MESSANGER

Images In Time

As the school year began, it was destined to be unique. Many things have changed, a new president giving Trinity a different image, a Student Union building providing fun and entertainment for students, and other positive things taking place. It will be interesting to see what God does at Trinity through time. "Images in Time" reflect the lives of Trinity students; being here at Trinity, fulfilling God's will for us, is just one facet of our lives. There will be many other memories after leaving ... things never stay the same.

As you page through the yearbook, you will see many images of people in the beginning stages of ministry: called to be pastors, missionaries, teachers, counselors, businessmen and women. Trinity is one of the first images that will be seen in our lives, and the things learned here will be reflected in the future.

"There is a time for everything, and a season for every activity under heaven: a time to be born and a time to die, a time to plant and a time to uproot, a time to kill and a time to heal, a time to tear down and a time to build, a time to weep and a time to laugh, a time to mourn and a time to dance, a time to scatter stones and a time to gather them, a time to embrace and a time to refrain, a time to search and a time to give up, a time to keep and a time to throw away, a time to tear and a time to mend, a time to be silent and a time to speak, a time to love and a time to hate, a time for war and a time for peace."

Ecclesiastes 3:1-8

--T. Duffy

Quiet Encouragement-A Memoir

She came to us from Columbia Falls, Montana after she was filled with the Holy Spirit and entered Trinity's missions program. She graced our campus for a few years, and exhibited the Christ-like qualities of faith in God, joy in hard times, cheerfulness and hospitality.

This remarkable woman was Diane Barnhart, whose name is perhaps unfamiliar to many of us. Although many of us did not know her personally, we can all learn a lesson from Diane. Because her cancer never went into remission, Diane suffered most of her college career. Yet she remained, in the words of her friend, Lavonne Larson, "So cheerful, friendly ... the sort of person who made you feel good to be around. She had an unwavering faith in the Lord." Judy Cochran also described her as a woman who was strong in faith, a lover of people, "sold out to Jesus," and a true giver. Diane majored in Missions, and after she learned she had breast cancer, added a minor in Office Administration. Her ministries included having a cell group for singles, which met weekly, and she was very involved in Native American ministries.

Diane died this past summer from kidney failure which was a result of the cancer. She always encouraged others in her quiet way, while she dealt with her cancer and strove to fulfill her college requirements despite health setbacks. In April 1995, her family received a Bachelor of Arts degree Honoris Causa in her honor.

May we learn, as she did, to praise God and lift each other up, even during the difficult times.

-M. Ofstedahl

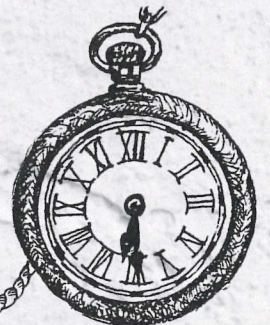

Brother John Morar served as our Missionary In Residence for the fall semester of 1993. However, he was unable to complete the term due to the progression of his cancer, which took his life in the fall of 1994.

While he was here, Bro. Morar taught Personal Evangelism and various missions courses. Before Bro. Morar and his wife Leota became part of Trinity, they were missionaries to the Philippines, teaching Bible and sociology.

"The greatest thing about him was his sense of humor", Dr. Roane reminisced, "He was on top of everything, you never knew you were around a dying man."

Bro. Morar's ministry was great abroad and here at TBC. He will never be forgotten by us or the souls he touched throughout his life. We are sure that his reward is great in the Kingdom.

-B. Coalwell

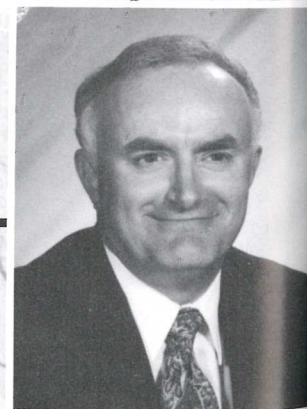

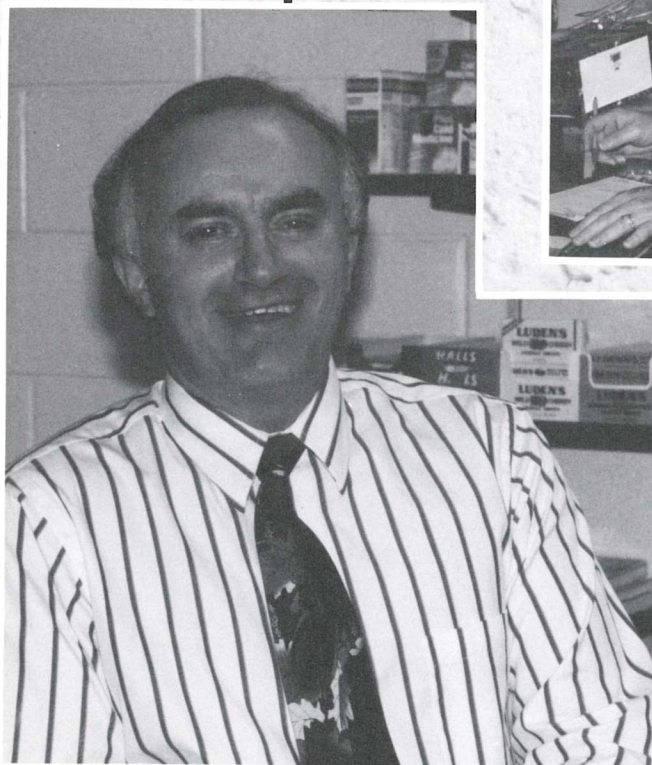

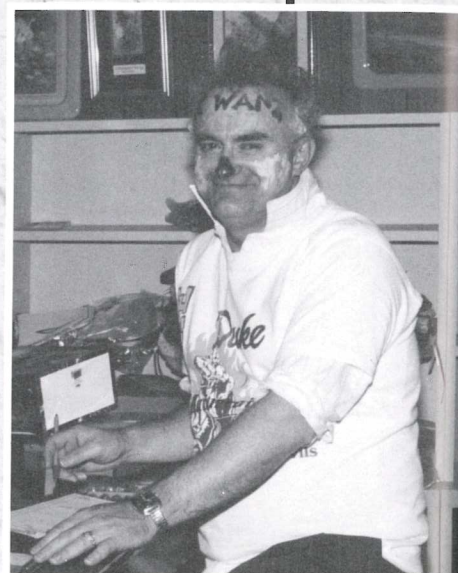

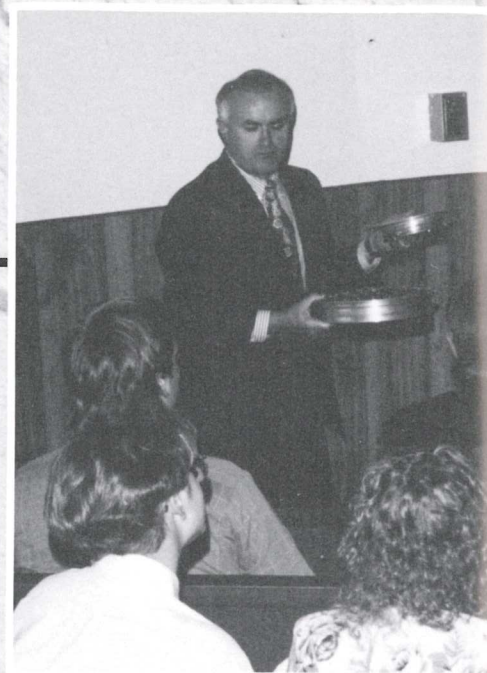

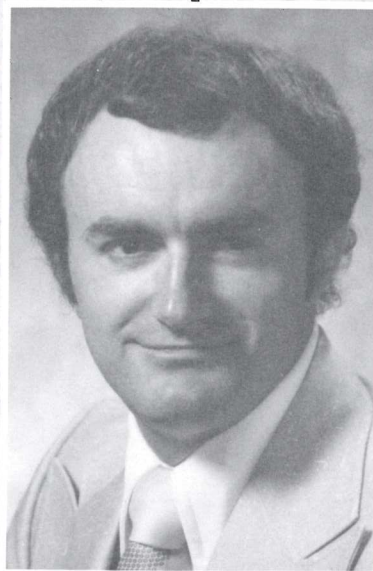

Senior Dedication

The Senior class of 1995, would like to honor a special person by dedicating this year's annual to Leroy Kirschenmann. This year is a milestone in Leroy's life. Nineteen-Ninety-Five marks twenty-five years dedicated to the teaching profession.

While at Trinity, Leroy has taught for twenty-one of those years. His life as a manager, counselor, advisor, and friend has touched literally thousands of lives that have passed through the annals of Trinity Bible College.

Thank you, Leroy, for following the Lord's direction and for accepting the challenge here at Trinity. You have impacted our lives through your teaching, your lifestyle, and most of all your caring and devotion to us as students.

