

When we started out on this year's annual, we poured over stacks of old yearbooks, graphics, pamphlets and pages of original ideas to come up with the theme for this year's book. We wanted this year to be different, innovative and intensely creative. We feel that we have fulfilled the above three criteria.

As you flip through the pages of this book you will find no divisions or specific sections. The theme we chose this year was sequence. We felt that this paralleled life here on campus and elsewhere in the world. You will find that the events of the school year are in chronological order. We hope that this book reflects the timeline of the 93-94 school-year, as well as reflecting the timeline of our lives. The author of Ecclesiastes well understood the meaning of time and the seasons of our lives when he said:

"There is a time for everything, and a season for every activity under heaven: a time to be born and a time to die, a time to plant and a time to uproot, a time to kill and a time to heal, a time to tear down and a time to build, a time to weep and a time to laugh, a time to mourn and a time to dance, a time to scatter stones and a time to gather them, a time to embrace and a time to refrain, a time to search and a time to give up, a time to keep and a time to throw away, a time to tear and a time to mend, a time to be silent and a time to speak, a time to love and a time to hate, a time for war and a time for peace." Ecclesiastes 3:1-8 NIV

Senior Class of '94

During the days of Martin Luther's academic training, it was customary for the students to rise from their seats as the professor appeared in the doorway and honor him by bowing. After the professor positioned himself behind the lectern, the students then seated themselves, and the instruction began.

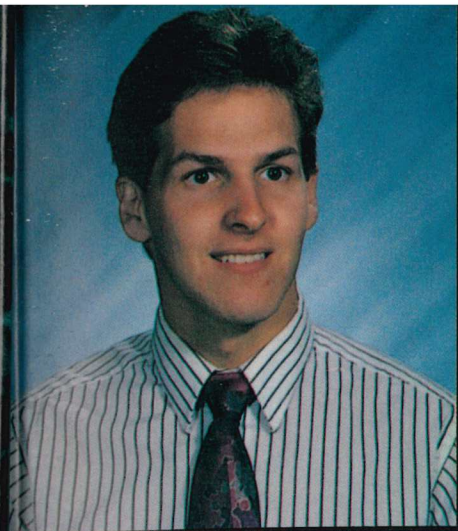

Luther had a particular professor, however, who broke with this custom and rather insisted that the students remain seated as he entered the classroom. This unconventional professor then positioned himself in front of the class and bowed in honor of them. When asked about this peculiar behavior, the professor responded by stating that only God knew there was present in his class an individual who would someday change the course of world history and he wanted to be among the first to extend honor to such an extra-ordinary individual.

It is my esteemed honor, as an instructor, to be among the first to bow to the graduating class of Trinity Bible College, 1994. For I am persuaded that many extra-ordinary individuals are numbered among these most honorable students. They have been trained these last four years not to proclaim a message that engages, or in any way befriends the world, but rather one that is a scandal, a stumblingblock, in every age. That message is the message of the Cross of Christ!

Few men in the course of human history realized with greater intensity than Luther, the recurring dictum: truth brings confrontation. My beloved students, though you are being sent out amongst the wolves, DO NOT EVER COMPROMISE THE PROCLAMATION OF THE CROSS!

Faculty intercede for seniors as they are sent out into the world at the annual commissioning service.

Senior Dedication

Billy Bray came to us in the Fall of 1989 with his wife Jasmine to serve as our missionaries in residence. Brother Bray had spent his life on the mission field in Africa and, as a result, had a story for most occasions. He also demonstrated a sense of humor, but it was sometimes hard to see because of his physical problems. Though he had health problems Billy Bray sought to minister to others, and did so through his teaching. In the Fall of 1992, Brother Bray went home to his reward. It is with great honor that we dedicate this book to Billy Bray, a man whose passion and practice was to be spent for the Kingdom of God.

When we, as a staff, had to choose who to appreciate this year, we spent a lot of time going through a long list of names of all the faculty and administration that we admire. It took us six months, but we finally were able to single out one person who is dedicated, caring and efficient in their job. This person is a true servant: always willing to talk with those who have a need, always open to new ideas and puts in long hours at the office. This person is, of course, Dee Munyon. Friend, confidant, instructor, counselor, wife, mother, and Woman of God. All of these, and more, describe Dee perfectly. She means more to this school and the lives she's touched than she will ever know.

—T. Crowe

Annual advisor, Kelley Hunter, presents Dee Munyon with a Certificate of Appreciation from the Messenger '94 staff.

And now from our home office in Duplex 20 (behind the Administration Building), we bring the:

TOP TEN FRESHMAN FEARS

10. Your roommate won't use deodorant.
9. The Freshman Fifteen.
8. Brother McRoberts.
7. Afraid you won't get to class on time so you go twenty minutes early.
6. All that dirty laundry and Mom's not here!
5. Having McDonald's withdrawals.
4. The soda machines might run out of drinks with excessive amounts of caffeine. AND WE NEED OUR CAFFEINE!
3. Ellendale water and all the little floaties in it.
2. Boredom (only a freshman would be worried about that).

And the #1 Top Freshman Fear is:

1. You'll be single forever if you don't get a boyfriend/girlfriend first semester.

Every year when TBC first opens its dorms, new students, their family and friends, faculty, staff, and returning students all gather outside the cafeteria to share food, laughter, old memories and to start new friendships. This year the gathering was done in true "family" style with picnic tables, barbecued hamburgers and hotdogs, and a special treat of ice cream! The welcome picnic is always a special time for Trinity family and friends to come together and start the year on the right foot!

Time seems to drag on as students stand and sit in line during Fall '93 registration. Numbers were given in line so students could leave to eat dinner or grab a breath of fresh air. Some students had to wait for two days. Bethany Coalwell, junior, said that she thought the lines would be shorter than last year, but she found it to be otherwise. "Only by the grace of God did I get through that line!" said Bethany. Through it all, a very important virtue was learned by faculty and students alike during registration: Patience!

We came back at the end of the summer Going back to school's such a bummer
But then we met friends
The misery ends
I just hope in four years
we're not dumber

We spent all day long in the gym
It'll be now that we'll sink or we'll swim
We've got schedules and classes
Bought our lunch passes
It'll be worth it for Him

It is written we get paid in the end We're rewarded when we see our Best Friend
But down here on earth
There's a cash-dearth
So we need friends who are able to lend

We got sent from one place to the next
Why do we feel like we're hexed?
But we continued to wait
Perhaps it's our fate
How much do we owe?
We are vexed!

What is worship? In our theology classes we learn that it is a human response to divine revelation, the act of personal adoration. It is meditation and reverence directed toward God and His Word. It is an attitude of the heart that we show in our actions and our words. The deepest worship that we can show our Master is total commitment to Him, being totally enveloped in the desire to live only for Him. We worship God for who He is, not because of circumstances, whether they be good or bad.

What is praise? It is the expression of love towards our God with our lips. We praise Him for His great works, for all He has done for us. We thank Him for His care for us. He was never under any obligation to us, but He made himself known to us through His Son, Jesus Christ. He made the ultimate sacrifice for us when He gave His life for us on Calvary's tree. His shed blood is our redeeming power.

For these things we praise Him and we worship Him. The one true God who did not have to, but made Himself known to us through His unchanging love. That love's name was Jesus. Never using experience as truth, we stand on the Word of God as our measuring rule for life . . . the Everlasting Rock on which we stand.

