministry team, led by Rodney Brooking, freshman, had many opportunities to share Jesus and God's love with prison inmates.

Besides holding weekly Bible studies in Stutsman County jail in Jamestown, the team went on several ministry outreaches to the North and South Dakota State Penitentiaries and the Teen Challenge in Brookings, South Dakota.

This year the team became involved with Chuck Colson's Angel Tree Project, which provides Christmas gifts for the children of inmates.

"It impacted my life," says Kim Poe, freshman, about her involvement with the team. "It helped me to take the scriptures literally and put them into practice and see that God has compassion for everyone."

Missions Outreach . . .

Reaching . . . Touching . . . Changing Lives

"I have realized that Christ's answer for those who would lead, is to serve," says Keene Fuller, senior and leader of Missions Outreach. "It is not the recognition and the limelight that makes a leader, it is servanthood and humility with the desire to not be noticed."

Through preaching, teaching, door-to-door witnessing, drama, music and street evangelism, team members share the Good News of Jesus Christ in the big city, small town and up on the Indian reservation.

The team ministers on reservations, in churches, does door-to-door witnessing on Saturdays and conducts Sunday services.

Although it is a unique opportunity for cross-cultural education, sharing Christ with the Native American is the team's primary objective.

Ministering to Our Senior Citizens

Bringing a smile to a local nursing home resident is Tom Nyman, student leader.

Russell Burchill, freshman, volunteers time to meet the needs of the lonely.

Every Thursday night life gets a little brighter for residents at the Ellendale Nursing Center. A team of concerned students gather the people together for a time of singing old hymns, prayer and a devotion. As a special highlight one evening, the Royal Rangers presented a skit to the residents.

Members of the team do personal visitation during the week.

James 1:27 helps them keep their efforts in focus, "Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this, to visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep himself unspotted from the world."

Children Are the Future . . .

. . . Parents, leaders and lay people of the church. The friendship and guidance they receive at home and here at Trinity is molding them into their future roles.

A few of the groups ministering to children are Big Brother/Big Sister, children's choir, Junior/Senior Aids and student teaching.

Freshman, Rob Blair, sums up children's ministry with these words, "Jesus held the children and told us to have a childlike faith . . . and as my 'little brother' believed in me to be there for him, he showed me about my own faith."

Here for Ministry . . .

Not only do students receive quality teaching in the classroom, each student becomes involved in ministries aligned with their specific degree that provide opportunities for practical ministry experience.

To acquaint the students with these opportunities, Student Ministries hosts a Fair each fall. Each ministry furnishes a booth with information and sign-up sheets for potential team members.

"Ultimately we desire to see students develop a 'ministry mentality' that will invade and affect their whole lifestyle," says director Dan Kuno.

The Carroll College Shootout in Helena, Montana provided some stiff competition. A real baptism of fire, it brought out the best in all involved. With a 'TOTAL RELEASE' mind set, playing so as to honor the Lord, the team came together as they gave all they had at each opportunity.

The season climaxed by winning six of the last seven games, including the NICC Tournament.

The Memories Begin . . .

Wow! What an experience that will never be forgotten . . . The friendships that we have made this year will last forever!

God has placed in each of our lives a roommate or special friend for a reason. That reason might be for lifting up one another with words of encouragement, a prayer or just a hug.

Through S.M.B., the Christmas party and rapture practice, the Davidson ladies have become acquainted in many special ways.

Junior, Deanna Holtz has been in Davidson for three years and plans to return for her senior year. Why? Spiritually, she likes the Gap room; academically, there is a study room she especially enjoys; and socially, she likes meeting all the new girls that come each year.

Some of our fondest memories this year include the Midnight Breakfasts, playing in the snow, talking with friends for hours about everything and nothing.

Proverbs 17:17 says, "A friend loves at all times." On good AND bad days . . . the Davidson ladies are friends.

Misty Greenwood wonders about the upcoming year.

Kim Poe winding down after a hectic day.

Jonadee Johnson and Anne Addy enjoying a good laugh.

Davidson Dorm Staff: Tracey Geffre, Tiffany King, Tammy Lewis, Naomi Lewis (RD), Bethany Bartlett, Rhonda Hughes.

Sophomore, Rhonda Hughes has joy in her heart and it shows on her face.

Arvin, alias Monica Kauffman, poses with an old friend.

QUICKSNIPS

Naomi Lewis, RD: "Life in the dorm is fun, heartrending, soul changing, challenging and for the most part, wonderful. It's fantastic to watch the girls spiritually and emotionally."