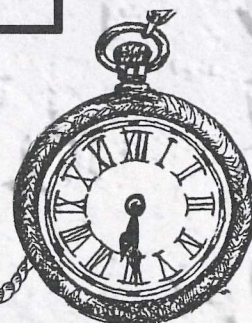

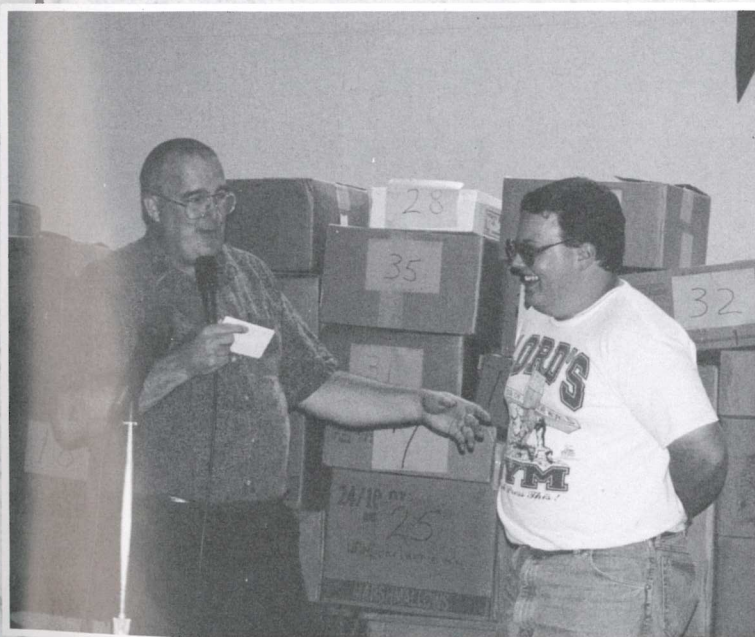

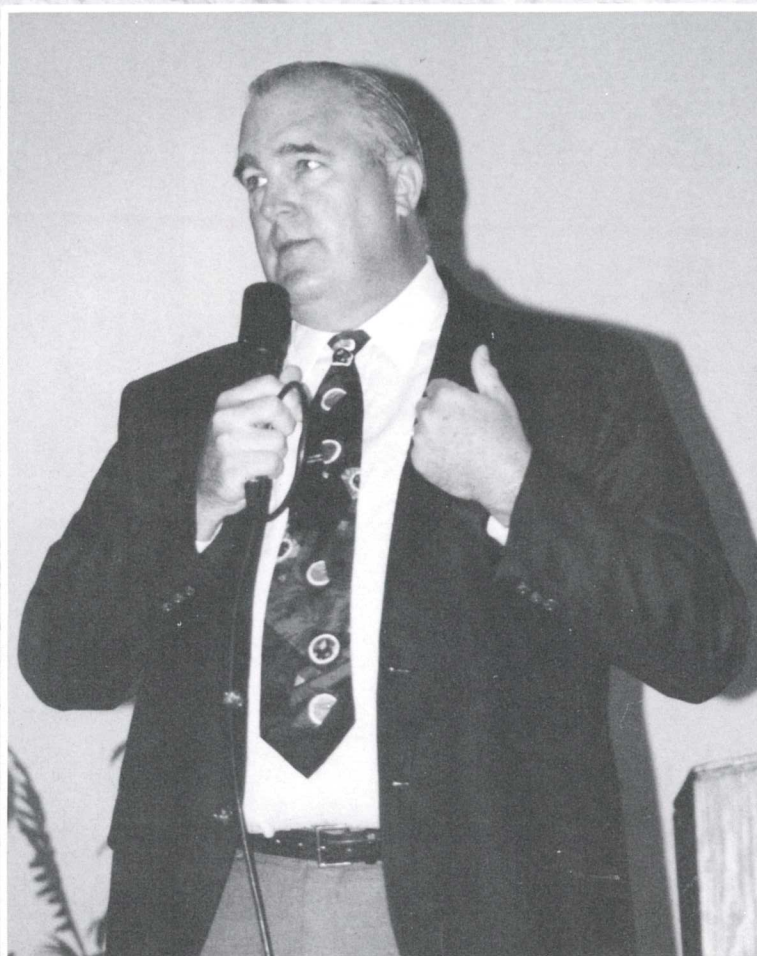

--Michael R. Doran,
Senior Class Treasurer

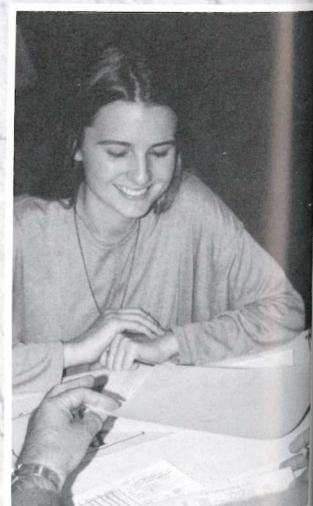

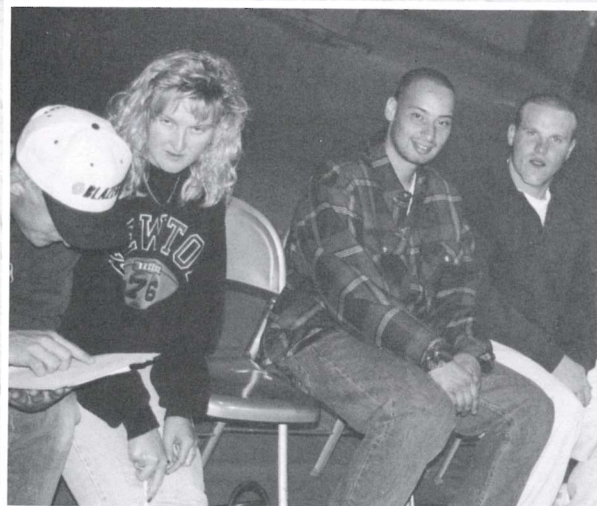

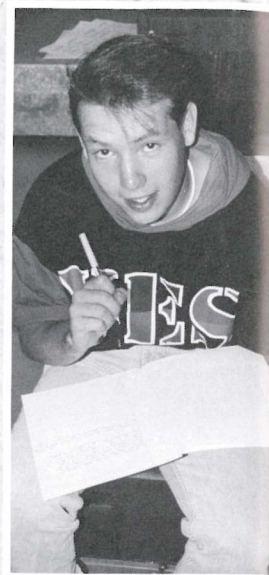

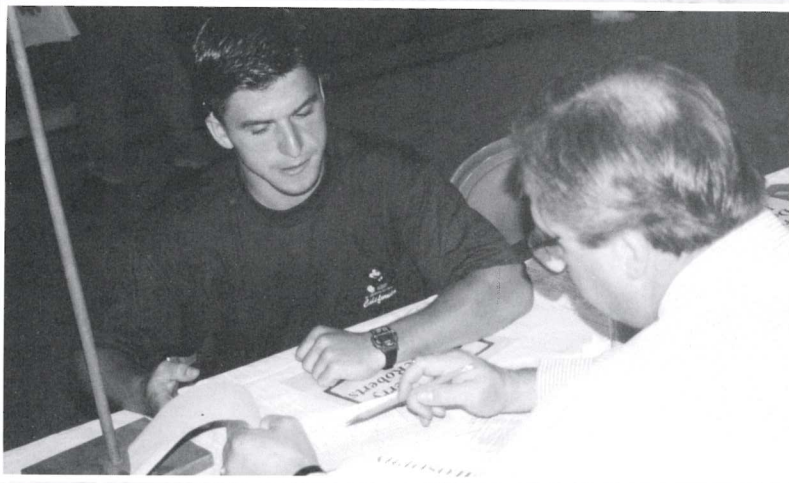

Yearbook Appreciation

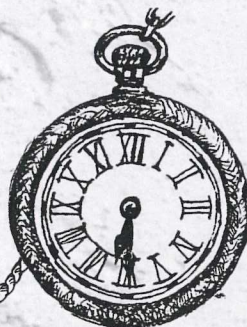

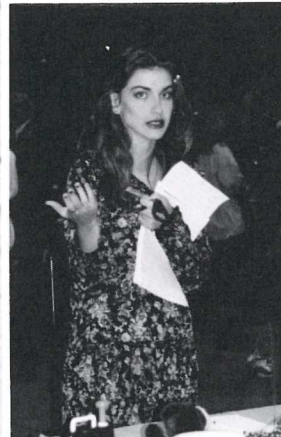

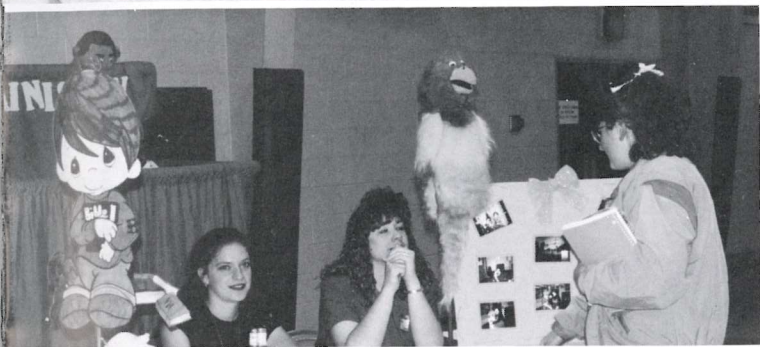

Each year, the Messenger yearbook staff selects someone to whom they extend a special appreciation. This year the decision was unanimous. Who would be a better candidate for the appreciation than the man who tells the world about Trinity? Brother Terry Terrell truly serves Trinity and the Lord Jesus with all his heart. This year he was promoted to the position of Trinity's Vice-President. He has served as Trinity's public relations director and as a professor for a number of years. He has also written several books, and Trinity is honored to have him. Brother Terry Terrell, we truly appreciate you!

 Second: Leichty
 Third: Wings
 Fourth: Kesler

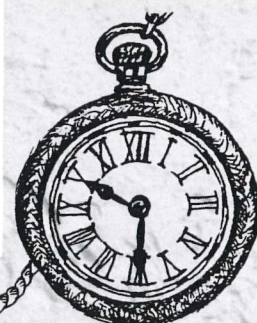

Davidson Hall

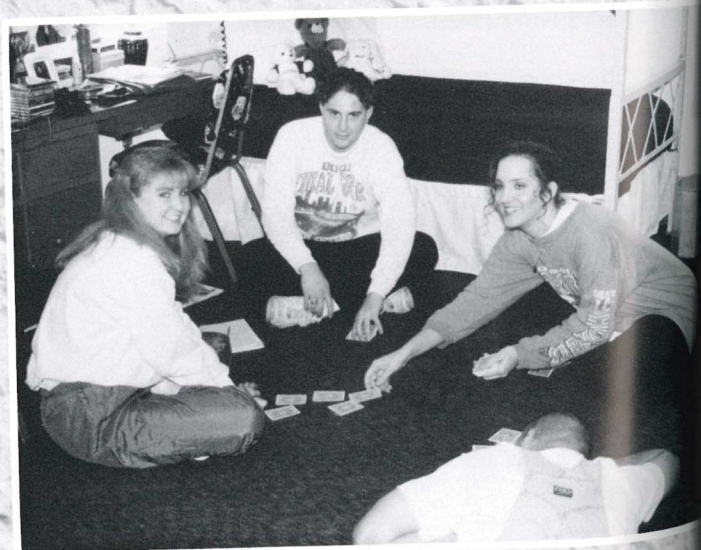

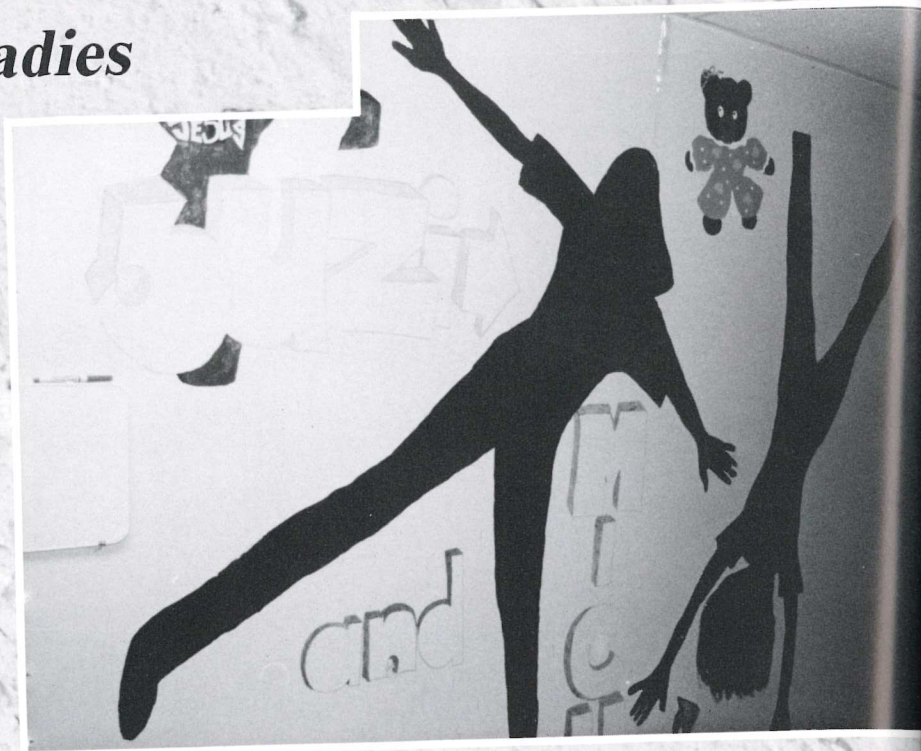

Davidson Hall ... this landmark is quite the experience for incoming freshman. If it's not the occasional squirrel sprinting the halls, it's waking to a cold shower fit only for a penguin. Beyond trial and tribulation, it is a place of growth. No more tearful homesick phone calls, as the ladies have learned to confide and trust in one another. The testing of nerves is obvious in new living arrangements where so many women reside. Patience and perseverance becomes a way of life as they begin to care for each other and see beyond their own needs. The first step of leaving home can prove to be ugly at times, but in the end, strong women are prepared to walk God's path.

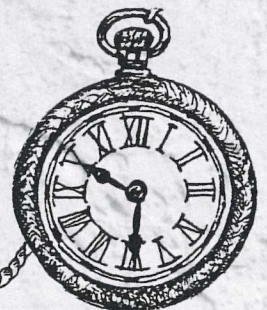

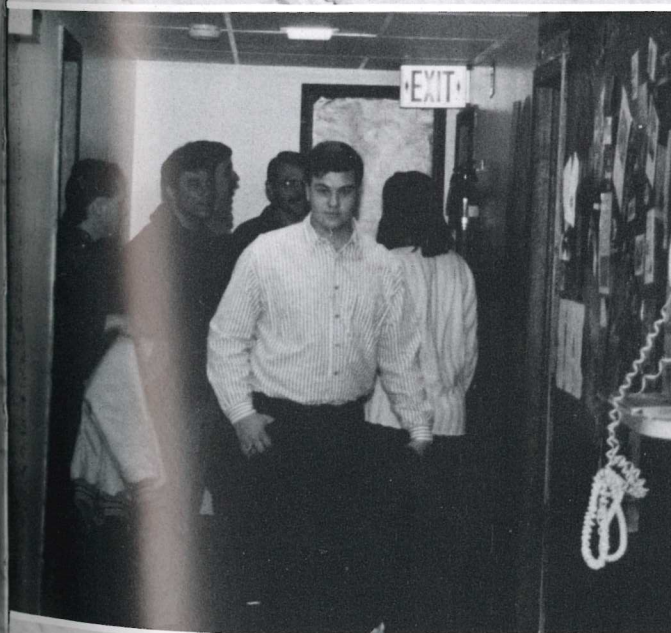

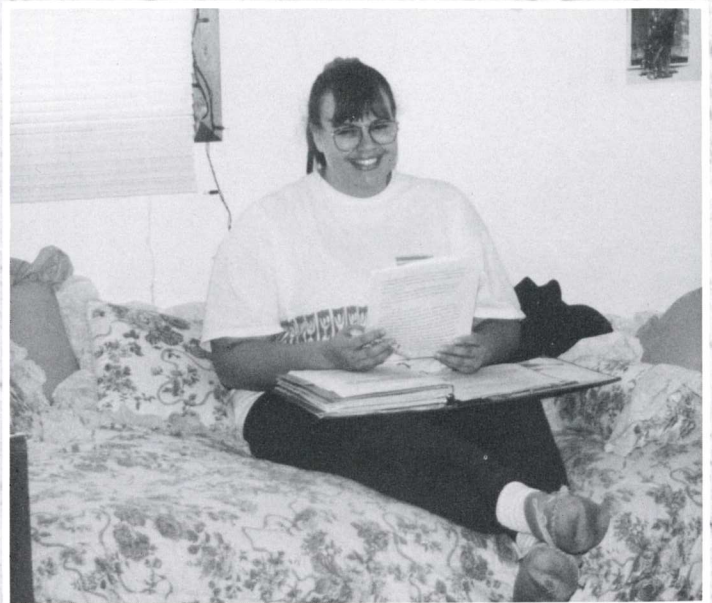

Liechty Ladies

Life in Liechty ... procrastination roams the halls, laughter pinballs from room to room, and late nights are as common here as a cold shower in Davidson. In the midst of all the joy (and sometimes tears), we turn our hearts toward God to reveal His plan for our lives day by day. Liechty Hall portrays a reflection of who we are striving to become: loving, giving, sharing, laughing, understanding, and encouraging ... true women of God.