Let us come before Him

The Student Ministries Fair presented an opportunity for the student body to sign up for at least two ministries (freshmen are exempt; they are required to be involved in personal evangelism teams).

Each of the student ministries on campus had a booth to display their ministry, with representatives present recruiting students. The station manager for KTBC (TBC's radio station), was broadcasting at the fair to recruit DJ's for the radio ministry. There were also booths set up for ministries from CSSA (Christian Students for Social Action) to Missions Outreach to Inner-City Outreach.

The concession stand sold popcorn, and Family Fellowship gave away free coffee which contributed to the "fair" atmosphere. Every student who attended with an open heart found the ministry opportunity that they felt God could use them in most.

The Fall 1993 Missions Convention began with U-Turn, a Teen Challenge ministry from Pennsylvania, whose skits and testimonies entertained and challenged the student body. The week continued with chapel sermons delivered by Dr. Delmar Kingsriter and Rev. Richard Nicholson.

Kingsriter, former leader of Muslim Ministries, lives in Minneapolis but travels worldwide giving seminars on how to minister to Muslims.

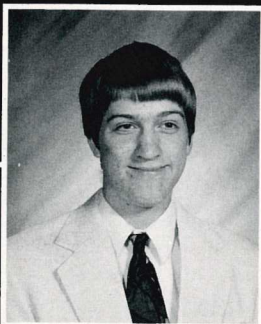

Reverend Nicholson and his wife Cynthia, long-time missionaries to Cuba and Central America, were also an integral part of the convention.

This year's mission convention caused a lot of soul-searching among the entire populace of Trinity leading to a number of life-changing decisions. It was a good spiritual kick-off to the fall semester.

The Teen Challenge Training Center is America's largest and most successful drug and alcohol rehabilitation program. The Training Center began with eight men in a farmhouse on a dairy farm in Rehrersburg, Pennsylvania, thirty-five miles east of Harrisburg. From the humble beginnings in that small farm house, the Center has grown to 300 students.

The Teen Challenge Training Center works with men who have had life controlling problems with drugs, alcohol, or crime. It introduces them to a rehabilitative process wherein they are able to learn to function as productive members of society. Applying Christian principles, moral standards, and instruction in responsibility towards family and society helps to produce a good start toward legitimate vocation. The program is widely recognized as a total cure for the whole man.

Through Christ, Teen Challenge is succeeding in their goal to turn their students from their abusive cycles into useful Christians who make solid contributions to the home, the church, and our communities. Trinity Bible College was privileged to host U-Turn, a drama team representing this excellent ministry during our Fall 1993 Missions Convention. Our student body was deeply moved and touched by the testimonies of these changed lives who have turned their backs on the things of this world and have set their eyes on the eternal goal of everlasting life with the Father.

How can we reach high school students who are hurting and spiritually hungry, since ministers are often not allowed on campus? This is the question that birthed the vision of "See You at the Pole."

"Every school campus has a flagpole to fly the American flag", someone said, "Why don't we suggest that the students meet around it and devote a brief time to praying for the campus?" There were questions about the legality of this and if students would participate, but then someone suggested a name for the event — "See You at the Pole" — an idea that could work only if students were willing to take the lead.

Out of that first "See You at the Pole" came students who continued to meet in prayer groups throughout the school year. Some students organized on-campus Bible study groups. Others had immediate opportunities to share the Gospel when friends asked about what they were doing at the flagpole that morning. God was answering the prayers of thousands of faithful young people.

In Habakkuk 2:3, God promised that the vision He gave would "hasten toward the goal and it would not fail." We are seeing God work toward His goal of reaching every student with the Gospel. God is impacting our campuses with His presence. The prayers of our young people — the missionaries to the neglected mission fields of our nation — are making a difference.

When we think of our TBC faculty, we sense a deep respect for them and the countless hours they spend preparing lectures, teaching classes and grading tests, quizzes and papers. However, we aren't always aware of the spiritual hours they put in for us. Faculty Prayer is an integral part of a professor's job, and they do it wholeheartedly. Dr. Wade Cogan had this to say about Faculty Prayer:

Every other week, on Thursday afternoon, the faculty gather in the chapel to pray. After needs are shared with the faculty, the group can be seen moving to various locations in the chapel to pray individually and spend time alone with God. This is an informal time set aside to pray for the needs of the college. At different times we pray for the students, administration and one another. Just before 5:00 p.m., we all gather at the front of the chapel and pray as a combined group for the college and students. There have been a number of answers to our prayers through the years."

The Athletic Department of Trinity Bible College is involved in more than just athletic contests. We must constantly strive for that which is eternal.

The theme of the Athletic Chapel for Fall of 1993 was "Why Athletics?" As members of the various athletic teams shared skits, songs, and testimonies, the message came through loud and clear, "there is a world that needs Jesus". Whether that is to hear the salvation message, a deed done in His name, or simply a word can go where otherwise it may never be heard.

Why Athletics?

It is a way to go. A way to become involved in the lives of people who may never hear unless an individual within the athletic arena would share the message.

It is the way to go. By being involved in athletics the athletes subject themselves for athletic competition. Those attributes should serve the Christian athlete well throughout the rest of their lives as they face the challenges of the "real world" where it really is life and death.

For those committed to the cause of Christ and having presented themselves as a living sacrifice, the athletic way is indeed a marvelous way to go.

This year Trinity has gained five new faculty members from around the United States and the world. They have filled gaps for much needed positions and have taken on jobs that were never expected, but each has given a fresh insight to the campus. Here is background on each of them:

Before coming to Trinity, Bro. Neil Chadwick served as a pastor in New Jersey. He came to Trinity "at the urging of friends", and through his teaching he hopes to emphasize "accepting personal responsibility for one's own development." Bro. Chadwick also hopes to help students "acquire an understanding of the Bible and theology which can be easily adapted to realistic ministry settings."

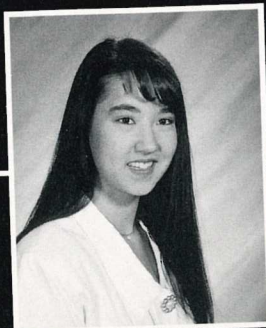

Bro. John Morar came to Trinity from teaching at Bethel Bible College in Manila, Philippines. He arrived through a choice given him by the Division of Foreign Missions. While here Bro. Morar hopes to "foster a greater desire to follow Christ to the ends of the earth and the ultimate goal of a Holy Ghost revival on our campus." Due to illness Bro. Morar was not able to stay at Trinity for the whole year, but the effects of his ministry are still felt.

Bro. Dennis Fledderjohann has had a variety of occupations, but his latest job was as a writer and curriculum designer for "Leadership Resources" in Illinois. He also worked as an instructor at Moody Bible Institute. Bro. Fledderjohann came to TBC as he was "seeking God to enter full-time into the academic teaching profession." One of Bro. Fledderjohann's goals is to help students grow in the truth.

Bro. Denis Vinyard came to us after working as an editor of a Greek/English dictionary that was part of a sixteen volume reference work. He has a "heart for discipling people and promoting unity in the Body [of Christ]". Bro. Vinyard was educated in counseling, has experience in this area, and has a "desire to use the gifts related to this field." As the new Dean of Students, Vinyard counsels groups and individuals, and also just "rooms the campus in an attempt to meet as many students as possible."