Tiffany King, sophomore: "It's been great being an R.A.! 'Oh, hello' and 'Oh, okay' have become my favorite phrases along with 'I almost believe you' and 'No, I'm not cleaning my room tonight!'"

Julie Hessler, freshman: "I feel that God has a purpose for everyone. I feel He has led me to Trinity to fulfill this purpose or maybe to just prepare me for His plan."

Robin Espeseth, freshman: "Good memories and good friendships go hand-in-hand. They may be wacky, tacky or even khaki, but they last forever. You know what I mean?"

QUICKSNIPS

Mylo Rowcliffe, RD: "Life in Kesler? A growing experience . . . working with people."

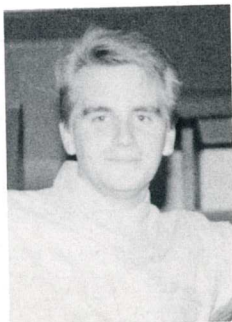

Glenn Tofte, junior: "The dorm is the culmination of campus life and activity. God can use the dorm to shape our lives through its environment."

Rob Blair, freshman: "The MEN of Kesler Hall: And he gave some apostles, some pastors, some teachers, some R.A.s and some practical jokers. And they all reside here."

Dale Johnson, sophomore: "Dorm life is a great opportunity to make life-long friends and experience a home-away-from-home atmosphere with Jesus Christ."

"I wasn't born yesterday!" claims freshman, David Ruckman.

Brad Lofland waiting anxiously for his cue.

Kesler Dorm Staff: Paul Shover, Daniel Harwell, Mylo Rowcliffe (RD), Randy Hedman, Joel Wendland, Glenn Tofte.

The Place to Be . . .

Life in Kesler has been described as wild, rowdy, awesome, interesting, the place to be and not average.

It is a closed environment of men from all across the United States and Canada, called here by God.

A place to be challenged and stretched . . . A place to build life-long relationships with other Christian men. There is always someone just down the hall who will give support, advice or just lend a listening ear.

But not all is always well at Kesler . . . Divers personalities living in close quarters . . . tempers flare . . . late night rowdies keep others awake.

"There is always something to do other than homework," confesses senior, Rich Lorenz. "Many lose sleep after procrastinating until the night before."

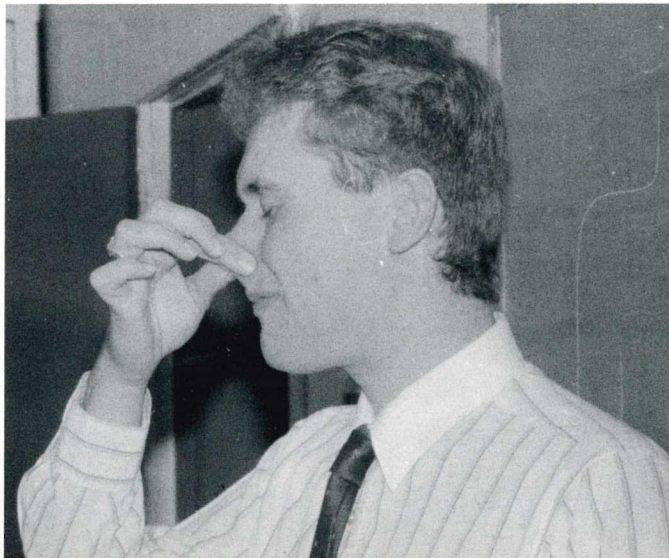

When all is said and done, Kesler is an okay place to live . . . and we call it home.

Stacey Maybee and Mike Bartel relax at 'home.'

The joy inside is evident on Joel Rennie's face.

"All right, guys, which one of you has a heavy date tonight?" asks Joel Wendland.

Home Away From Home . . .

Life in Liechty is one of excitement! For the seniors, as April approaches, so does a fulfillment of one of their dreams . . . graduation.

The juniors continue their march . . . working hard and late night studying will soon pay off.

For the sophomores, studying and talking with friends keeps them alive and in the running.

The halls are filled with giggles . . . screams . . . sighs . . . dreams. The sweet essence of our many perfumes mix and mingle to form a fragrance unique only within the confines of these walls.

Slamming doors . . . rattling keys . . . humming blowdryers . . . muffled music . . . tapping typewriters . . . ringing phones . . . all familiar sounds at this place we call home.

Creating new memories . . . more good than bad and storing them up for the time when we too must leave this place.

Third Floor . . . The Great Pretenders . . .
"Look, mom, I'm a train!"

Bethany Gilbert . . . "shhh, I'm hiding!"