-B. Coalwell

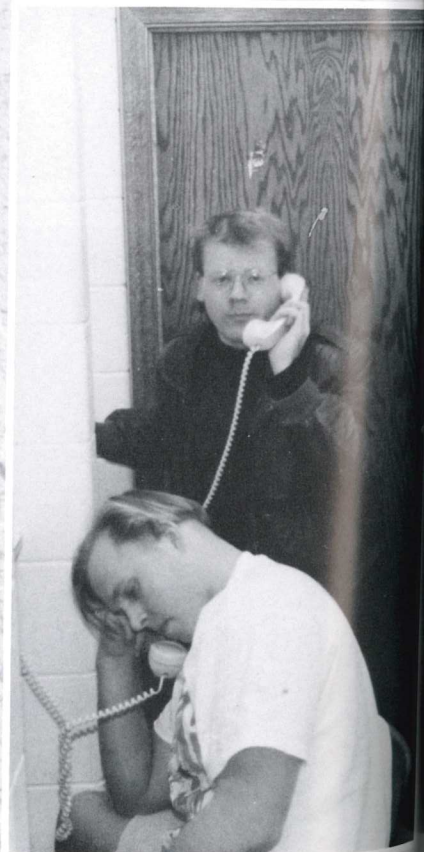

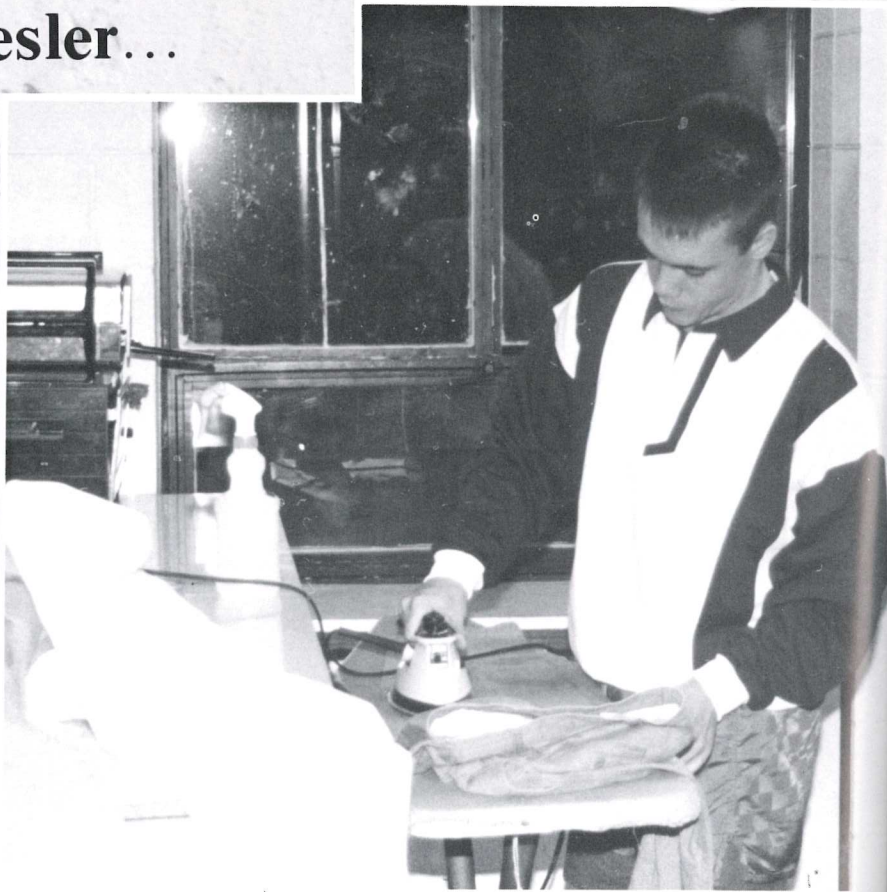

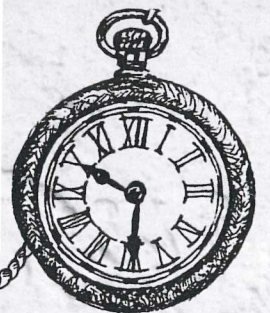

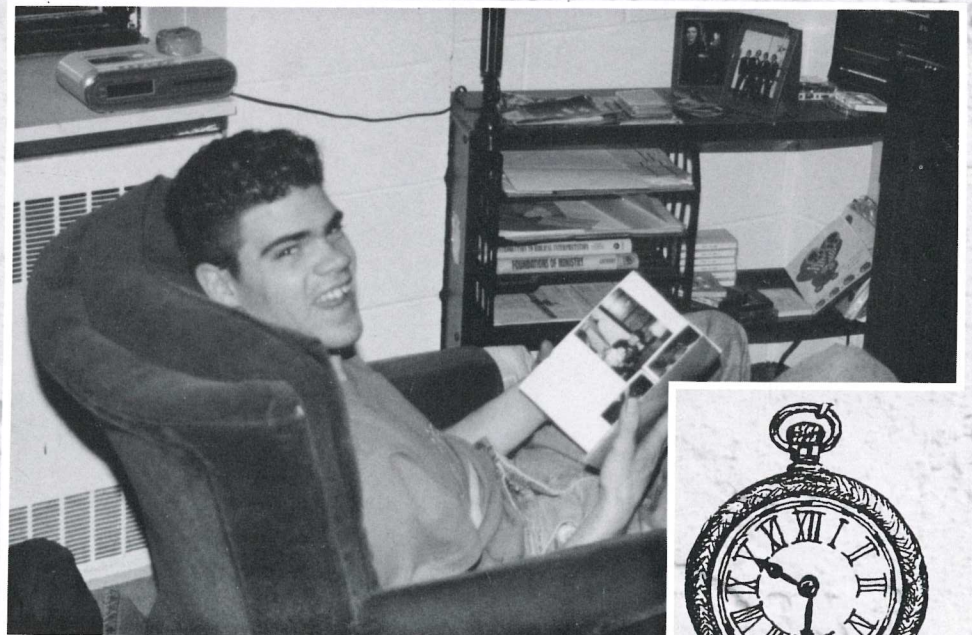

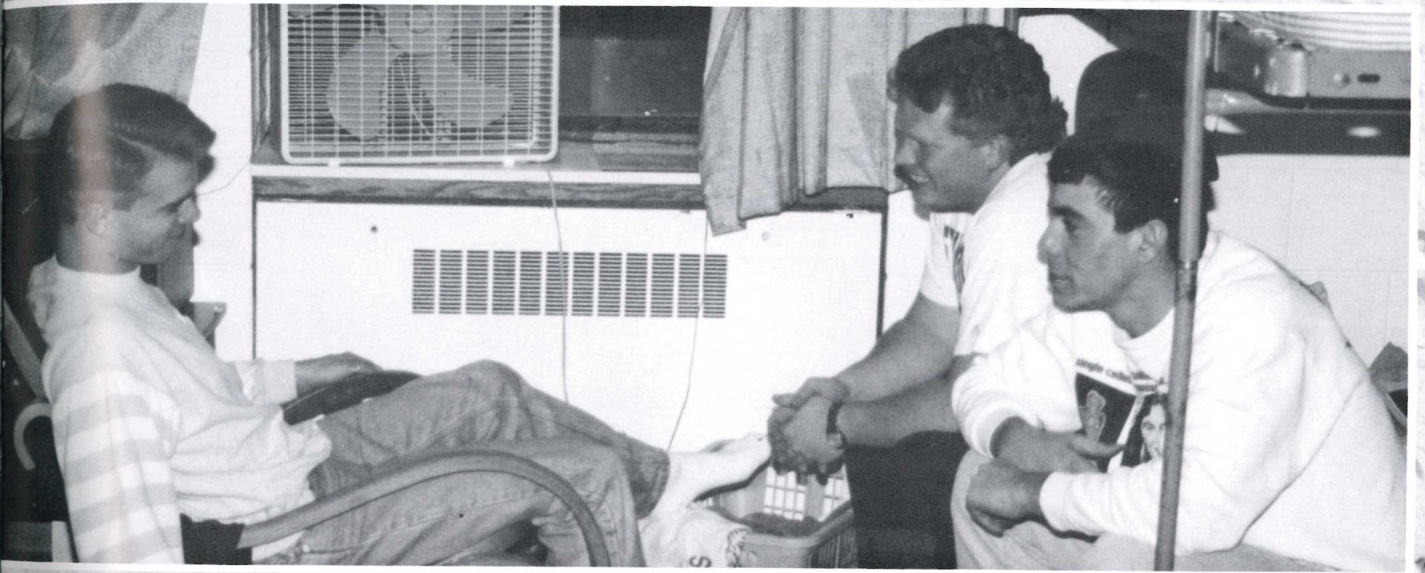

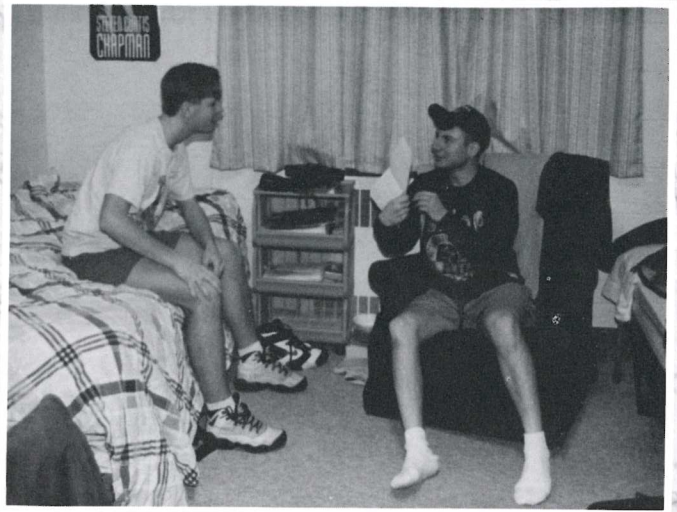

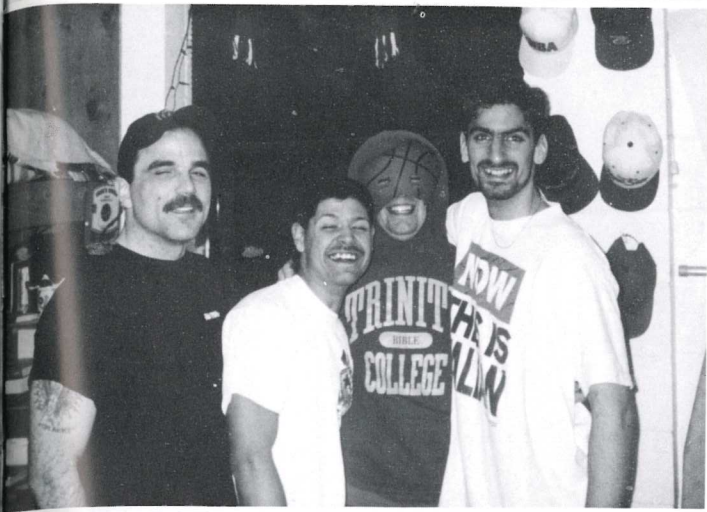

Men Of Kesler...

To traipse the floor of Kesler is an experience. It would leave mothers across America frantic and seized with the urge to declare war on floors plushly carpeted with last months attire. Yet once mucked through and inhabitants exhumed from the carnage, a unique group of men is discovered.

Oh, they look, sound, feel, and maybe even smell normal, but the way they live is not so normal ... as evidenced by their surroundings. Their doors become want ads desiring new souls for the kingdom, their walls showcase Christian athletes, musicians, and sayings ... their shelves filled with God's scripts and insights to such. Even their beds are different ... dubbed "the Word" (in case a student oversleeps and needs a righteous excuse to make up a test ... "I was in ... the Word!").

When constructed, Kesler Hall was just a jumble of wood and nails ... neatly packaged in brick. Most likely, its constructor eyed it as merely a "hotel" for students. Little did he know Kesler would become a home to many a man born of the Spirit ... an altar of sorts. It invites each student to revere their Maker as they may. One can experience Kesler either as their personal romper room, or opt to enter into the holy of holies.