Bro. Jim Roane came to Trinity with over twenty years of ministry experience as a missionary, and also as Executive Director of Teen Challenge in Washington state, Idaho, and Southern California. Bro. Roane says that he wishes to have the opportunity to "influence the future of youth through teaching." His goal for his time at Trinity is to help students recognize their purpose in life, which is "to be made in the image of God."

We are thankful for all of our new faculty and look forward to the teachings, counseling, and friendship that they will give to us.

Coach Godding has been a member of the TBC faculty for two years, and has also been head coach of the mens football team. We asked Coach Godding to answer questions about football as a ministry and how it builds Godly character:

Q: How do you feel football prepares for the ministry?

Coach: There is a tremendous carryover value from athletics to ministry. The team is a microcosm where emotions are brought out. Athletics doesn't build character, it reveals it. The good things we continue to build up, the bad we allow the Holy Spirit to work on. The fruits of the Spirit should be shown.

Q: What are characteristics that you try to instill in your players?

Coach: Romans 8:29, "For those God foreknew He also predestined to be conformed to the likeness of His Son, that He might be the firstborn among many brothers." To be Christ-like is not to become a little like Christ, but to allow Christ to live through you.

As the season came to an end it was easy to see that the men on TBC's football team learned more about themselves, about ministry, and about discipline . . . lessons that they will never forget.

Every year during Alumni Days, Trinity also has its annual Homecoming games. This year both games were on Saturday, October 16th. The women's volleyball team played the Jamestown Jimmies, and the football team played the Marauders from the University of Mary. School spirit was high with a new edition to Homecoming-Spirit Week. This year the week went as follows:

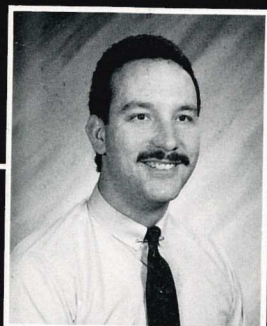

Mon. Banner Day
 Tues. Weird Tie Day
 Wed. Bible Character Day
 Thurs. Dress-Up Day
 Fri. Blue & Gold Day

Every person that dressed according to the day received one Lion Paw, and the class with the most Paws won. This year's winners were the sophomore class. Another new edition to Homecoming was "Spirit Pictures". The "Spirit Pictures" were paintings of a football player and a cheerleader with the faces cut out so customers could place their own picturesque mugs in place. This year's Homecoming games and the events were exciting and fun, thanks to all the hard work of the cheerleaders and the players!

Alumni Days '93

During the third week in October, Trinity played host to dozens of alumni. Besides the many reunions of people who had attended the school over the years, it was a chance for the Troubadours to get together again. (The Troubadours were a ministry group that traveled around the USA, singing and giving testimonies at churches along the way.) They performed in the Sunday morning service, amazing all congregants at how well-tuned they were after all these years. Alumni week was highlighted by several mid-week services, featuring Bob Garrison, former Bible instructor and head of the Troubadour groups for many years.

The Alumnus of the Year was Floyd Beckstrand, who was a member of the second graduating class back when TBC was Lakewood Park Bible School. He has been involved in pastoring home missions churches for decades. His sermon in Friday's chapel encouraged all the students. Floyd's life is a testimony that God never deserts us; He will be involved in every aspect of our ministries.

Servant's Heart has been an exciting experience for us this year. Ministering is something we all enjoy. The opportunities to touch lives are endless.

This year, since our group is small, we've developed a close family feel. We travel every other weekend to churches within the North Dakota/Minnesota area. Then, for May Tour we have a three week, three state tour. Traveling together on a frequent basis, we get to know one another well. It can lend to some interesting situations too, like the time the girls had a shirt and tie all picked out for Dave before he even had a chance to look for one on his own. And we'll never forget the time Kim high-beamed a cop and got a warning ticket.

A traveling team takes a lot of time, patience and commitment, but it is worth it. It develops character and gives you an abundance of ministry opportunities. We wouldn't have missed it for the world.

Inner-City Ministries had the opportunity to go to Minneapolis, MN over fall break. We went to help Pastors Chris and Monica DeLaurentes with their grand opening of the Inner-City Church of Minneapolis located on Franklin Ave.

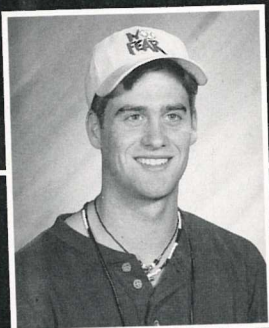

The day before the grand opening we drove around handing out flyers and ministering in parks. We were able to help clean out Franklin Theater which was once a pornography theater. We hauled chairs, swept and scrubbed floors, cleaned bathrooms and walls.

Sunday morning the grand opening saw over 250 people, including members of the occult and gang members. Included in the congregation were fellow TBC students who came with former Inner-City Ministries leader, Tex Kraig. We ministered in a skit and prayed with at least thirteen people at the altar to receive Jesus Christ as their personal Savior. Praise God! These trips are very encouraging and life-changing for us and the people we are able to minister to. We are able to go out and experience ministry firsthand, which is what Trinity is all about.

Every semester Trinity Bible College invites the United Blood Drive from Fargo. Students freely schedule a time in their busy school schedules to give blood. This goodwill of our students helps area hospitals and people in need. Even though we reach to excel in our faith, in speech class, in our knowledge of Greek, we earnestly give pints of blood. May we excel in our grace of giving and be that person who can make a difference.

"If Liberty Were to See"

If Liberty were to wake and
see,
this land from sea to shining
sea,
I'm sure she'd be ashamed of
me—
If Liberty were to see:

If Liberty were to wake and find this land of men who once were kind,
She'd be ashamed of all mankind,
If Liberty were to see.

If Liberty were to wake she'd frown,
And cast down her golden crown,
She'd be embarrassed as you can see—
If Liberty were to see.

"Oh, Land of the beautiful!
Home of the Free!
I see what you have done to
me!
I once looked upon you with eyes of care
But now I see a wealth of despair.

"Ah, America, I now understand,
And I no longer will hold out my hand
To all mankind who long to be free,
For all you've done is betray
me."

If Liberty were to wake and
see,
This land from sea to shining
sea,
I'm sure she'd be ashamed of
me,
If Liberty were to see.

The United States of America, with Old Glory and Miss Liberty standing strong as reminders, was first founded as "One Nation Under God", but today however, we are "One Nation Under ... What?" In October the Junior Class had the privilege of ministering during chapel. Through various skits, musical "One Nation Under ... What?" was conveyed. In light of our crumbling society, it's economic deterioration, and weakening morality, the challenge of praying for our nation and its leaders was presented to the student body. The hour ended in a time of fervent prayer for our beloved country.

The purpose for Big Brother/Big Sister ministries is to be a Christian role model for children who may not have anyone to look to as a pattern for Christian living. Each member is matched up with a child with similar interests, and then meets with that child for a minimum of one hour per week. During that time a friendship is being built while doing fun activities and talking.

I really enjoy my time with my little sister. It's a time of getting to know her and a fun break from academics. Jesus tells us to reach out to others, and this ministry is one of putting God's love into action.

Despite injuries and illnesses, the Cross Country Team had a rather successful season. We accomplished most goals we set, but came up short on a few others. Mark Zweifel also received the NCAA Wheeler Award for academics, leadership, spiritual life and athletics. One of Trinity's most effective ministries is drama. Each year the Department of Fine Arts selects two separate teams of six students each to travel in the midwestern area and minister.