Liechty Staff: Elizabeth Kozenka, Julie Tucker, Phyllis Kuno (RD), Tanda Greenwood.

QUICKSNIPS

Julie Kinunen, junior, has a smile for everyone!

Kim Hoffman, senior, future teacher of America!

Room buddies, Roberta Lonefight and Trudy Prall.

Phyllis Kuno, Liechty RD: "A wise man once said, 'If you want to stay young, spend time with young people. If you want to feel old, try to keep up with them.' It's been fun, but I feel old!"

Elizabeth Kozenka, junior: "In Liechty we build friendships; the kind that last a lifetime. The friends you make in the dorm are the ones who truly know you and love you anyway!"

Christy Dodd, sophomore: "Dorm life is a 24-hour party where we have the chance to meet long-lasting friends from different backgrounds and also draw closer to the Lord."

Beth Bennett, senior: "People have the wrong concept of the word 'cool.' To me, 'cool' is someone who is completely themselves, without apology."

QUICKSNIPS

Bob White, RD:
"The Wings are a unique blend of men on fire for God, being molded into vessels fit for the master's service."

Kevin Potts, senior: "Peaceful ... quiet ... and like a family of brothers
growing up together."

Monte Moore,
freshman: "Dorm life builds character, but so does
having toothpicks stuck under your fingernails. I must say I have never been persecuted by a finer group of guys."

Darrin Davis,
freshman: "I think that TBC is a fantastic school. The people really show
the love of God. All is needed is a little more 'soul'!"

Through These Portals . . .

Generally speaking, the Wings offer a quieter, more studious environment for the serious male student.

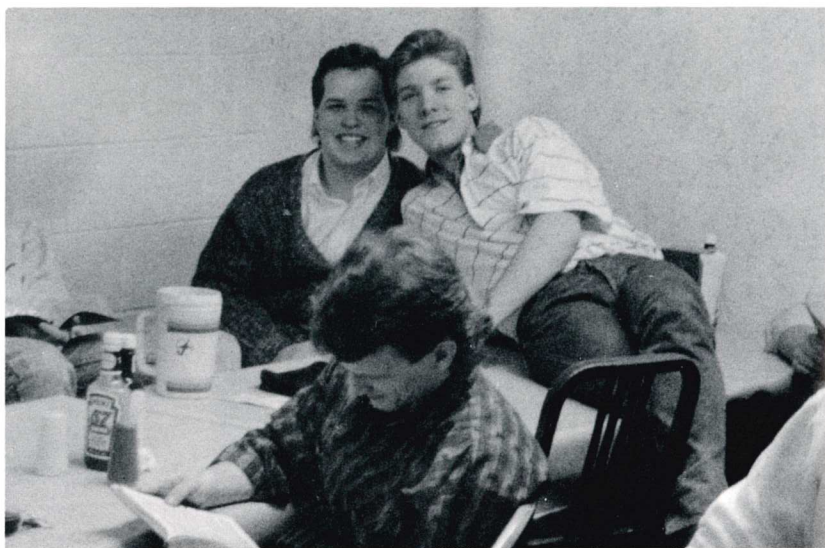

In their hectic routine of study, ministry, spiritual life and not-so-hectic dating life, they still find time to have fun.

In addition to the organized dorm activities and Student Association functions, there are many impromptu opportunities for friendship, fellowship and fun in the halls, lounges and campus at large.

Posted at the entrance to their hall, these words pose a personal challenge: "Through these portals pass some of God's greatest men."

Friends . . . Brothers . . . Steve Mohr and Brent Grosvenor.

North/South Wing Dorm Staff: Kevin Potts, Bob White (RD), Ron Wileman.

"Listen up, guys, this is good stuff."