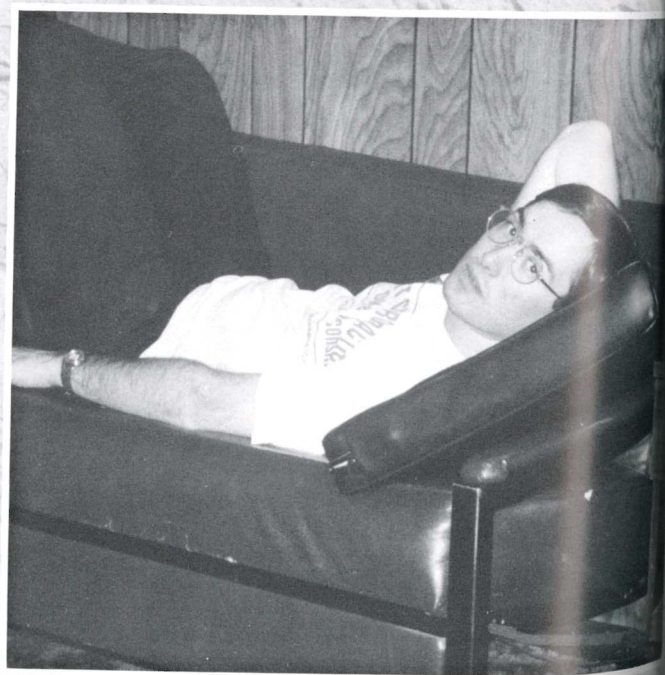

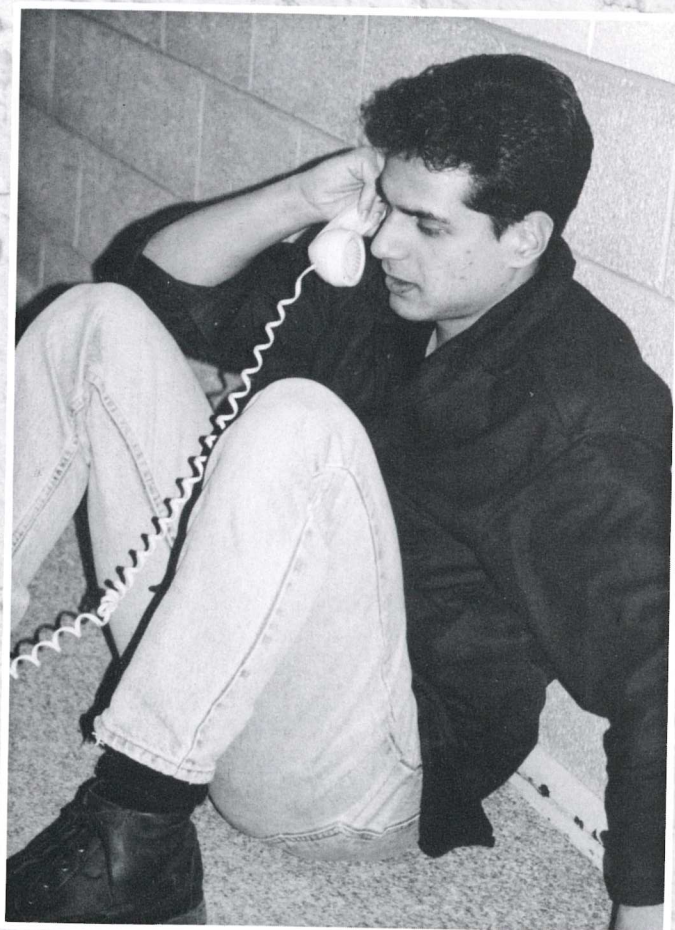

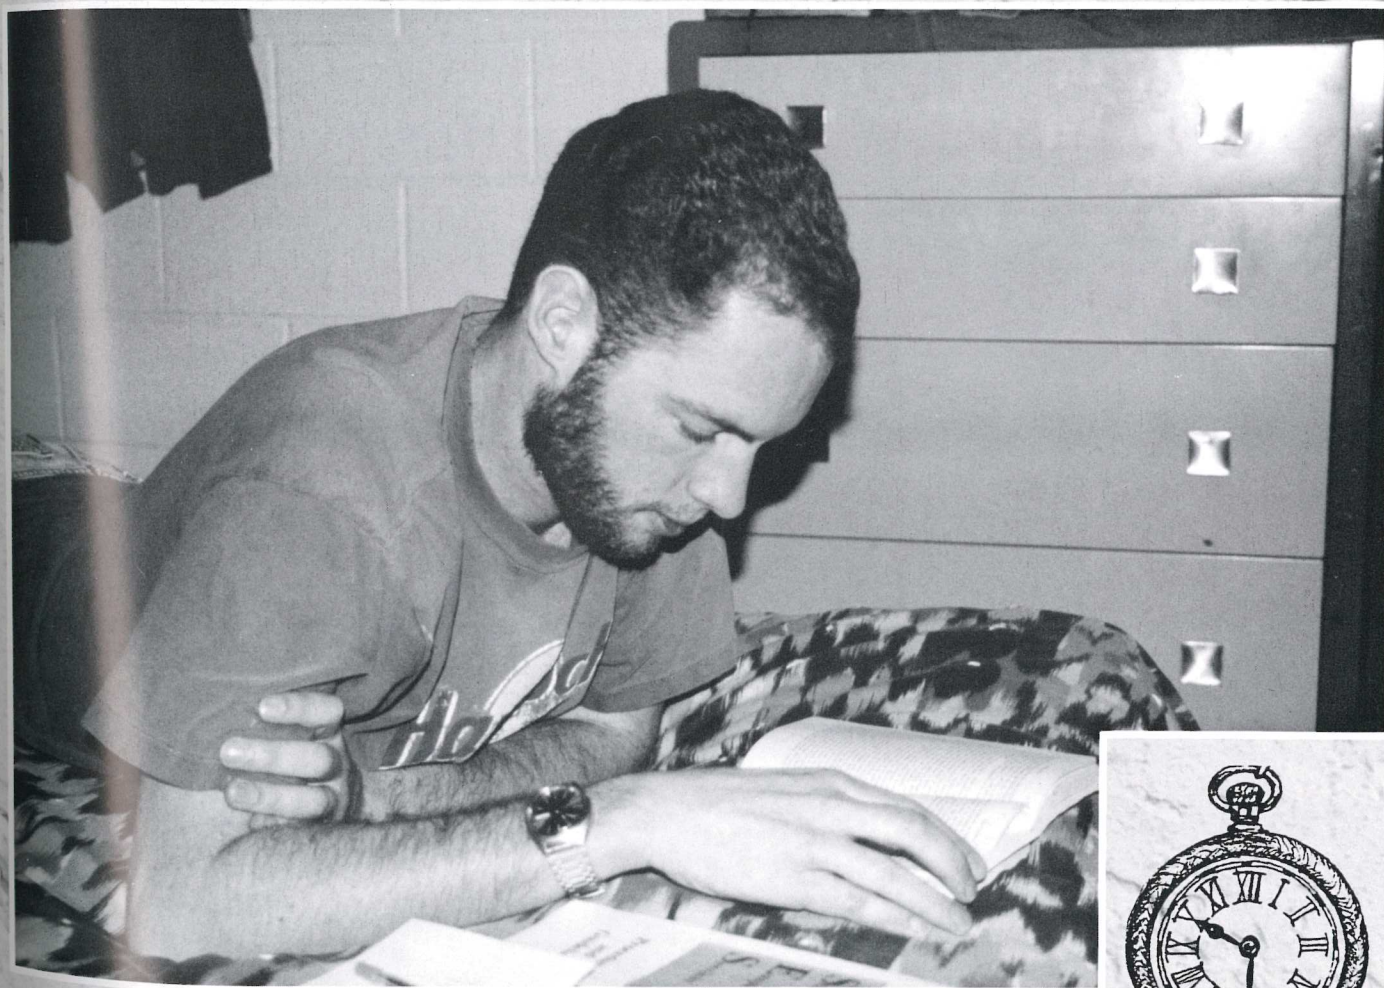

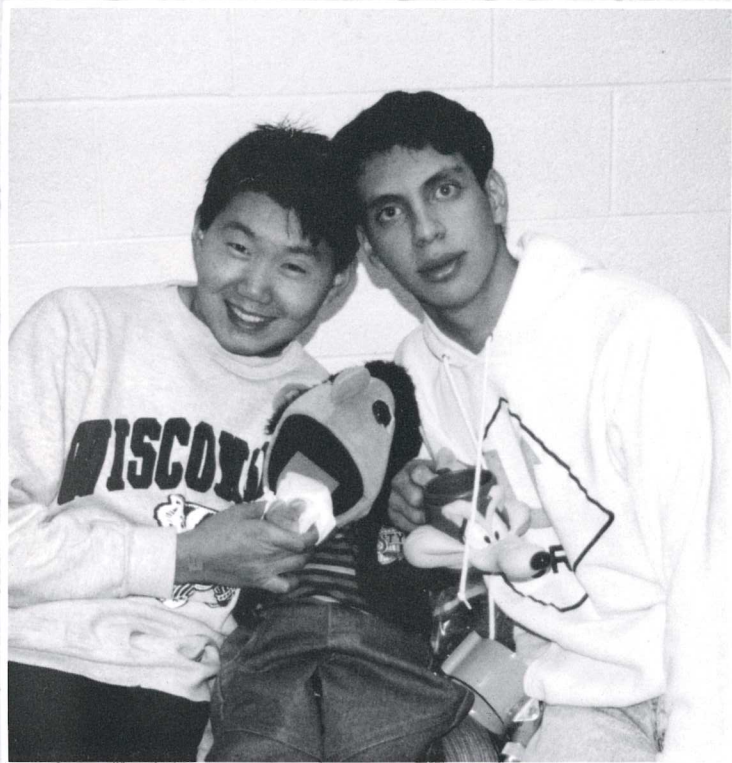

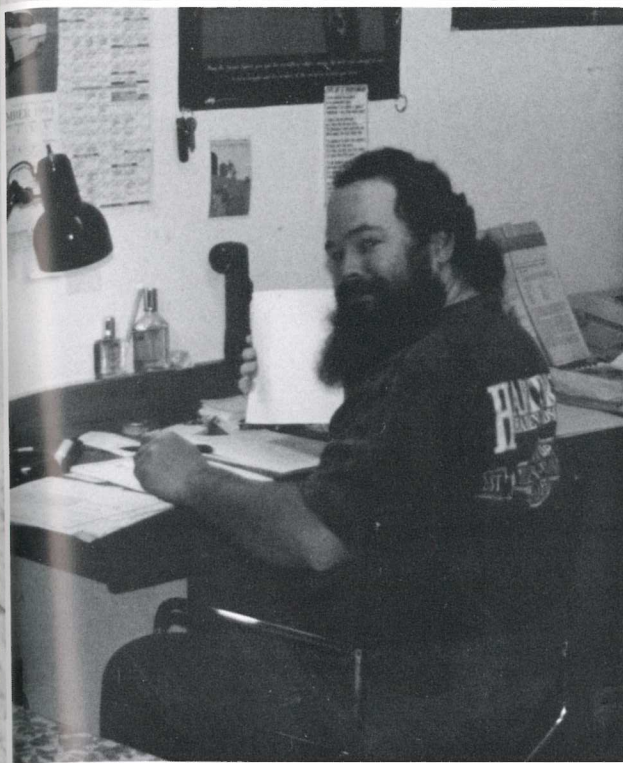

North And South Wings

For the residents of North and South Wings, the halls are identified with a unique feeling of home. Throughout the year, new and different sights inhabit the building ... such as crowded T.V. rooms, late nights talks, and occasional late-night bowling tournaments. For many visitors, there is something to look forward to: many found it hard to resist the dry-erase boards on almost every door, reading the latest deep thoughts, top ten lists, quotable quotes, or jokes of the day.

The students residing in the Wings will often reminisce of the wrestling matches, Sega games, the occasional lakes in the showers, boisterous hall singing (or is it wailing?), late dates with books, numerous marriage engagements, and the continual whirring of computers. Above all, we became close friends with a strong care for each other. As we prayed for one another, we witnessed God answering our prayers and restoring and healing those in need. Friendships have been created that will truly last a lifetime and beyond.

The Lions' football program was much more than met the casual onlooker's eye. Talents which shook the heads of the coaches was evident throughout the ranks. The critics based what appeared to be a strong argument on the win/loss column, which players and coaches overlooked, as nothing great is composed of simply greatness. It takes stumbles, disappointments and sheer pitfalls before the pinnacle is achieved in life.

"Fellas in ham and eggs, the chicken is a contributor while the pig is committed," said Coach Godding. A team consisting primarily of Freshman has trouble competing in the college arena. The coach was calling for his players to this experience. Most responded to his prodding and aspects such as spiritual accountability have built these young men up not only in the faith, but as a unit proud to be part of the lion pride.

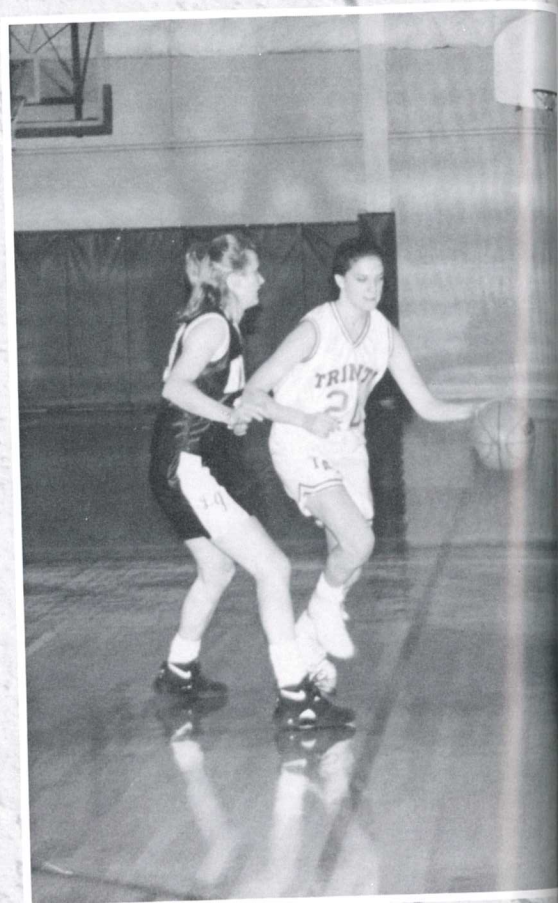

The players responded to the coach's prompting as they raised the call, "Be The Pig!" Each player came through the season with a sense that scoreboard success is just around the corner. Just one more trip to the weight room, one more lap around the gym, one more fellowship meeting attended to the mentality that football is life. For them, they know that true success will lie in giving the glory to their Savior for each time they get to step on the field, each snap of the ball, each crunch of the pads, each opportunity to display their character in their unique gridiron ministry.

Women's Basketball

Unity and fun were written all over this year's women's basketball team. They came into the season with a new coach, a pile of freshman, and many challenges: adjustments and hard work were in order. Bonding came through team devotions and strong friendships ... if any fame is to come of the team, it is largely due to the "Frog Song" sung on long road trips.

Leading the team was one senior, Tammy Green. By semester break, the team gained valuable walk-on's, elevating their level of play. In the words of sophomore Joyce Baergen, "The team gained confidence as we bonded ... we also learned from members of the men's team who stayed after their practice to help us." The women did TBC proud with a strong finish, winning their last four games.

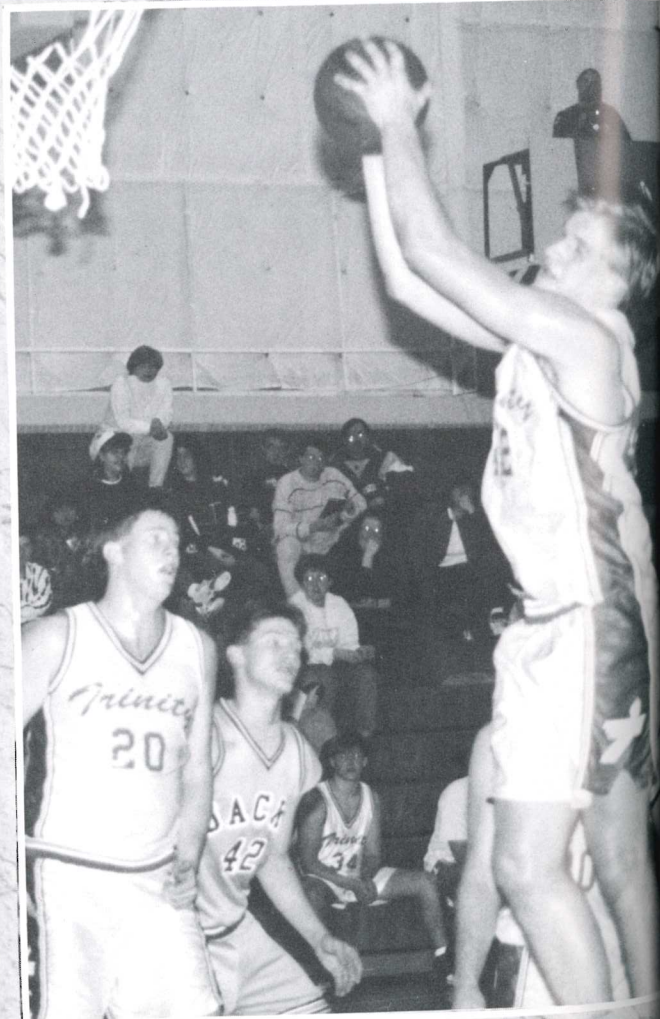

Coach Jerry Grimshaw, Manager Carla Felton, Coach Louie Reindeau.

Men's Basketball

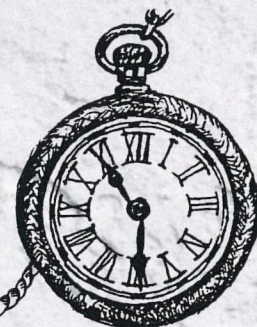

With nine wins and sixteen close losses, the Trinity Lion's mens basketball team were optimistic about their past season. "But not as good as next year's season," stated Coach Keith Wagler. Throughout the season, team members became close friends as they learned from each other both on and off the court.

1995 Senior Retreat

Devil's Lake, the placid scene was the place where senior would take the time to focus on their future, while sentimental reminiscences of college life elbowed its way into their conversations. It was one last chance to bond as they looked at their impending future square in the eyes. For single students, the opportunity to fellowship with married couples was a rare treat.

Bro. Munyon was the weekend speaker, urging the clan with the message to "be strong and courageous" and encouraging them to preach the Word. While the men met with President Young, Dr. Cogan, Bro. McRoberts, and Bro. Munyon for a down-to-earth chat about ministry, the women met with their wives.

Mike Wells viewed the retreat as "a time to pick the meat from the bones ... seeing what needs refining before I left college. As he reflected on his college experience, he said: "This retreat showed me what areas I had goofed off in and missed out on. My little piece of advice: Have fun, but don't forget what you're here for—our studies are for a specific reason."

Bethany Coalwell learned that "being a woman in ministry, you have to face different challenges than men ... you have to prove yourself, build confidence. Whether single or married, you need to establish your own identity. God has called us to do a work, and will equip us to meet the challenges we will face."

An Interview With President Howard L. Young March 28, 1995

Does your focus lie in any specific area such as improving student life, faculty, etc.?

I am interested in the advancement of Trinity in every area. First, I'd like to see us add an associate degree in communications. It would be a wonderful asset for pastoral candidates. The addition of a masters program in 3-5 years would be of great benefit. A pastoral institute would also be helpful, as by my nature I'm a pastor. A summer institute for pastors all over America to come to Trinity's campus, or to some other place sponsored by Trinity, is also a worthwhile goal.

What are your strengths regarding Trinity's leadership?

Informed decision-making. I try to talk to people, asking their opinions before making decisions. It takes strength to make the right decision. Sometimes decisions are not popular, but they still must be made.

How do you see Trinity maintaining the rare quality of ministry-oriented education minus the trend toward secularization?

My commitment is that Trinity will always prioritize the training of men and women for ministry in both the spiritual and secular sense. We have the Bible major which undergirds all degrees, and that's going to stay in focus. Add to that the positive things secular education can offer, combine them with our strong ministry orientation, and we graduate "world changers". That's the bottom line. Trinity produces and must continue to produce people who will change our world through the power of Jesus Christ.

Inauguration of Dr. Howard L. Young

On September 29, 1994, Dr. Howard L. Young was inaugurated as Trinity's President. Rev. Joel Pavia, Wisconsin/Northern Michigan District Superintendent, presented the inaugural address. Distinguished guests included the Board of Regents, Dr. Don Argue, President of North Central Bible College, and the mayors of Ellendale and other surrounding communities.

Dr. Young assumed duties as President of Trinity on May 1, 1994. He came to the college from Green Bay, WI where he served as senior pastor for Central Assembly of God for several years. A native of Mena, AR, President Young was raised in southern Missouri. He sensed a call of God to ministry and Christian education, and was ordained to ministry by the General Council of the Assemblies of God in 1972. He has served as senior pastor of churches in Colorado, Alaska, Oregon, and Wisconsin. He and his wife Barbara have two daughters, Melinda and Michele.

Kirsten Andersen came to Trinity from New Jersey, and has completed her first year as Director of Library Services.

What is your favorite thing about teaching? Sharing information and understanding ... discovering how other people learn.

What are your future career goals? I'd like to be an information broker.

Dr. Sharon Carbaugh, a.k.a. "Doc", has served Trinity for seven years as chairman of the Fine Arts Dept. Coming from Logansport, IN. She serves as worship leader and manages the traveling drama teams, as well as directs on-campus productions.

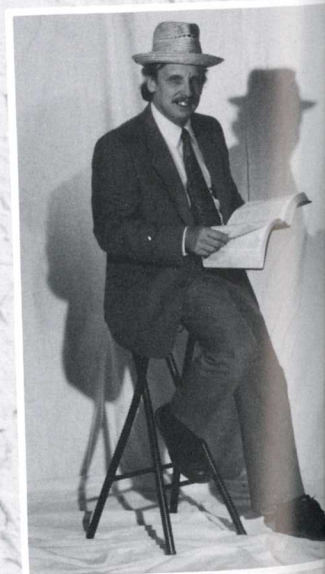

What is your most memorable class episode? The day a student got a concussion doing a drama exercise.

During your college years, who did you look up to?

My voice instructor. She was a Mormon and escaped from Hungary ... we differed in our beliefs but I respected her perseverance and humility.

What did you want to be when you grew up? A jazz saxophonist.

Neil Chadwick has completed his second year as instructor in the Bible department. From New Jersey, he and his wife Gunnel have four children: Ted (25), Christina (23), Melissa (22), and Elizabeth (11).

What is your most memorable class episode? When I couldn't find chalk and a student offered a piece from his briefcase with the comment, "At least one of us came prepared!"

How did you know your wife was "the one"? When I found she was willing to marry a pastor and still be herself rather than try to fit some other mold.