One of these students is Jason Arechigo. When asked how drama has affected his life, he had this to say:

"Six semesters on a traveling team can dramatically develop a person. Many wonderful things can take place when six college people and an advisor go out to minister. A very crucial part of ministering is keeping attitudes and thoughts towards others pure. I have learned to confront and clean up my own prejudices time and time again. In addition, I have realized the importance academics plays in the ministry. A person must learn to effectively communicate the Gospel if he wants it communicated effectively. Some of the greatest experiences I have had have been helping people and answering their questions. One of my favorite aspects of the ministry is sharing in the wealth of wisdom each pastor possesses. Most of these men have been to college and in the time we have, they share their successes and failures. All in all, I've learned more about Jesus while in the ministry."

Many times when we see masks we immediately think of drama and moving performances by skilled actors. People who are endowed with talent to portray something they are not, to veil their true selves in order to please the public eye. But in the Fine Arts Department of Trinity, drama is quite the opposite of the normal definition. Drama is seen as a ministry, to encourage people to put away their masks of everyday life, to throw away the veiled images and to accept the liberty given free to all through the death and resurrection of Christ. In spreading the Gospel, drama is used as a tool to provoke thought, not merely to please, to somehow recreate a scene of Christ's death and love for sinners, not to glorify men. Drama is truly a method that will be used for many generations to come to tell of the risen Savior we have, and to tell countless millions that love wears no mask.

Once a month, a Friday evening is reserved for a special praise and worship service. Led by Dr. Sharon Carbaugh and either Denis Vinyard or Dan Kuno, many students attend the evening chapel service for up to two hours, worshipping the Lord in a variety of ways. The voluntary service began three years ago with about 50 people and have been growing in attendance ever since, with 200 showing up this year. Many linger after the services for personal reflection or worship.

There is an emphasis on employing the seven Biblical types of worship. These are raising hands, the sacrifice of praise, dancing, instrumental worship, singing in the Spirit, shouting, kneeling and lying prostrate before the Lord. All in all, it's a very intimate time of corporate worship.

In November the sophomore class held its first chapel service of the year. We wanted to minister inwardly toward the body of Christ here at Trinity. Our goal was to bring the school, as a whole, closer. Therefore, we chose for our theme, "Unity."

The worship, skits, and the sermon were all centered on unification. Many students were edified by the powerful messages portrayed throughout the service. Our hope is that students will reflect on the importance of unity, not just for one day, but throughout the whole year.

Kesler open dorms: the one night throughout the school year in which every dorm room in Kesler Hall is at its very best (the beds are made, the floor is vacuumed, the windows are cleaned and/or decorated, the desks are cleared, and the fragrance of air freshener filled every quarter; even a jovial attitude was found in everyone's heart). Far from the usual chaos, far from the usual aroma, far from the usual eyesore, this is Kesler Hall's open dorms. The night in which the doors, that usually display a stern warning for all ladies to stay out, are opened. The night in which ladies of Liechty, Davidson, and yes, even some of the faculty were allowed into the confines of the one and only Kesler Hall. The Hall is known for its crazy, funny, smart and Jesus following occupants. Known for their walks with God, sense of humor, and even known as great cooks (who could ever forget those wonderful brownies?), the men of Kesler opened their dorm rooms to every curious eye.

Taking a trip through the Liechty ladies' open dorm started notably. The ladies on first floor decided to illustrate their favorite Christmas songs starting with "Frosty the Snowman" and ending with "The Little Drummer Boy".

The trip became cooler as the visitors traveled through the frozen wasteland of the North Pole on second floor. There were Eskimo kisses and polar bears in snowstorms to be seen (or not seen, as the case may be).

The journey continued and warmed up considerably when the visitors left the frozen territory of the North for the warmth of Christmas in Hawaii, the theme of third floor. There was popcorn sand, fish in the sea, the wonderful aroma of coconuts and fresh pina colodas. All in all, open dorms at Liechty started off on a good note and ended up at a great place.

Brother Ray Trask, the former President of TBC, returned with his wife, Marge, in the fall semester to say their formal goodbye to the faculty, staff and students. The Trasks are currently pastoring in Painesville, MN and have recently become grandparents of Isaac, the son of Lettie Beth and Rick Applegate, Bro. Trask's daughter and son-in-law.

Ray Trask will be remembered as a man with a passion for prayer and missions. Marge Trask will be remembered for her love of the students and willingness to help. We at Trinity Bible College bid the Trasks a fond and heartfelt farewell. We pray that God blesses the Trasks as they go in His service.

Compromise: Something we rarely admit to, but often live out. For this Senior class chapel, the focus was on how to use the Word of God as a measuring rule to ensure no compromise in our lives. Brother McRoberts brought forth a message from the Word that challenged the student body to do nothing which would separate us from our relationship with the Creator. The skits made us laugh, but also caused us to think about how we spend our recreational time, and how much of the world we have let into our lives and the church.

The 1993-94 Men's basketball team represented Trinity while traveling all over the Midwest region. The men displayed team-work in fine fashion even though the team consisted mostly of first and second year players. They were able to hold their own against teams with more experience. Trinity fans were always guaranteed a night of excitement whenever the Lions would defend and take it to the hoop on our own home court.

A guy in an afro, guys who wished they were in the Mafia, cowgirls, people who wanted to sport the look of a West Coast Gangster, car accident victims, Midwest Beauty Queens, and a guy, who for some strange reason, put shoe polish all over his face; it could only be the Midnight Breakfast. A masquerade banquet in the snow, filled with eggs, sausage, O.J. and people getting arrested for various personality traits. Arrested, confined, jailed to the corner of the cafeteria until they came up with the cash for bail or acted out certain requests from the audience. Who could ever forget Dave Riley's gorilla walk, Mike Wells' pose down, Pres. Tvedt's rendition of Rockin' Robin (tweet, tweet, tweet!)? We never will.

The yearly (or should I say semesterly?) tradition goes on. Every semester during finals week, usually on Thursday night, the student body invades the cafeteria in strange attire while the faculty and staff lend themselves to menial grunt work: cooking us breakfast at midnight. This tradition was started many, many years ago in a cafeteria far, far away. Our ancestral Trinitarians came dressed as cavemen, Elvis Presley, or primitive beings from another planet. We carry on in like tradition by coming as football players, Elvis Presley, and gangsters. Between the scrambled eggs and brains, this evening etches a memory into the soul that will remain in the corner of our minds forever. It also gives us heartburn, but that's ok. Maybe someone will come as a giant bottle of Pepto-Bismol this year.

Spring Registration of 1994 won't soon be forgotten. It will be remembered for its elongated lines (that allowed for some students to finish counting the hairs on the back of the head of the person standing in front of them), while others napped during the duration, some even standing upright. The patience and the soles of everyone's feet was tested to the extreme. One must also acknowledge the fact that the registrars had a more trying time than any student. Just ponder the reality that they had to deal with all 333 of us. No matter what side of the table you sat on during registration, remember that patience is a virtue. Whether it's forty years in the desert or forty hours in line, "we know that in all things God works for the good of those that love him ...".