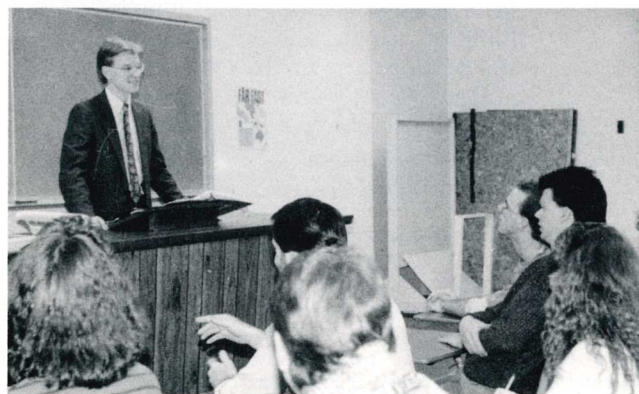

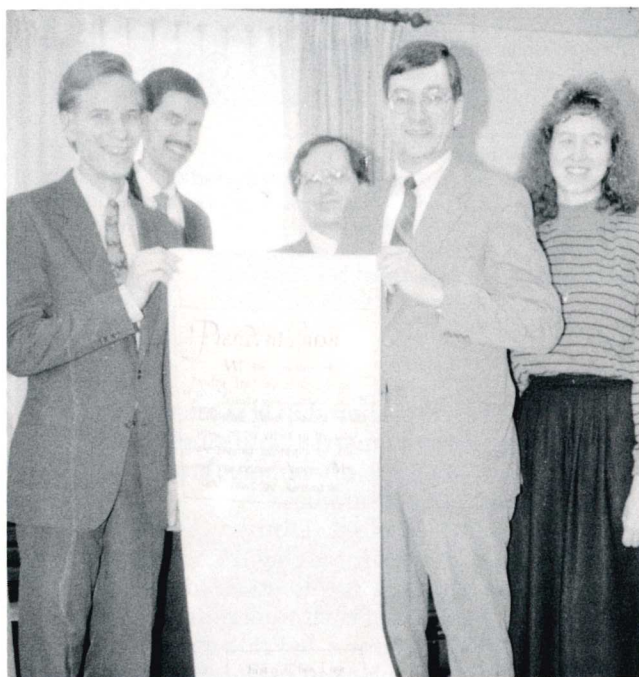

Tony Ferris, a big guy with a big heart.

Working Together . . .

Student Association is a vital link between students and the administration. It is through this organization that students are represented by class, dorm, foodservice, married students and family fellowship representatives.

SA attempts to enhance student life by sponsoring activities and projects such as purchasing pool cues for the Student Union, word processing units and a compact disc player for KTBC, blood drives, movies and special assistance with College Days.

President Glenn Tofte, Brother Kenn Tilus, Brother Keith Agee, Dr. Dayton Kingsriter and SA secretary, Gay Braunberger with Trinity's personal message to President George Bush concerning the War in the Gulf.

SA President Glen Tofte addresses SA representatives concerning upcoming events.

No Place Like Home . . .

Rick and Diane Olson,
Ruby Wesson and Carla and Joe Noe enjoy an evening together.

Rich and Nadine Cortese appear overwhelmed by the number of incoming students.

Family Fellowship was created to minister to married and single parent families, off-campus students, and faculty families.

The Annual Dinner Auction brought meals ranging from brownies and milk to full steak dinners.

Families of both students and faculty joined for a hayride on a local farmer's truck and trailer. Stopping for a bonfire, hot dogs, and marshmallows, singing and old jokes were the main course of the evening.

Family Fellowship also sponsors an Annual Progressive Dinner, a Valentine Banquet and weekly family fun nights in the gym.

Family Life . . .

Like father, like son . . . Donn and Isaiah Jibben.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Raby and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Parham wage a war of their own with Axis and Allies.

Living in one of the many mobile homes of the Trinity trailer park, Jim and Kathy Murphy have adapted to the challenging lifestyle that all married students face. A junior in the Ministerial program, Jim spends his spare time working as the college's locksmith. In addition to running the household, Kathy is involved in WCF, babysits and bakes goodies for some of her staff and faculty friends.

Mark Pratt and Michelle Blewett arrived at Trinity in 1988 as single students. Holding to Trinity tradition, they returned in the fall of 1989 as Mr. and Mrs. Pratt. A junior, in the Ministerial program, Mark is interning this summer. Son, Josiah Daniel, makes three. Romans 8:28 has become an anchor for them. "And we know that all things work together for good to those who love God, and are called according to His purpose."

"I Owe, I Owe . . .

... So off to work I go!" Sound familiar? For many TBC students working is a necessity, yet even though Ellendale is a small town, there is a variety of jobs to be found.

They range from making pizza at Hot Stuff Pizzeria to caring for the elderly at the Ellendale Nursing Center.

Others find work at The Ranch, the grain elevator or school cafeteria. Many students work on campus in the post office, bookstore or as a professor's secretary.

Some students learn new skills on their jobs that will be helpful later, such as doing maintenance on school vans or janitorial work.

All in all, about 55% of Trinity students work somewhere. Wherever students work, they take the Gospel with them and have the opportunity to reach out to their co-workers and customers.

Work is a necessary part of life, but we can endure it or use it as a chance to build relationships and friendships.

Kristi Carlson finishes an order at Hot Stuff.