Judy Cochran has completed her ninth year of teaching in the Elementary Education department at Trinity. From Vero Beach, FL, Judy has four daughters: Jacque, Sheri, Carrie, and Kathie ... and is the proud grandmother of eight grandchildren.

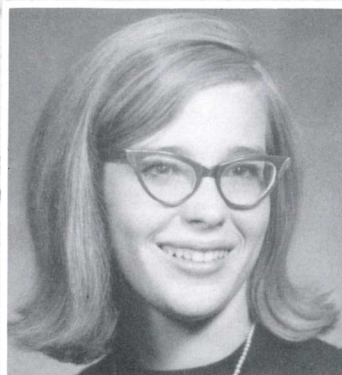

"God's continued faithfulness over the years has created within me an unspeakable reference and joy. What a privilege to go to chapel every day to tell Him 'thank you' for a lifetime of unconditional love and mercy."

What is your most memorable class episode? I noticed 11 yr. old Billy arguing with the whole class. When I approached him, he turned and looked at me with such indignation saying ... "Arn't you going to be my awful wedded wife when I grow up?"

Susan Cogan has been teaching in the Business Dept. for the past three years. She and her husband Wade came to Trinity from San Francisco, CA, and have one daughter, Summerlyn.

What are your future personal and career goals?

My family comes first, but I would also like to continue teaching. I enjoy being around young people and seeing them develop and grow.

During your college years, who did you look up to?

President Foth of Bethany Bible College. His dedication to prayer for the college in the early morning hours were inspiring.

How did you know your husband was "the one"? He told me so!

Dr. Wade Cogan has served Trinity as the Vice President for Academic Affairs. He and his wife Susan are from San Francisco, CA and have one daughter, Summerlyn.

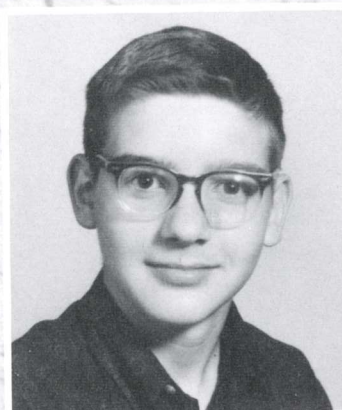

What did you want to be when you grew up? I've always wanted to be the C.E.O. of a corporation. I wanted to be the one to make the decisions.

During your college years, who did you look up to?

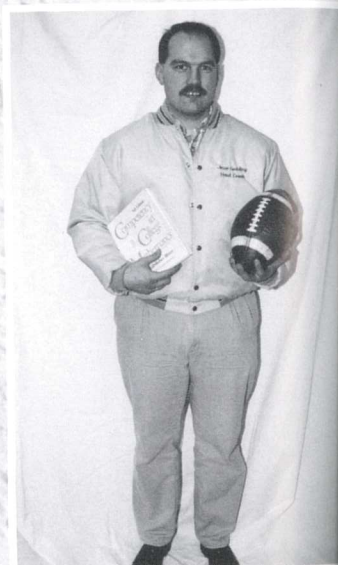

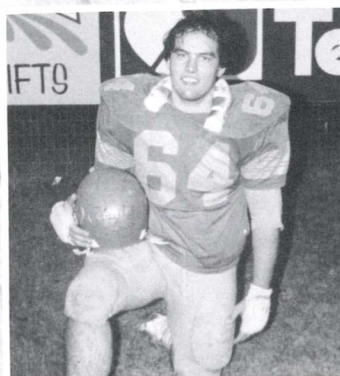

A faculty member named Robert Colombo, the chairman of the Bible Dept. at Bethany Bible College. He was what I call a "pastor's pastor".

Dennis Fledderjohann comes to Trinity from Highland, IN with his wife Elizabeth and four children: Joy, Liebe, Shara, and Matthew. He serves as the chairman of the Elementary Education department.

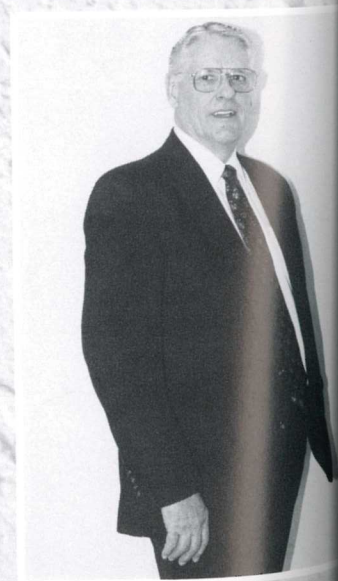

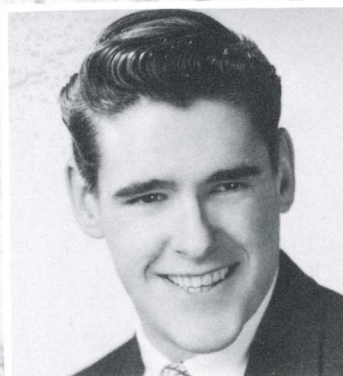

What did you want to be when you grew up? A medical doctor.
What are your future personal and career goals? Complete dissertation this summer!
During your college years, who did you look up to? Mr. Mike Porock ... my esteemed professor.

Jessie Godding serves as an instructor in General Education and as the head coach for football. Coming to Trinity from St. Paul Bible College in Minnesota, he and his wife Gina have two sons, Sean and Seth.

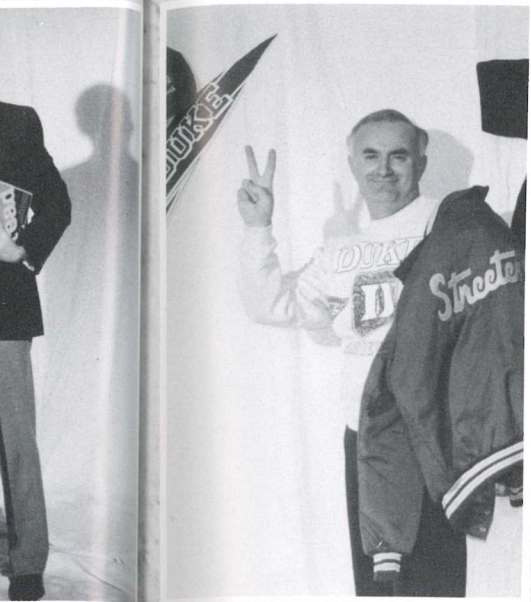

What is your favorite thing about teaching? Seeing the cycle of seeker to knower happen.
How did you know your spouse was "the one"? I, much like Nebuchadnezzar, saw the "handwriting on the wall".

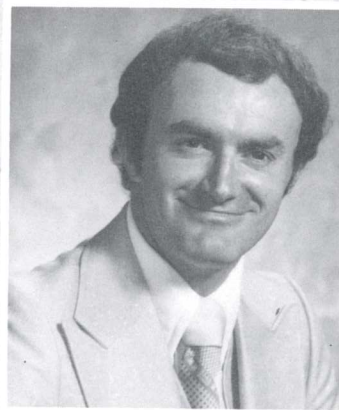

Rev. David Jones came to Trinity after pastoring in Minnesota. He serves as the chairman of the Bible department, and has been instructing for eleven years. He and his wife Mary have six children: Wendy, Becky, Heidi, Jennifer, Adam, and Mikey.

What is your most memorable class episode? Throwing an eraser at a sleeping student and him throwing it back in reaction.
How did you know your wife was "the one"? She told me!
What are your future career and personal goals? To do the will of God and finally go to heaven.

Leroy Kirschenmann serves as the chairman of the Business Department and has been teaching here for 21 years. He comes to Trinity from Herreid, South Dakota and his parents are Adam and Verna Kirschenmann.

What is your favorite thing about teaching?

Challenging young people to develop all their God given abilities and talents.

What are your future career and personal goals? To pursue another Master's degree in counseling and to travel abroad.

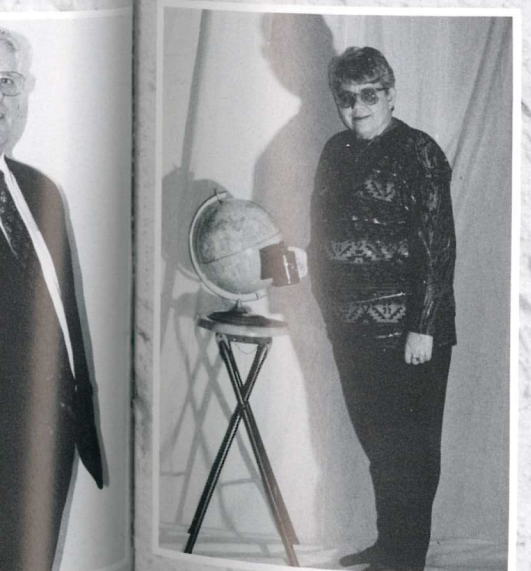

Dan Kuno comes to us from Gillette, WY with his wife Phyllis and two children: K.C. and Danielle. He has been at Trinity for eight years. He is the Director of Student Ministries, Internship Director and teaches Bible and Youth classes.

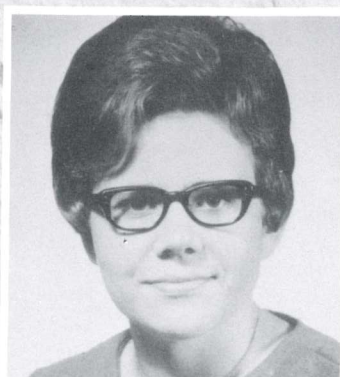

What is your favorite thing about teaching?

Relating to my students, subject, and style thus impacting the classroom to impact the world.

What did you want to be when you grew up? Fighter pilot and to be rich.

Dr. LaVonne Larson has been at Trinity for fourteen years and comes to us from Fargo, ND. She is the chairperson of General Education and also works with the Elementary Education and Missions departments.

What is your most memorable class episode? When my Honors Comp II class of 1991 presented me with a dozen roses upon the successful final defense of my doctoral dissertation.

What is your favorite thing about teaching? the interaction with the students on an individual basis and seeing students enjoyment in learning new ideas.

Professor Kerry McRoberts hails from Seattle, WA, and has served in the Bible/Theology department for five years. He and his wife Vicki have two married daughters.

What is your most memorable class episode?

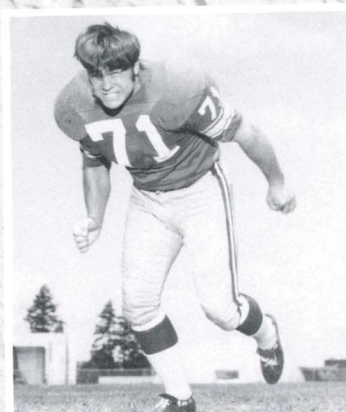

Doctrine of God and Man class ended in a powerful worship session as a result of the revelation of the majesty of God through the lecture and His Word.

What are your future personal and career goals?

Achieve my Master's in philosophy/theology, continue with writings and publications, and ... to be a grandpa!

What did you want to be when you grew up?

I wanted to be Mickey Mantle and be the toast of New York City.

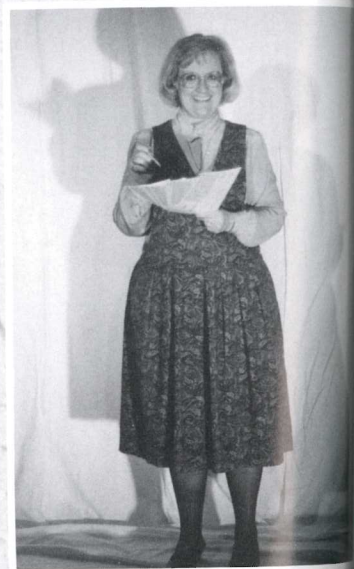

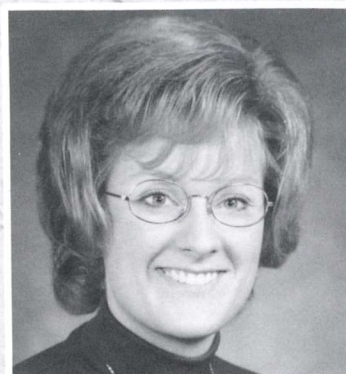

Dee Munyon has been teaching in the General Education department for the past five years. Coming from North Platte, NE, she and her husband Tim have a teenage son, Mark.

What is your favorite thing about teaching? I enjoy helping students see God our Creator in their world, and having a student tell me they finally understand!

What are your future personal and career goals? I would like to pursue more education ... either another Masters or a Ph.D.

How did you know your spouse was "the one"? I prayed a lot and let God take the time He needed to prepare us for each other.

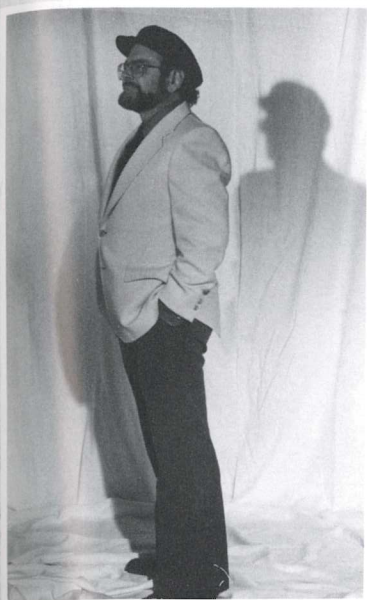

Professor Tim Munyon has served in the Bible department for the last five years, after pastoring in North Platte, NE. He and his wife Dee have a teenage son, Mark.

What is your most memorable class episode? Standing in an empty classroom for five minutes, wondering where everybody was ... then realizing I was in there at the wrong time.

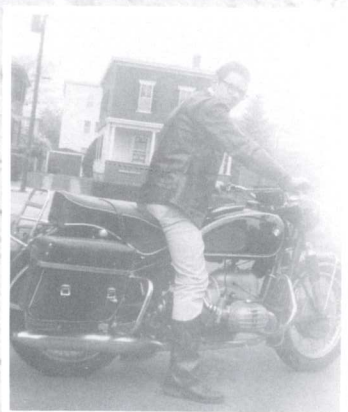

How did you know your spouse was "the one"? It was the whole package: looks, sense of humor, intelligence, musical giftedness, and commitment to Christ.

What are your future goals? Retire in a warmer climate.

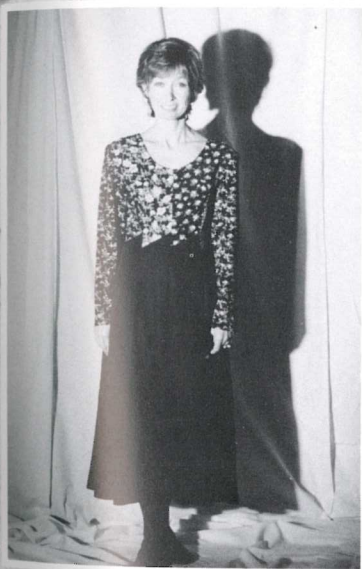

Dan Pelletier came to Trinity from Valley Forge Christian College in Valley Forge, PA, and serves as an instructor in General Education. He and his wife Kathleen have two cats, Calvin and Hobbes.

What is your favorite thing about teaching? June, July and August! Seriously, I enjoy the subject matter, English Literature, and also the students: they used to rejuvenate me ... now they keep my mind from fossilizing.

What did you want to be when you grew up? Progressively: Catholic priest, artist, journalist, scholar/vagabond, got saved, educator, writer/artist.