The effect of Sam Rijfkogel's ministry on campus was definitely positive. God used the evangelist's humor and enthusiasm to touch us all. The services were very edifying, as well as inspiring to everyone who attended chapel for Rev. Rijfkogel's three day visit. Every week when we go to the nursing home, our goal is to minister to the residents. These precious people are in poor health and many times don't have a lot of visitors. We want to show them God's love in us and to assure them of eternal life through Jesus.

When we arrive, we go to each room and invite the residents to come to our church service. We begin with prayer, a time of worship, and then someone shares from the Word or a personal testimony. We then close with a song and prayer. After the service, we visit with the elderly residents and build friendships.

My personal favorite part is getting to know their personalities. Some of them make quite humorous remarks!

In the book of James, the author talks about the true meaning of religion: taking care of the widows, orphans and elderly of the church. In Adopt-a-Grandparent, this principle is applied. A student goes to a nursing home, or rest home and chooses an elderly person to come and visit on a regular basis. They build a friendship that will last a lifetime, and an eternity. Many times these precious people are forgotten, but God remembers them, and so do we.

Flashing fingers and swashbuckling signs are a foundational part of Deaf Ministries. Communication with the deaf culture through songs and talking is an integral part of ministry to the deaf. The Sign Language Choir from TBC ministers to the students in chapel and travels to Aberdeen, SD to minister in song at the community deaf service.

Signs of Love, another traveling team, also ministers in chapel and reaches the deaf and hearing communities throughout South Dakota and Minnesota. Jesus himself ministered to the deaf population by opening the ears of a deaf man. Can we who are hearing do no less than to learn their language and minister to them as equals?

The TBC Food Service is under new leadership this year as Rosalee Seely, from ServiceMaster, became the manager of the cafeteria. Many people, from on and off campus students to members of the community are employed by the cafeteria. These diligent workers are from many different walks of life, but are here under one common bond of serving God, and the hungry staff, faculty and students of TBC. All of us would like to say thank you to all who work in the cafeteria — you are appreciated.

The annual Spring Missions Convention came and went quickly, but the effects of it will last a lifetime. Missionary Rick Shell from Cambodia, and Dwight Dobson from Sri Lanka were the speakers for this year's convention. They challenged the students to take the Gospel to the unreached millions. This year's convention was met by an enthusiastic response from the student body. The prayer bands came together to construct booths and banners that corresponded with this year's theme from Acts 16:10, "Come and help us ...". The annual missions parade displayed costumes and flags from various countries of the world that the Gospel has reached. Through it all, the whole campus was encouraged to seek after a deeper walk with Christ, and in His words, "Go ye into all the world ...".

Paul's Vision of the Man of Macedonia

"Paul and his companions traveled throughout the region of Phrygia and Galatia, having been kept by the Holy Spirit from preaching the word in the province of Asia. When they came to the border of Mysia, they tried to enter Bithynia, but the Spirit of Jesus would not allow them to. So they passed by Mysia and went down to Troas. During the night Paul had a vision of a man of Macedonia standing and begging him, 'Come over to Macedonia and help us.' After Paul had seen the vision, we got ready at once to leave for Macedonia, concluding that God had called us to preach the Gospel to them." Acts 16; 6-10

Paul answered the call, will you?

The goal of Prison Ministries is to share the Gospel with people who have been incarcerated. Those who accept Christ while in prison can then spread the Gospel to other inmates. The ministry team goes to state prisons as much as possible, even though distance is a factor. The team has had a chance to go to the State Training School in Plankinton, SD. The team also sponsors various projects like the "Angel Tree", which Christmas presents were donated to families in need. Prison Ministries is a vital part of TBC, and its effects are felt everyday by the lives that they have touched.

Married students and families make up one third of Trinity's student population. Many of these families and couples gave up their stable home-lives to answer the call of God to teach, preach or minister in the business world. They make up an integral part of the school. Like the dorm-dwellers, they are involved in student government, eat in the cafeteria and spend many long hours in the library. There are also special organizations for the families of TBC campus such as Women's Christian Fellowship and the nursery. We commend those who balance family, marriage, work and school. You are a special breed.

The ministry trip to the inner-city of Chicago was a glorious declaration of the Gospel of Jesus Christ on the streets of uptown Chicago. Twenty-four people from Trinity, led by Dave and Brenda Solar, stormed the mission field called the inner-city. Working with pastor Jerry Milliken of New Hope Christian Center and Tim Thomas, the director of City Limits Ministries, the ministry team was challenged to boldly share the Gospel. Talking to the people that others are scared to even look at; telling the drug addict about the hope found in the Lord Jesus Christ, and sharing the wondrous love of God with the homeless, the team experienced witnessing like they never had before. With six to eight hours of witnessing on the streets for three days, there was an abundance of opportunities to (continued next page) talk to the multitudes. Ministry team members experienced the challenge of open air preaching and singing, with and without a P.A. system, the passing out and sharing of tracts and the sharing of the Gospel with everyone that came their way. All of this while an eight foot wooden cross led the way. Many people's lives were touched by the Lord. People wept on the sidewalks as they recommitted their lives to Christ, while others received Him for the first time. The team prayed one on one with different individuals, and corporately prayed with each other right on the streets. It was an experience that they will never forget. The team then traveled to a suburb of Milwaukee, and utilized the Harvest 2000 method of evangelism to share the Gospel message. All in all, the trip was spiritually reviving to everyone's personal walk with the Lord. As someone once said, "To grow in one's faith is to share in one's faith."

—R. Wilcox

The Lord answered prayer, and again opened a door for Trinity students to trust God's principles and promises in Latin America. What a thrill it was to dedicate another Spring Break to do an out-reach in the metropolitan city of Monterrey, Mexico. Our travelling bags were strategically packed on the Dove International bus to accommodate over thirty TBC students. Together we looked out the bus windows and waved goodbye to the snow covered plains. Some 2,000 miles later we were greeted by the warm church we worked at the previous year. It was great to hear of the progress being made by their church planting efforts. The first service we ministered at was held at the (continued on next page) mother church, and that night the Lord refreshed the team and strengthened the church people in a powerful way. Whether in Spanish or English, the following days focused on sharing the message of hope, eternal life and salvation. The Gospel was shared in a drug-infested colony surrounding a house church and a poverty-stricken barrio church on the outskirts of the city. Teamwork made open air preaching, skits, street witnessing and children's crusades possible. The day we departed the King's Castle, where we had stayed, we wished the week would have been longer. Next time, wherever He leads us, may we say again, "Here am I, send me."

—E. Sanchez

Children are some of the most precious gifts that God has given us. We strive to bring them up in the way they should go, we love them, care for them, and want them to have the very best in life. Trinity also has a deep desire to nurture and love children in a Christ-like manner. One of the ways that this desire is implemented is through the Elementary Education program. Future teachers are trained in Biblical Studies and in classroom methods and discipline. They are taught not only how to instruct, but also how to love unconditionally. In this, Christ's command, "Let the little children come to me.", is fulfilled.

But no matter what gender you are, one must admit that a wedding is one of the most special events that someone will ever be a part of. The meaning of "Chi Alpha" in the Greek language is "Christ's Sent Ones". Chi Alpha is a ministry that primarily directs itself to Christian college students on secular campuses. As they are on secular campuses, it is sometimes hard for these groups of Christians to find the encouragement they many times need. That is where Chi Alpha come in to minister. By speaking at their meetings, ministering various ways, or even sponsoring a retreat, our group is able to meet that need for Christian fellowship and encouragement. This year, by sponsoring a successful retreat, we were also able to build a small bridge between TBC and other colleges for the "equipping of the saints".