Devoted football fans brave the freezing October evening air to cheer their team on to victory.

Acts 29ers, Deanna Holtz, Tony Gryboksi and Robert Yothers, clean a few cars to help finance a missions trip to the streets of Minneapolis.

... So Off to Play I go!"

Stuff.

Lee Tuttle, Kenny Budd, Mark Zweifel and Ivy Gallegos relieving some stress.

What does your average Trinity student do when he's not studying, going to classes, eating or sleeping?

Closer to home, students can be found in the Snack Shop playing pool, air hockey, table tennis or just talking with friends.

You will find them playing lawn games in front of Davidson Hall, having a campfire at Johnson's Gulch or just talking with friends.

Some who have wheels and a little extra cash go to Aberdeen to experience Storybook Land, go roller skating, bowling, shopping at Lakewood Mall, stopping at Twist Cone or just talking with friends.

No matter where you find Trinity students on their free time, you can be assured they are having a good time and they aren't alone.

Sophomore, Cathi Jo McCormick, makes a few extra dollars by cutting hair for students like Alan Klasi, senior.

Kevin Lindgren, senior, spends several hours a week working at the local grain elevator.

Trinity Friends . . .

Friendship
by Brad Kingsriter

*Friendship is forever,
For good times and for bad.
And when you make a friend,
The good times are ahead.*

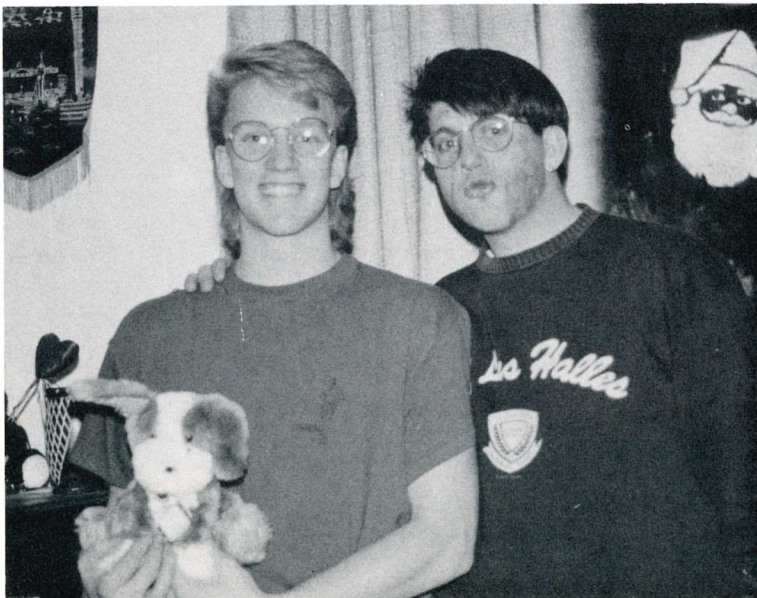

*Friendship is forever,
It's not a one day affair.
Friends are friends forever,
You know they always care.*

*Friendship is forever,
It is a God ordained affair.
When Jesus is the center,
The friendship is one that shares.*

*Friendship is forever,
And godly friends are true.
You know you can depend on them,
And they can depend on you.*

*Friendship is forever,
Friends made at school and at home.
And the friends you made at Trinity Helped make college feel like home!*

*Friendship is forever,
And the most important is with God.
Remember there is a mission field at home and abroad.*

... Forever Friends

Friends by Tammy Ammeter

*Friends are a treasure you find in your heart.
A gift God gives you to make a new start.
Right beside you they'll be, or in front of your eyes
God put them there to comfort and to guide.*

*Into our lives they suddenly appear
Never leaving you and sometimes crying a tear.
Encouragingly scolding somethings we might do
They find something else to help make us new.*

*No wonder God gave your friendship to me
To pick me up gently my good points to see.
Don't ever forget though time may pass
God gave us this friendship; may it always last.*

*So remember, my friend, God put us together
To care and love and forget each other, never.*

Bringing It Together . . . Annual Staff

Creating this year's MESSENGER has meant a lot of things . . . hard work, extra hours, broken pencils, frazzled nerves . . . but mostly fun! It will be an experience never to be forgotten.

We would like to say special thanks to Ruby Wesson and the 'behind the scenes' staff: Kim Lewis, Julie Ogan, David and Kathleen Schmidt, Tammy Gorley, Alan Lee, Alan Klasi, Dawn Lamberson, Shantel Marley and Danielle Kuno.

Having put together this book from which you are now reading, we hope you will find that through these pages we, as a student body, have been 'Found Faithful.'