How did you know your wife was "the one"? Progressive revelation.

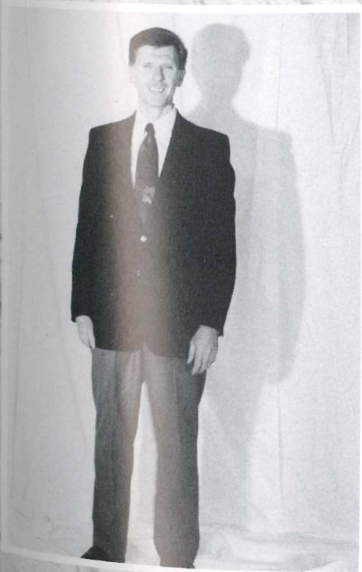

Carol Prettyman has been teaching at Trinity for two years in the Elementary Education department. She and her husband Ken came to Trinity from Porterville, California, and have two children: Peter and Anna.

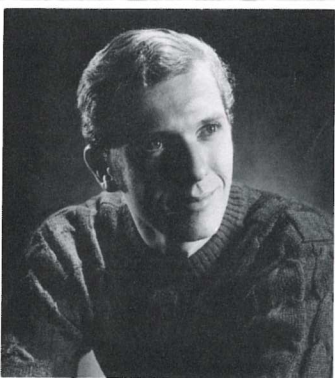

What is your favorite things about teaching? Teaching others to find the creativity within themselves.

What is your most memorable class episode? I can't say, but it has something to do with green tights ...

What are your future goals? To relax after my masters program is completed!

Ken Prettyman serves as the Director of vocal music in the Fine Arts department. He and his wife Carol came to Trinity from Porterville, CA and have two children: Peter and Anna.

What is your most memorable class episode?

Wearing one brown shoe and one black shoe to class. Everyone laughed at me, but I wasn't concerned because I had another pair at home just like them.

What are your future goals? To complete a doctorate of musical arts degree and to continue to compose music and have it published.

Dr. James Roane completes his second year as instructor and chairman of the Missions department. He and his wife Bonnie came to Trinity from Minneapolis, MN and have four children and eight grandchildren.

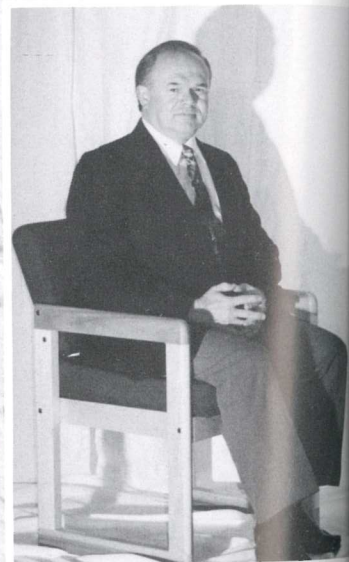

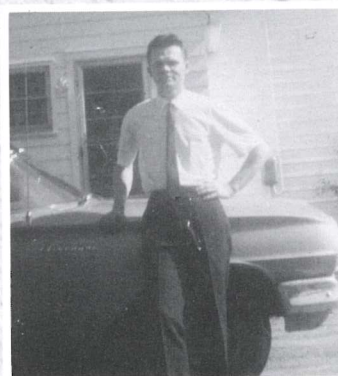

What is your favorite thing about teaching?

Definitely the students ... every day is a memorable experience!

What are your future goals? To write and continue to travel ... growing up, I always wanted to be a missionary.

How did you know your wife was "the one"? Jesus verified it ... plus she was extremely beautiful!

Theron Roush and his wife Aldonna come to Trinity after serving on the mission field in Columbia. He serves as our Missionary In Residence and is an instructor in the Missions department. He and his wife have three children: David, Tim, and Deborah.

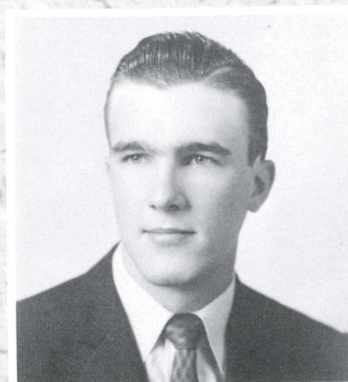

What did you want to be when you grew up? I didn't know what I wanted to be, but I knew what I didn't want to be ... a preacher!

What is your favorite thing about teaching?

Watching students develop as persons.

What are your future goals? To return to Columbia to minister.

Terry Terrell serves as the Executive Vice-President for the college, and also as the director of Public Relations. He and his wife Karen pastored in Minnetonka, MN and have four children: Derek, Doug, Wendy, and Becky.

What is your most memorable class episode? I asked students to write a paper on the four cardinal doctrines of the Assembly of God. One student submitted a paper on the four carnal doctrines!

In your college years, who did you look up to? One of my professors, Rev. William Snow.

What did you want to be when you grew up? I don't know ... I'm still growing up!

This is Denis Vineyard's second year serving as Trinity's Dean of Students. Denis and his wife, Marietta, moved from Springfield, MO and have two children: Benjamin (6) and Lindsay (3).

What are your future personal and career goals?

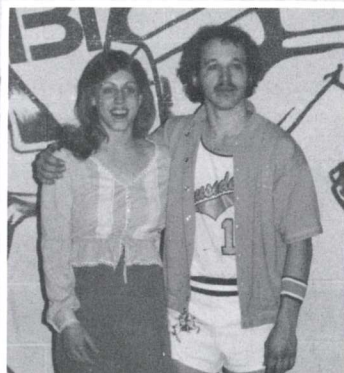

Develop a counseling center, write a book on how to allow God to heal, cultivate a good marriage and teach Christian values by my actions for my children

What is your favorite thing about teaching?

Teaching freshman seminar, I can watch them as they mature in academics, relationships, and spirituality.

Big/Brother Big/Sister

We've all heard of the children in the big cities who have nowhere to turn, their futures being dimmed by the present. Do we realize that this exists here in North Dakota as well? In the midst of dysfunctional homes and peer pressure, two ministries reach out to these children. The Big Brother/Big Sister program provides a friend for a child who is lonely or from a broken home. By using Super Saturdays, the childrens ministry teams specializes in bringing the community children together. The goal is to create unity in the churches and provide opportunities for kids to learn about the love of Christ.

Children's Ministry

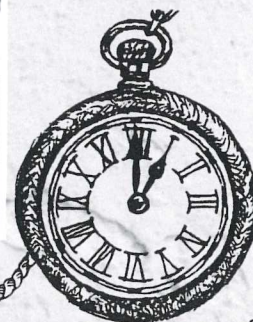

Inner City Ministries

Living in North Dakota, many of us don't realize the impact we can have on those who live in the inner cities of America. Hearts Aflame, the traveling inner city ministry team, makes it a point to minister to those who have only experienced life on the streets. Gaining perspective on urban life, team members are able to share the peace and joy of knowing Christ to those living in a chaotic world.

Native American Ministries

They are all around us, but do we speak to them? They need to see the love of Jesus ... do we show it? Ingrid Gardner, team leader of Native American ministry, says, "The Lord wants to see people saved and I feel the reservations are overlooked". The team ministered in Besbei, MT fall semester and Saskatchewan and Rapid City spring semester. Of the Rapid City trip, Ingrid states: "Because I'm called to youth, the thing that touched me the most is that there were youth who gave their hearts completely to God ... they are the hardest group to reach."

Music And Drama Teams

Trinity's music team, Servant's Heart, has been and will continue to be a great asset to the college. With director Ken Prettyman in his third year of leadership, they have made a point to practice what their name reads: to have a servant's heart and minister the Gospel through music. Team members include Grant Parkki, Jessica Keevy, Suzi VanRoekel, Tammy Huber, John Schneider, and Sheila Schneider. Trinity's drama teams, Power Source and Pure Heart Players, have impacted the church in a powerful and dynamic way. Dr. Sharon Carbaugh has been coordinating the drama teams for the past eight years, as the teams have learned the skills needed to present the Gospel of Christ to hundreds of people. Team members include: Power Source-Tony Butts, Patrick Lannoye, Brian Westfall, Valerie DiLuggo, Cheska Kester. Pure Heart Players-Joey Martinez, Kirby Voegle, Julie Waterous, Kathryn Boyak, Mike McIntosh.

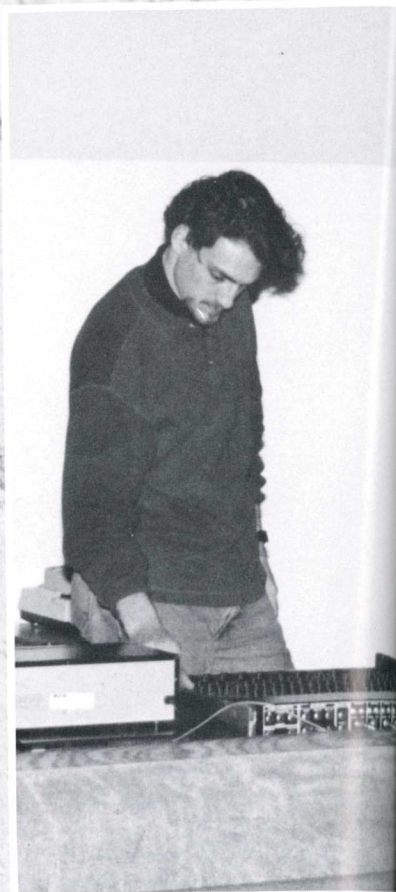

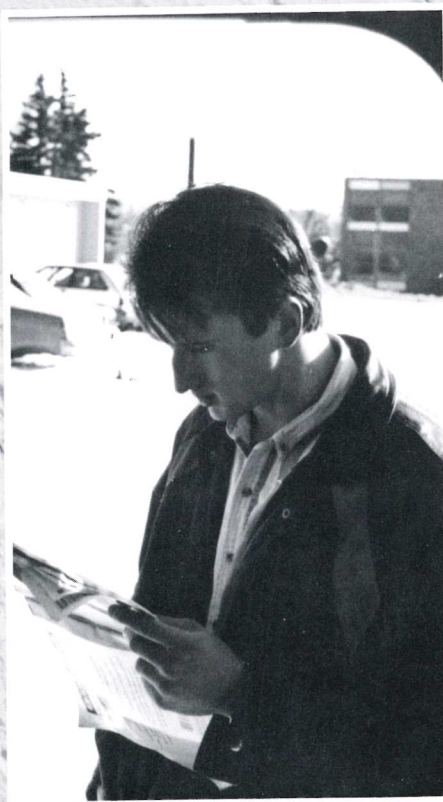

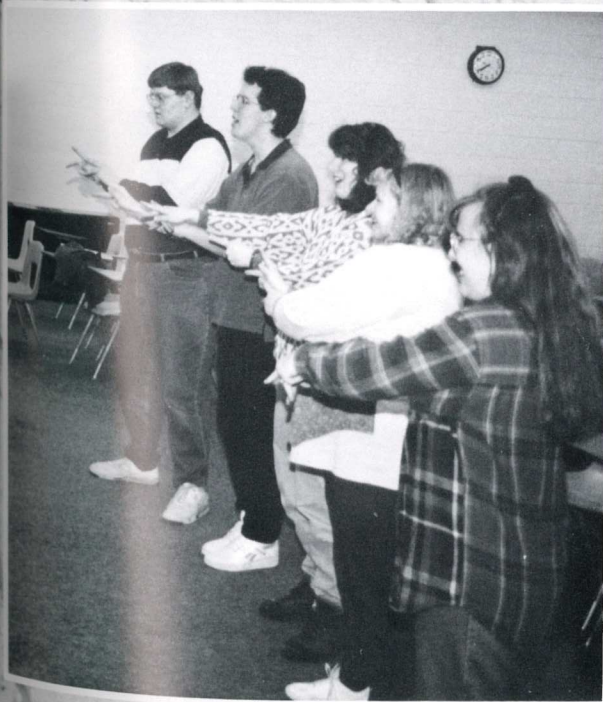

Youth Ministries

The youth ministries team, headed up by Matt Shaw, participated in three trips this year: Iowa, Garrison, ND and Williston, ND. During these weekend lock-ins, Trinity students would have a time of worship, skits, games, devotions, and one-on-one time with the kids.

-M. Oftedahl

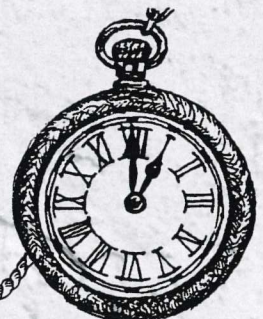

Deaf Ministry

Signs Of His Love, TBC's deaf ministry group, spends hours practicing to minister to the hearing impaired. A requirement for the team members is to practice their interpretation skills in chapel services. The team, under the direction of Susan Cogan, has done an excellent job at reaching out to the deaf and presenting the needs and opportunities to all students to learn about others who are hearing impaired.

TBC Choir

These past few years, Trinity's student choir has had the vision of reaching out to the Ellendale community to share the gift of music. While sharing their talents, they have also been an integral part of the chapel services, baccalaureate, President Young's commissioning service, and other special events. While the choir is under the direction of Ken Prettyman, Dr. Carbaugh heads up the Praise Band, which plays an important part in worship services in chapel.

KTBC Radio 99.1

Trinity's own radio station, dubbed KTBC, is stretching, growing, and beginning to rear itself up and charge forward into new horizons. It serves the campus and Ellendale with Christian music, the latest weather, and news regarding the campus and community. Coverage of sports both on the collegiate and high school levels have been broadcast, thanks to the work of senior Cory Leibmann. A growing sense of professionalism and vision is making the station a valuable ministry, providing service to all members of this community.

Concessions

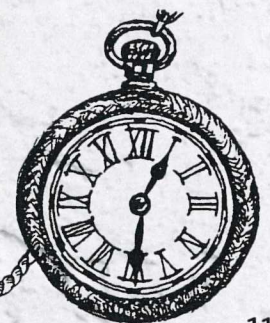

Christian Students For Social Action

Christian Students for Social Action was formed to keep students up-to-date with current issues and agendas our communities and nation face everyday. A main focus with CSSA is the issue of abortion ... this year the team made several trips to Fargo for a time of prayer and silent petition outside a local clinic.