—B. Agee

Thinking about one's future becomes an extreme priority in the Junior and Senior years of High School. We can all relate to the stress of thinking, "What am I going to do next year?", and hear the constant echo of, "Where am I going to go?" As childhood begins to close its doors, you see that adulthood is waiting to usher you into life. The choices and decisions become vast and various. "I want to do this, I want to do that. I want to go there, but I also want to go over there. But God, please help me, I want to be in the center of your ultimate will." We can all remember those many thoughts and those many prayers.

So, to help the turmoil that is caused by making one of life's most important decisions, Trinity once again opened its doors to graduating high school seniors, and some juniors on April 7-9 to experience college life here at Trinity. High School students from all over the country came to see if Trinity answered those deep questions.

College Days weekend was marked by the expectation and eagerness of hundreds of young people. It was yet another exciting Trinity Bible College Days. Several hundred young people from across the United States and Canada, even a visitor from Brazil, came to visit the campus, and perhaps register for fall semester classes. One of the highlights of College Days is Student Night Alive, or SNA. This is an evening put aside for the many talented people of Trinity to come together and entertain friends and visitors alike.

This year's SNA was earmarked as a farewell to the Youth Ministry band, Josiah's Fire, and the arrival of newcomers, II AM and 3HS. Along with the performances of these three exciting and talented groups, there was an array of skits, mimes and soloists. As usual, the night was entertaining, exciting and surprising.

—R. Condrey

The Student Association of Trinity is an integral part of our campus. The members are elected annually by class and dorm members, and by the student body as a whole. Student Association (SA) is the voice of the campus, and gives students a chance to participate in student government from a Christian perspective. SA Representatives give students a chance to air their opinions, and to implement changes for the college. SA also sponsors special events every semester such as movie night, picnics and bowling nights. SA is one of Trinity's most successful programs for the students, and is met with enthusiastic participation.

—T. Crowe

CSSA, Christian Students for Social Action, is an organization on campus whose mission is to "help each student become a visible, active and positive Christian influence in the community and world in which they live." CSSA also exposes students to current events issues and Biblical ways to deal with them. Through teaching, CSSA helps students explain the Biblical principles to those it ministers to. Some activities that CSSA participates in are picketing the abortion clinic in Fargo, and having guest lecturers share on a variety of subjects.

The athletes and coaches at Trinity were once again recognized at the annual Athletic Banquet. Athletes representing every area of sports competition offered were honored for their hard work, determination and displaying a Christian attitude in their area of sports. Whether they participated on the football field, cross country, basketball, or volleyball courts, our athletes were commended by their peers and coaches.

—R. Wilcox

Adorned in the finest attire, Trinity students from the Junior and Senior class and their respective dates took part in the annual Jr/Sr Banquet. This year's event was blessed with the presence of guest speaker Rev. Charles Worthington. With his southern accent and sense of humor, he kept the audience laughing, but Rev. Worthington truly displayed the sincerity of his heart by delivering a powerful message from the Lord. The evening was an elegant affair, and a pleasant farewell to the Seniors of 1994.

—R. Wilcox

Evangelism is a key ministry of Trinity and the Body of Christ. Teams were sent out to the towns of Jamestown, ND and Aberdeen, SD on Friday and Saturday nights every week of the school year. Brave evangelists trudged through sunshine, wind, rain, and snow to bring the Gospel to a dying world. The Evangelism team also had major impact in Chicago and Milwaukee as members hit the streets for Jesus during the Spring Break trip. Leader, John Bottone, had this to say about the need for Evangelism:

"We need to open our eyes and see that the harvest truly is plentiful, but the laborers are few. We need to look at the multitudes and be wrenched from within, and see that they are like sheep without a shepherd. In Matthew nine, the evangelist draws a picture of lost people as sheep being chased by wild beasts to the point of utter exhaustion. Do you see that people are being chased by the evil one to the point of utter exhaustion? Is your heart breaking for the lost, are you wrenched from within? Open your eyes and see, then Go and preach the Gospel to every creature."

—T. Crowe

Acts 29 Jamestown is a very rare and special ministry at Trinity. Every Wednesday or Thursday a group of caring individuals would climb into a TBC van and travel up to Jamestown, ND to the state psychiatric hospital. Members of the group would visit with patients, play games with them or just talk. A few members were allowed into the Adolescent Ward to befriend the younger patients. This ministry strove to show the love of Christ to those who are broken and in need of a Comforter. This group was extremely successful in doing so, and remains an example to all of us.

Every year Trinity honors its graduation seniors and their parents, family and friends banquet style. This year the banquet was held in the Ray Ulmer Fieldhouse. Food and fellowship alike were shared as TBC bid farewell to the Class of 94.

—T. Crowe

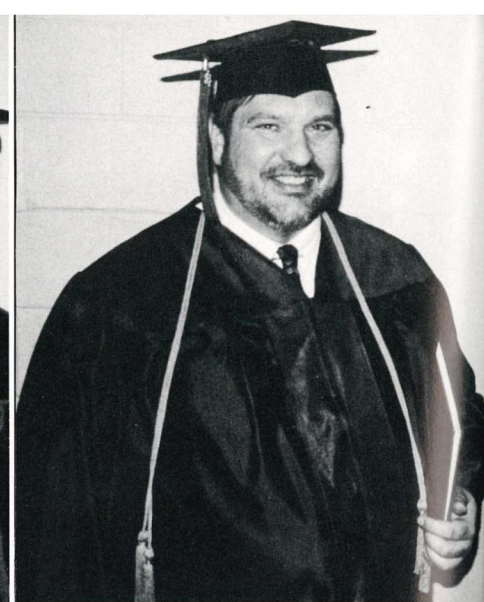

This year's Baccalaureate was accompanied by a late North Dakota blizzard to make this ceremony one that will be emblazoned (or is it frozen) into the minds of the seniors and those who attended for quite some time. Every year the faculty chooses two graduating seniors to speak. These speakers are chosen by their academic achievements, spiritual growth and overall character that best represent the graduating class. The honored seniors this year were Rich Cortese and Sheila Burchill.

—T. Crowe

The last paper has been written, the last page has been read, and the last grade has been earned. Yes, it is graduation day. A day college students everywhere long and strive for. However, graduation here at Trinity is definitely more than just accomplishing the goal of higher education. For many of the graduates, this day was a tremendous step forward: the full-time ministry. This day of graduation gave the world pastors, missionaries, teachers and business men and women whose main call in life is to share the saving message of the Gospel. As this world and our society walk on the edge of destruction, we, this day, sent our men and women of God called by God to proclaim a message of hope and liberty in Christ.

The Dallas Cowboys became only the fifth team to repeat as Super Bowl champions with a 30-13 victory over the Buffalo Bills in Super Bowl XXVIII at the Georgia Dome in Atlanta. The loss extended the Bills' record to four straight Super Bowl losses. Emmitt Smith of the Cowboys won the MVP award.