Spring Drama Production

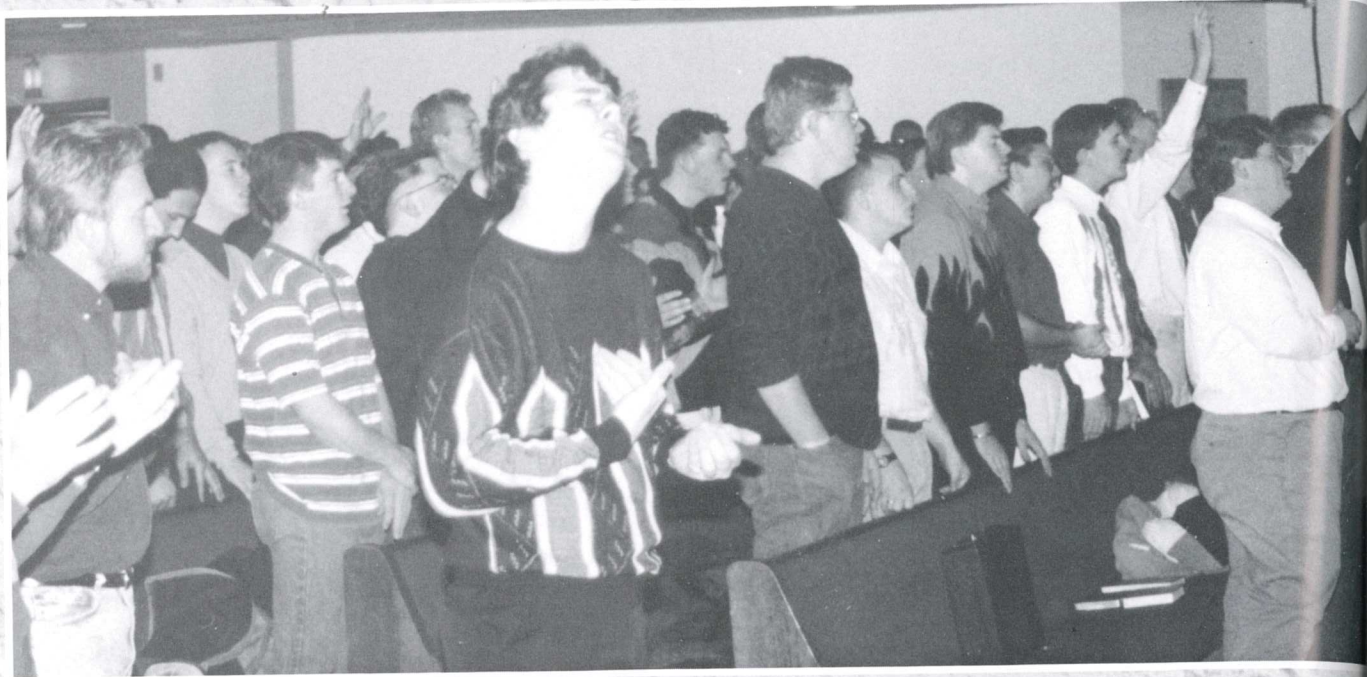

The 1995 spring drama production was "Catacombs", the story of a small group of Christians who did not make a commitment to Christ until after the rapture. Hiding out in an abandoned church, they refused to deny their faith in Christ even as they faced death. Captivated by the excellent character portrayals and monologues, the audience left faced with the question: "Would I die for the cause of Christ if asked?"

B. Coalwell

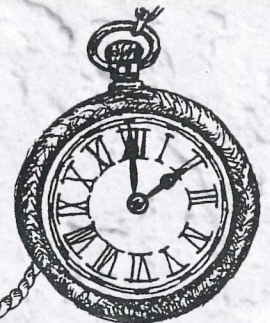

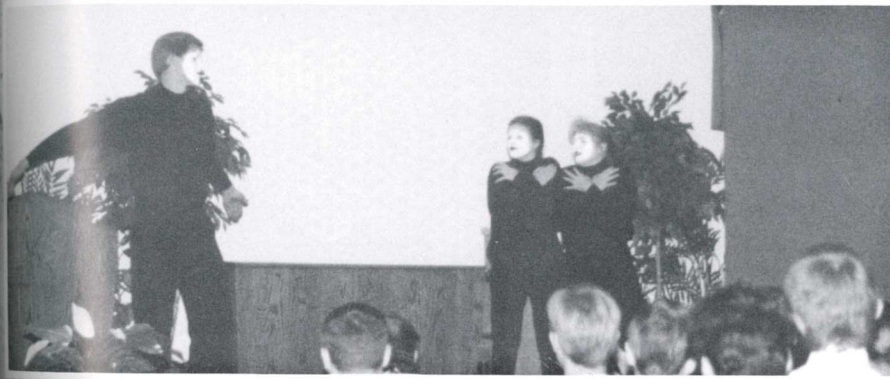

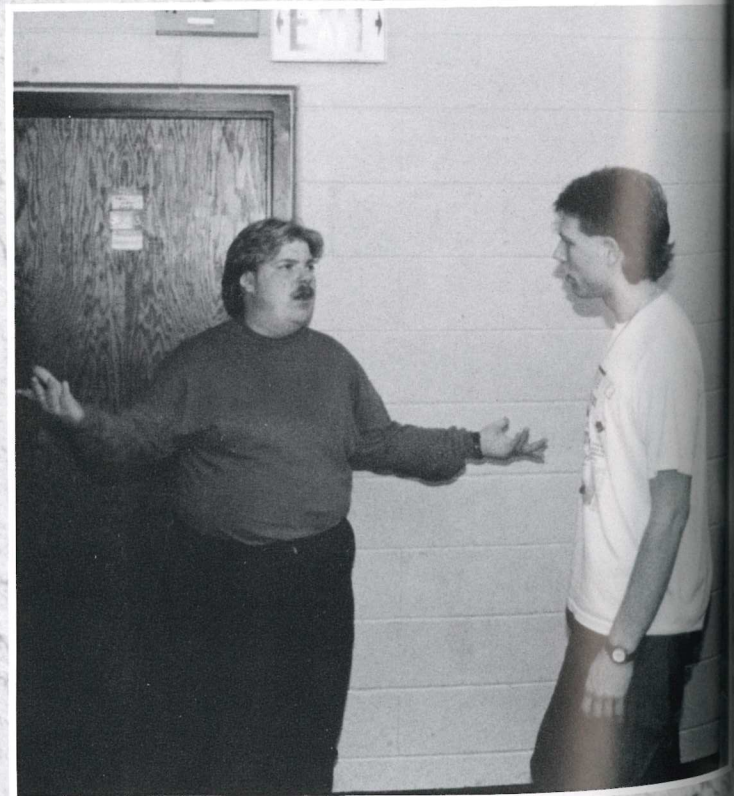

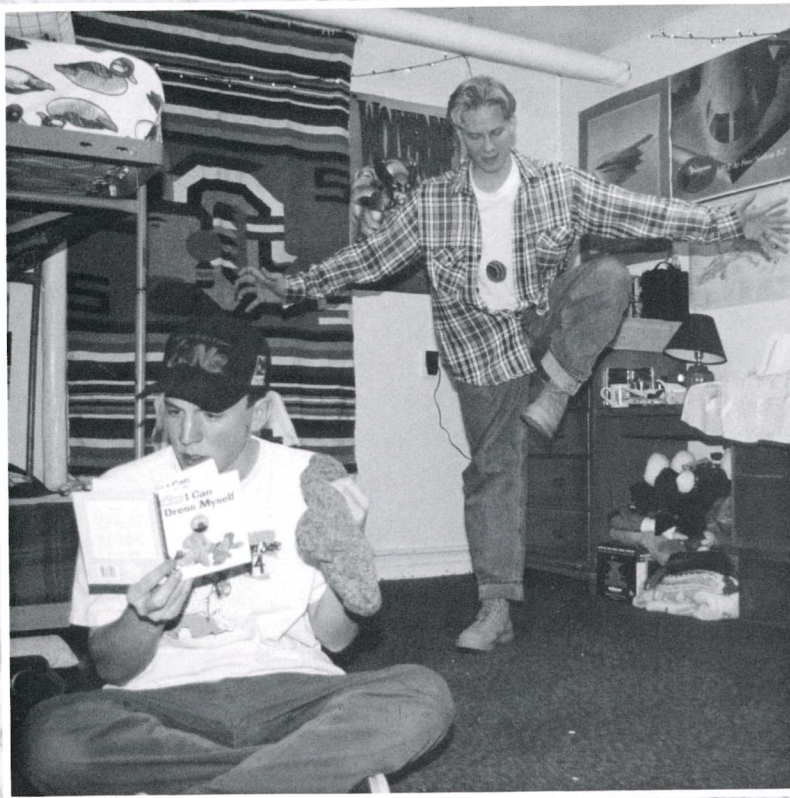

Chavez

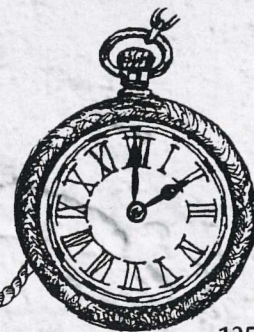

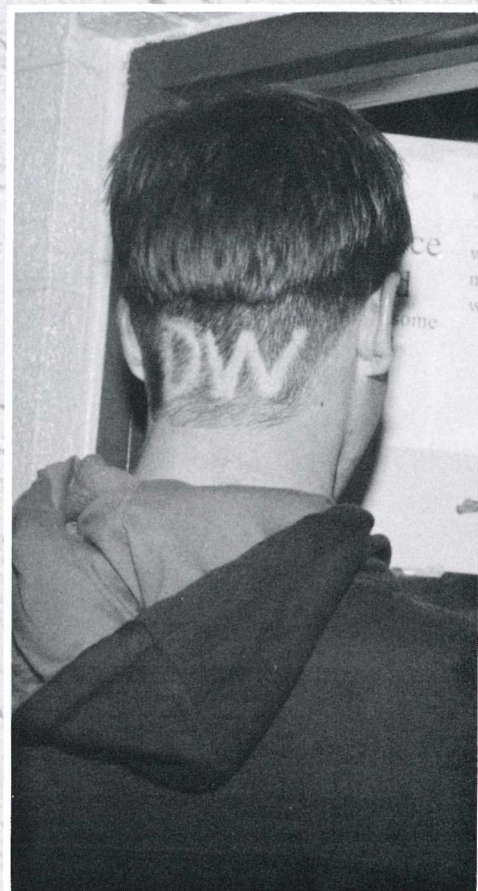

The search for God ... throw out all outside circumstances: the books, the professors, the grades ... and what's left? A venture to the chapel-to love God, to see God on the faces of fellow students and faculty, to hear from God. This is the essence of Trinity. At times a student struggles as the monotony of walking to chapel every day of the week sets in. Yet, as soon as the worship team engages the vehicle of praise toward heaven, the Lord's kingdom is established as His people declare His mighty works. "But you are a chosen people ... a holy nation, a people belonging to God that you might declare the praises of Him who called you out of darkness into His wonderful light."

Mission Convention

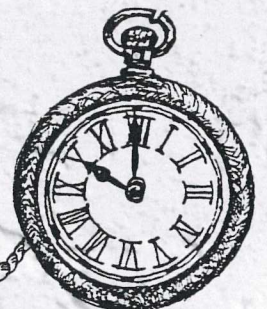

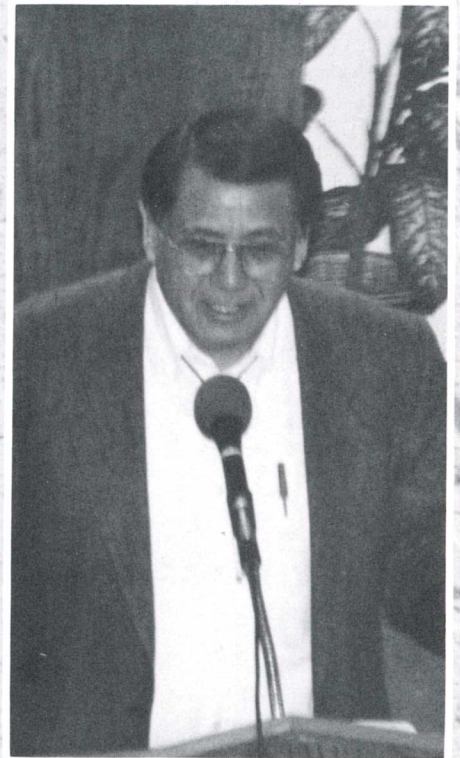

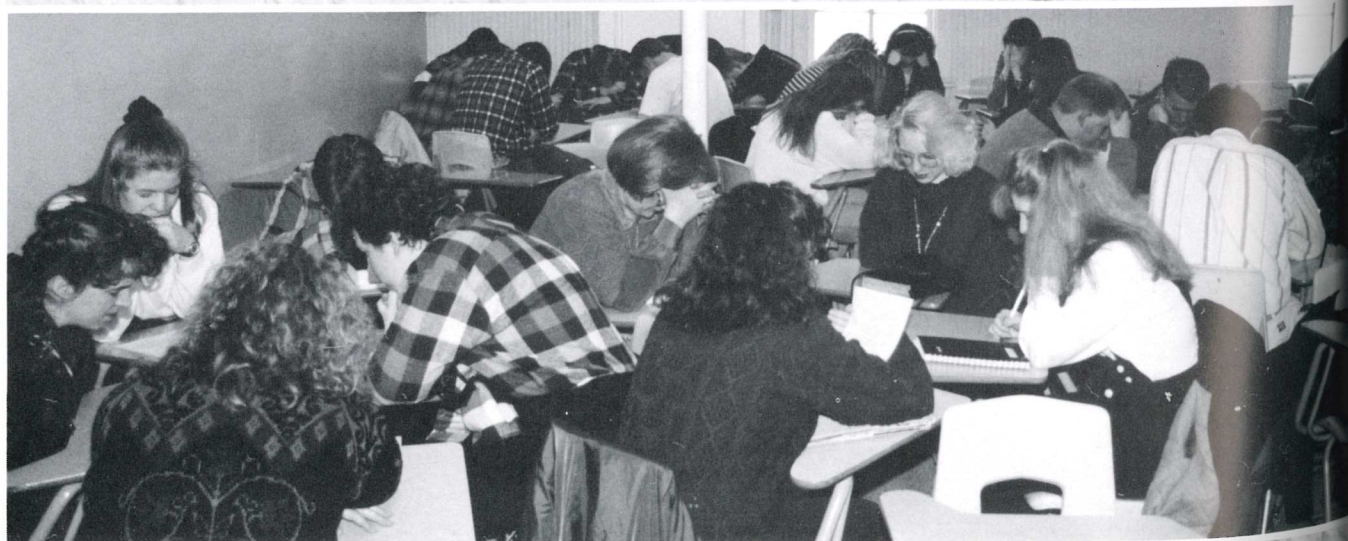

Missions convention was comprised of an array of speakers and events. The goal of this convention was to increase awareness among students regarding home and foreign missionaries, and to unite the student body in a time of prayer and activities. This was achieved in part by involving students in a contest of creativity involving banners, booths, and badges for various parts of the world.

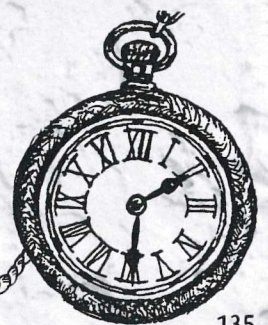

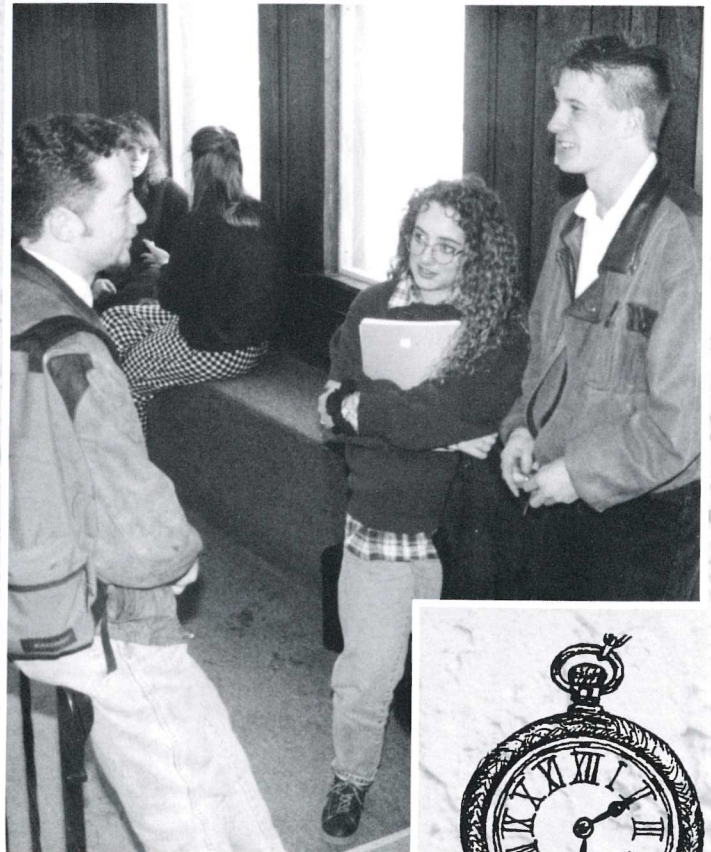

Stepping inside the chapel, there was a sense of accomplishment felt when the students work was observed. This was especially true of the North American Outreach prayer band, who won the contest.