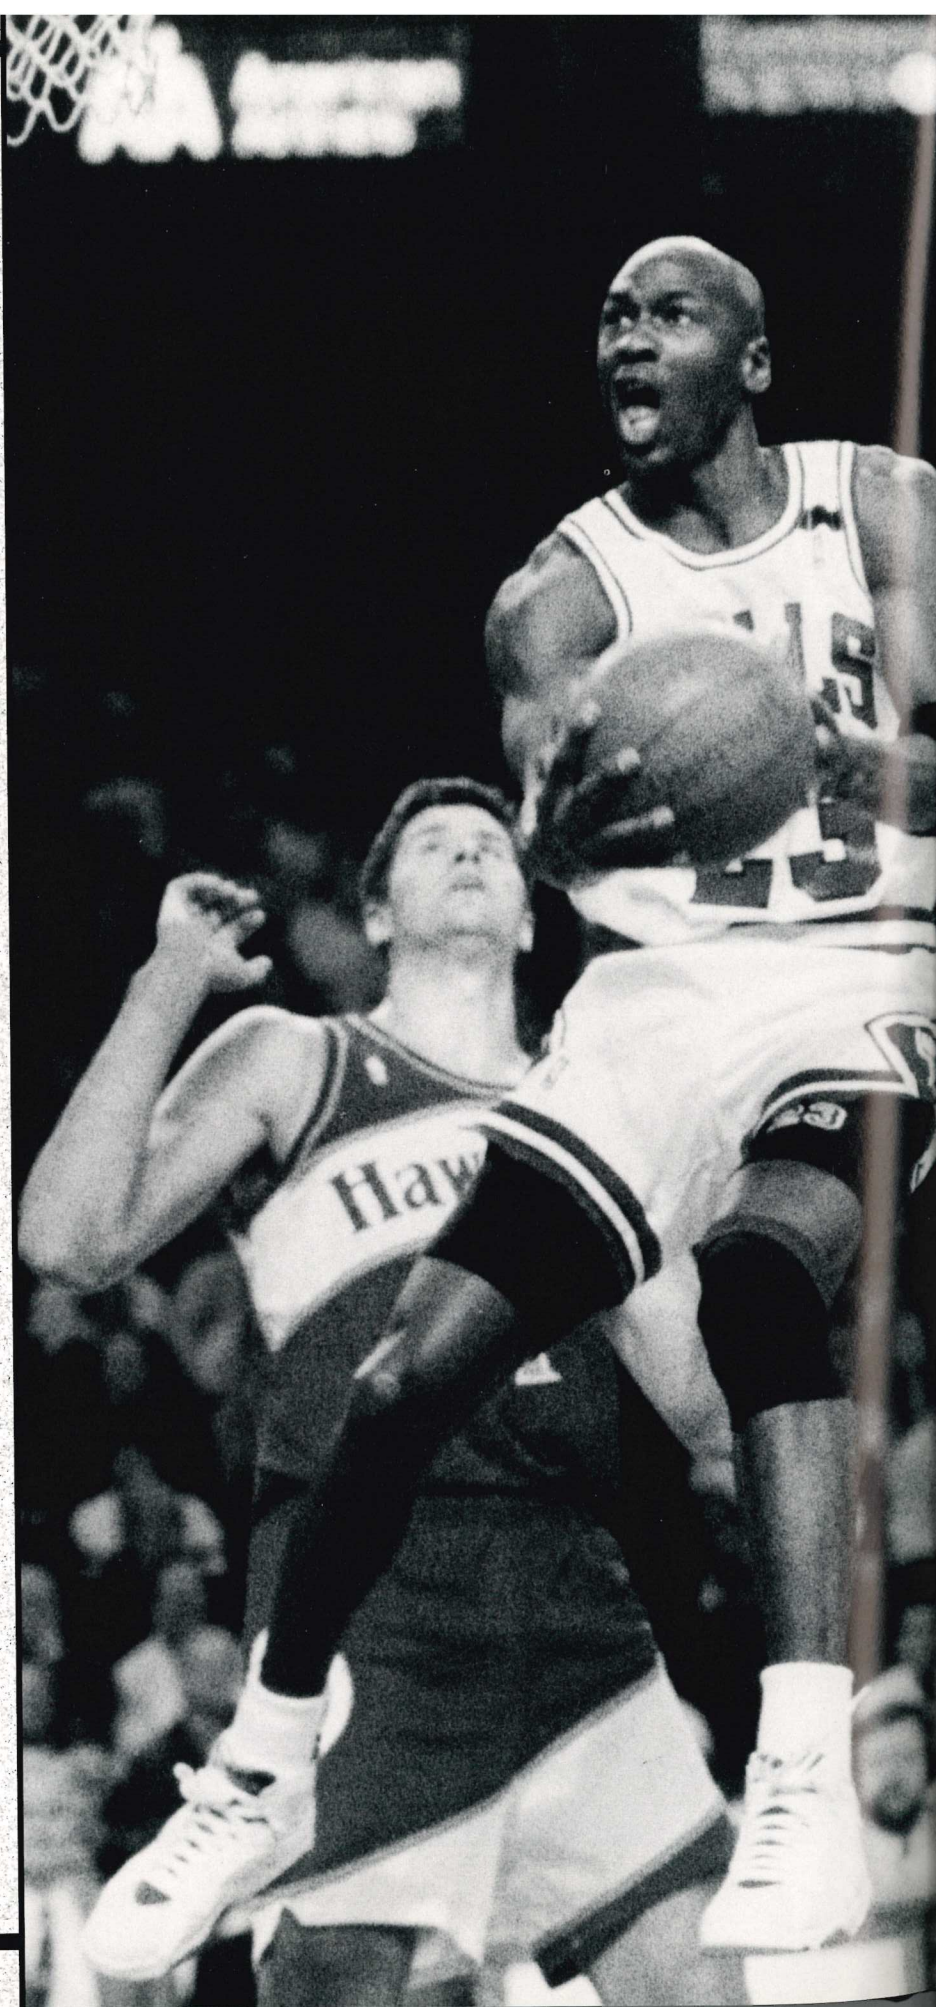

The Toronto Blue Jays won the 1993 World Series. Joe Carter became the second player to end a World Series with a home run, hitting a three-run shot off Mitch Williams in the ninth inning of Game Six that gave the Blue Jays their second straight championship with an 8-6 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies. Toronto became the first repeat World Series champions since the 1978 New York Yankees.

One of the biggest stories of the 1993-1994 basketball season occurred before the first pre-season exhibition game. Michael Jordan, the world's best basketball player and one of its most famous athletes, announced his retirement.

Jordan's retirement came after he had led the Chicago Bulls to three straight National Basketball Association championships, the most recent a victory over the Phoenix Suns in the 1993 finals.

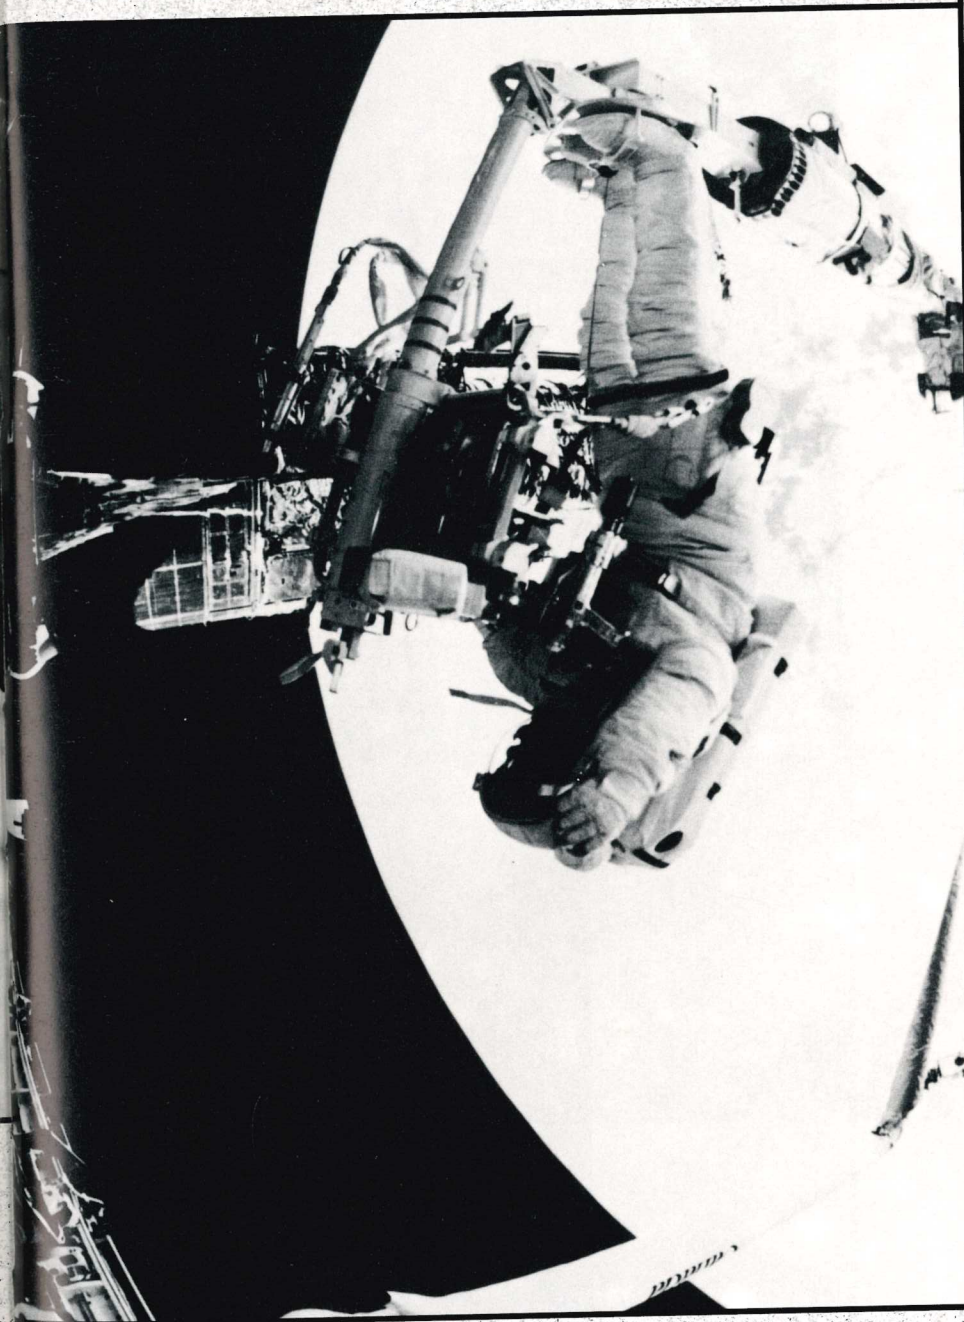

Nancy Kerrigan, who won a bronze medal for figure skating in the 1992 Olympics, was expected to win the national figuring skating title in Detroit in early January. But before she had a chance to compete, she was bashed in the knee by an unidentified assailant. Tonya Harding, who came in fourth at the 1992 Olympics, won the title. Nearly a month later, Tonya Harding's former husband, Jeff Gilloohy, pleaded guilty in the assault case. Miss Harding has consistently denied any role in planning the attack on her competitor. Within two weeks of the attack, Miss Kerrigan was completing her most difficult jumps in practice, and she was on the Olympic team.

Yasser Arafat made history in September when he signed a peace treaty with Israel. The leader of the Palestine Liberation Organization once told a reporter: "I am a freedom fighter. I am sure this is the way that history will remember me." But Arafat is also a politician, going out of his way to kiss babies, shake hands, work the crowds; always showing that he was something more than a guerrilla fighter with a three-day beard.

The 11-member crew of the space shuttle Endeavor had one mission: repair the Hubble Space Telescope. The Hubble was launched in 1990. But defects in its reflective mirrors prevented sharp images of faint stars at the edge of the universe. The Endeavor was launched on December 2 and chased the Hubble for 820,000 miles over two days. The $629 million repair mission was a success.

Floods hit the Midwest in late spring and early summer. Thousands of farms and homes were lost, fields were swamped and towns were submerged. The stage for disaster was set during the winter, when unusually heavy snow fell. There were no midwinter thaws, so the snow melted rapidly as spring arrived, enough to cause scattered record flooding. The states that got hit the hardest were Iowa, Illinois, and Missouri, causing billions of dollars worth of damage. President Clinton signed a $5.7 million aid package to help the victims.

Wildfires swept through Southern California in November. The 26 major fires scorched patches from Ventura County to the Mexican border. Flames consumed a total of 200,000 acres and damaged or destroyed more than 1,000 buildings. Thousands of firefighters from around the state fought the blazes without pause for days. And unpredictable winds whipped the flames from hillside to hillside and house to house.

An Amtrak train hurtled off a bridge into an inky bayou in Saraland, Alabama, early on the morning of September 22, plunging its sleeping passengers into a nightmare of fire, water, and death.

A barge had struck and weakened the bridge shortly before the wreck, which killed 47 people. It was the deadliest wreck in Amtrak's 23-year history. But 159 people survived, and some helped other passengers who clung to wreckage from a collapsed section of the bridge in a swamp crawling with alligators and snakes.

Forty seconds that shook Los Angeles. At 4:31 on Monday morning, January 17, an earthquake registering 6.6 on the Richter Scale jolted residents of Southern California from their sleep. It was not the Big One, but it left at least 55 people dead, brought down major freeways, and destroyed or damaged thousands of homes. The quake caused an estimated $30 billion in damage.

When Kelly asked me to write about the yearbook staff from my own perspective, I felt honored. At first, I was going to tell all about the funny things that happened like Greg's "I-wanna-be-Fonzie" office in the bathroom and the unforgettable dysfunctional toilet, but that just wouldn't do us justice. No, what I really wanted to share is all the fond memories I have. All the times that we counseled each other, made each other laugh and helped one another. We worked well as a team. Yes, there were times that there was friction and tension, but those are inevitable. The important thing is that we worked together for a common goal, and we did it! It took a lot of sweat and sometimes small nervous breakdowns on the couch, but we accomplished our goal. It was quite a year at the office, one that none of us will ever forget. All of us would like to thank everyone who gave their extra time to our madness. Personally, I would like to thank all of those who wrote articles on the side, and Bobby and Diana for saving me from the pit of despair second semester. And to all you fellow journalists out there: May the inkwell of your soul never run dry. Could someone please turn the radio up?

We are serious about both our congratulations and our admonition. You are among the privileged when you are a college graduate. You, and all the people around you who helped make your graduation possible are to be commended. And of course you want to get on with your career, or your advanced degree. But our admonition to get to work is not about your career. It is about your personal commitment.

Every one of us is called whether we are in full time ministry, a secular career, or postgraduate study. So as we offer our heartfelt congratulations we feel duty-bound to remind you of the urgency of the mission before us all. Find your place in God's great harvestfield and fill it.