The schedule of events showcased Rev. John Bueno, field director of Latin America, who spoke Sunday and Monday. The missions parade ensued on Tuesday, with students representing various countries by displaying ethnic costumes and customs. George Kallapa, representing Central Indian Bible College, spoke in chapel Wednesday morning followed by Neil Chadwick that evening. The convention came to a close on Thursday with an address from President Young.

College Days & SNA

Once again, College Days proved to be a great time for both Trinity students and prospective students. While the school opened its doors to high school students and their parents and pastors, special events included a evening of drama, dynamic services with special speaker Keith Elder (Montana), a concert from alumni Greg Long, and, of course, SNA.

Junior/Senior Banquet

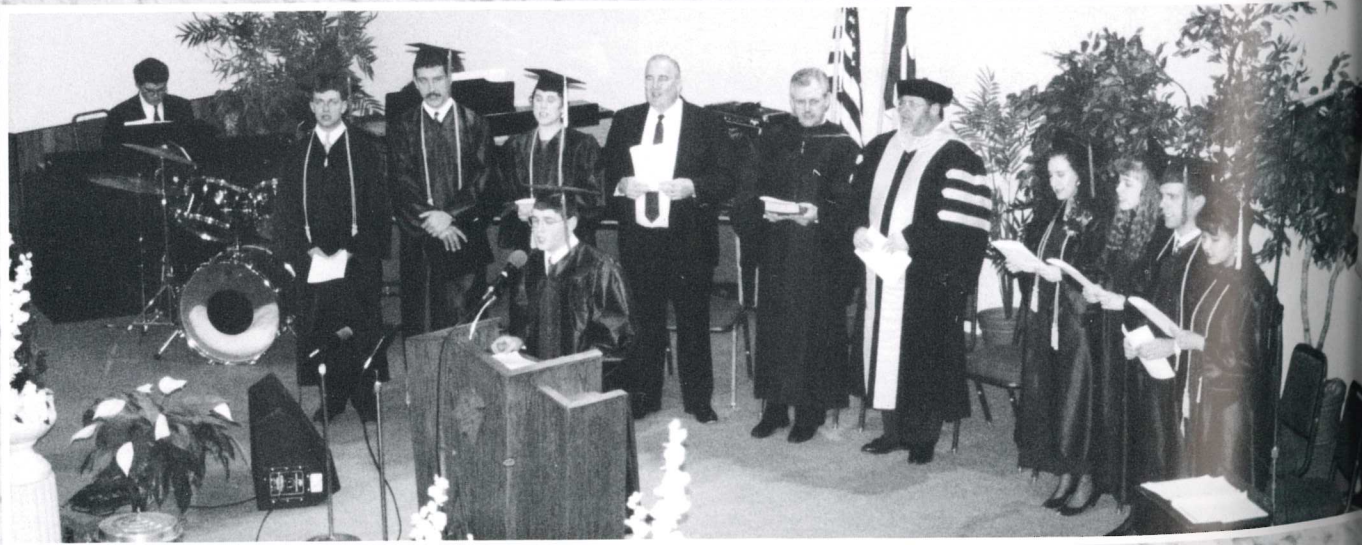

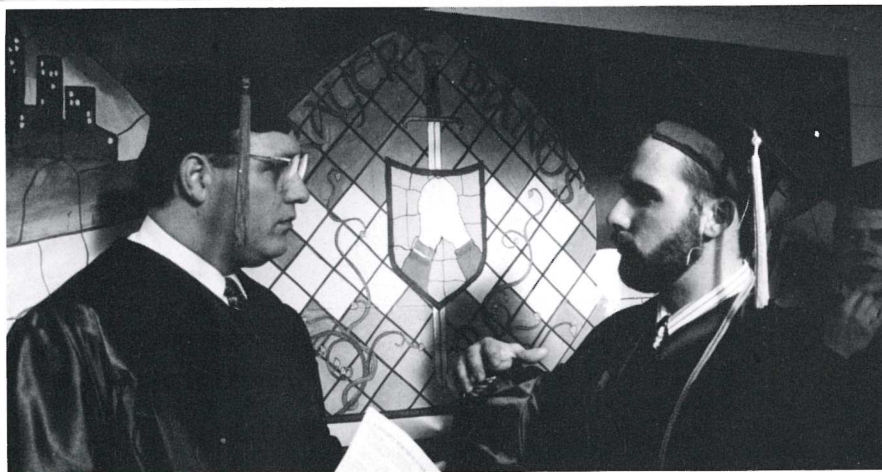

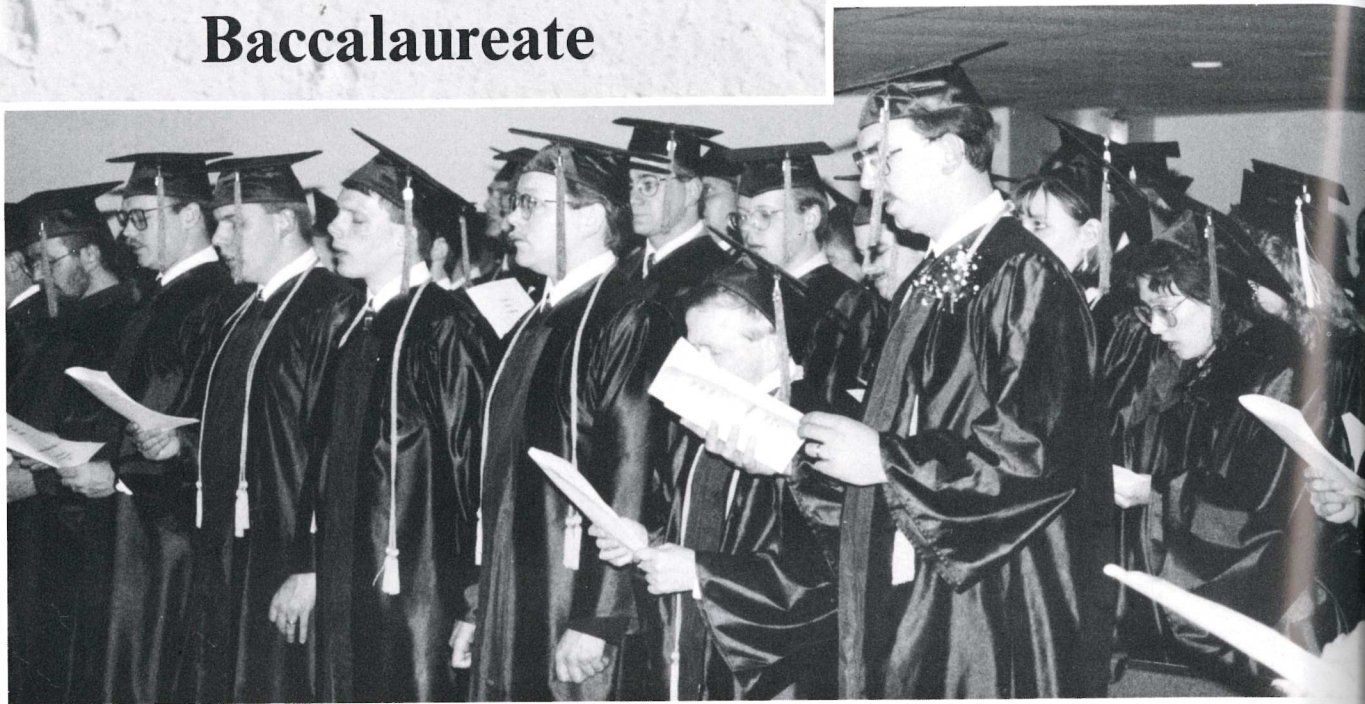

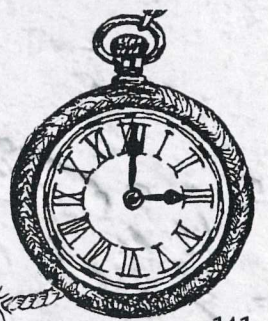

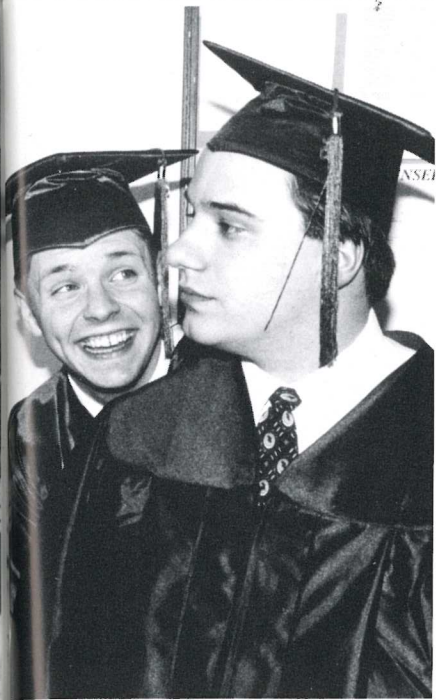

"Press Toward The Goal" was the theme at this year's Jr/Sr banquet. Decorated in senior colors of black and forest green, the atmosphere was perfect for a memorable evening. Jim Hernando, former Trinity faculty member, was the chosen speaker, providing practical insight and humor. A highlight of the evening was a slideshow of the seniors, while a brass quartet from Northern State University entertained the audience.

Graduation 1995

Plilostratus, a 2nd/3rd century author, composed a work entitled Lives of the Sophists. Note that during this time period, a sophist was a philosopher who had committed to memory a great number of philosophical readings. In a biographical vignette of one such sophist, Polemo, Philostratus recounted the following story:

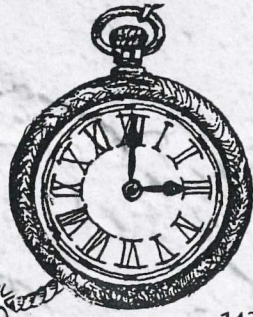

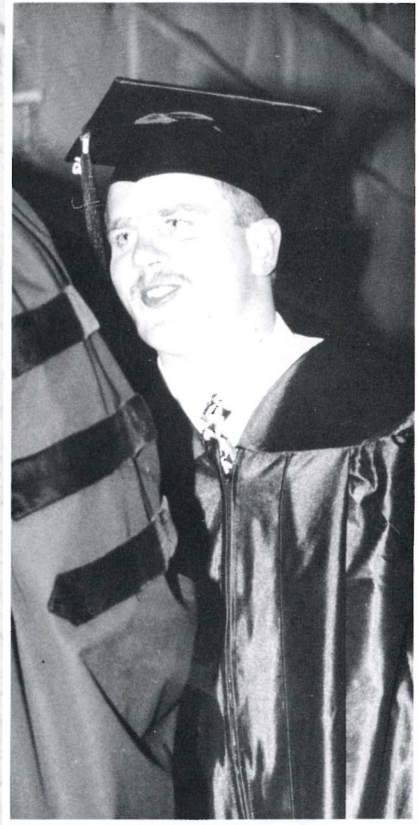

On one occasion, a proconsul was deciding how to torture a bandit who had been convicted on several charges. The proconsul remarked that he could not think of any penalty for the bandit what would be suitable to match the numerous crimes. Polemo, who was present, said, "Order him to learn by heart some antiquated stuff."

Your senior class advisor commends the graduating class of 1995 for enduring four years of torture: learning by heart some antiquated stuff!

In all actuality, I trust that you graduating seniors have developed a love and lifestyle for study that will endure throughout your lives. You do not have to depend exclusively upon yourselves to accomplish the ministry to which God has called you. You have: (1) the counsel of the written Word of God; (2) the counsel of the Holy Spirit in your devotional life; and (3) the counsel of the entire body of Christ, both on a personal level and in its numerous publications. Hearken unto these counselors and you will be well equipped to complete any task God may set before you. Thank you for allowing me to serve you during the 1994-1995 year. It has been my profound privilege to have the opportunity to minister to tomorrow's leaders.

With great affection,
Tim Munyon, Class Advisor

Battle of the sexes, battle of the Big Horn, "you sunk my battleship", American Gladiators ... all notable stories of confrontation. But to those involved with the production of this yearbook, none of these finds its way into comparison when the forces of the staff go head-to-head on the issues ... what should the theme be? How many picas for the titles? Where should artwork go? The job to be done is one of many decisions to be made, and this fun loving crew is stubborn and relentless in weighing the matters. Nonetheless, fun is had and friendships are deepened as long hours are spent in Duplex 20. Once treaties are drawn and a route is taken, the pages come to life as a small piece of college history is documented.

This year's staff has toiled and tormented over their tasks trying to do justice to their fellow students. The staff includes:

Dear Patty,

I just want to thank you for being the best wife and friend a man could ever ask for. From the first time I saw you on the steps of Davidson, and especially after our friendship began to develop on Servant's Heart, I knew you would be mine! During our freshman year you were a wonderful friend; our sophomore year you were a wonderful girlfriend (and somewhat secret "finance"!); and during our last two years you have been a wonderful, fantastic, and godly wife. Thank you for all you are, all you give to me, and all the joy your life brings me as we serve Christ side by side.

Your fortunate-to-have-you husband,
Paul

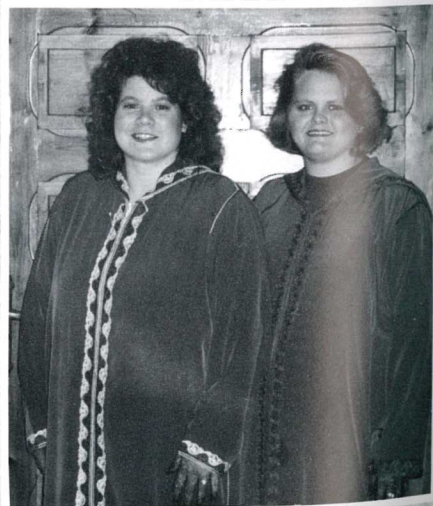

Jen,

How could I finish yearbook today and not put in this picture? Every time I see it, it reminds me of how much your friendship means to me. Rapid City ... B.P. movie marathons ... swiss cake rolls ... Mall of America ... YEAR-BOOK!!! I'll especially never forget Thanksgiving, when you dropped everything to be with me when I needed a shoulder to cry on. You are a truly wonderful friend and a godly woman; you don't know how much I'll miss you when your gone. I pray you love Jesus more every day, and remain close by His side ... as you venture into medical school and beyond. Thanks again for everything ...

Love ya,
Kelley
